MEXICAN GOVERNMENT THANKS THE MEDIATORS

For Their Prudence, Impartiality and Good Will—Papers of Vera Cruz Commend American Administration for Restoration of Order at Captured City

VERA CRUZ, May 8.—The local newspapers publish prominent commendations of the American administration in their territory for the restoration of order and the stimulation of business. There is great commercial activity everywhere and this year a subject of much gratification to the natives.

The work of reorganization is going steadily forward so far as sanitary inspection, street cleaning, collection of taxes and the restoration of the postal system is concerned. With the arrival of more staff officers from Texas City General Funston will be equipped to do more municipal work.

The quiet condition in Mexico City is restoring confidence and many Americans having interests in the capital are making short trips there to clean up their affairs. So far there is no interruption to train service.

The military service is unchanged and troops are making themselves comfortable in the quarters they expect to occupy for some time.

Thanks Mediators

Estelita Ruiz, acting minister of foreign relations, has complained to the South American mediators that American troops were landing in Vera Cruz and that other military preparations were in progress there, thus breaking the armistice.

In reply the South American mediators have wired it is announced, that they will make representations regarding the matter to President Wilson.

The foreign office has issued a statement thanking the mediators. It says: "The Mexican government in view of the mediators' attitude in the case of the Carranza refusal to suspend hostilities and the new landing of American troops and war material in Vera Cruz is much obliged for the prudence, impartiality and good will of the mediators."

FUNSTON AND TROOPS MAY MARCH AGAINST CAPITAL

Midnight War Council on Message From Gen. Funston at Vera Cruz—Outbreak in Mexico City Feared—The U. S. Will Not Protect American Property in Mexico—President and Cabinet Discuss Funston's Report

WASHINGTON, May 8.—A long cipher telegram from Gen. Funston at Vera Cruz that stirred the general staff of the army into a conference that did not break up until nearly midnight was to be placed before the president and his cabinet today by Secretary Garrison. While details of the despatch were not given out it was understood to contain reports taken to Gen. Funston by refugees from Mexico City. Secretary Garrison said today no aggressive movement of any kind by the American forces was ordered, yet it was known that high officials of the war department were anxious to station at Vera Cruz or on ships within striking distance of that port a force powerful enough to make a swift descent on Mexico City if that became necessary. Probably four or five men would be required.

Anarchistic Outbreak Feared

Army officers fear the situation at Vera Cruz might become desperate in the event of an anarchistic outbreak in Mexico City or should the federal forces hovering beyond Funston's outposts launch an attack irrespective of Huerta's declaration of a truce with the United States.

Blue-jackets could be landed to reinforce the 1000 troops and marines under Gen. Funston if there should be a forced attack. They could easily hold the city center it is believed, but to protect positions outside the town up to the site of the waterworks more infantry is believed to be required. Whether additional forces would be sent down the coast could not be known today. The president and Secretary Bryan are believed to oppose any military activity at this time that might embarrass the South American envoys.

Killing of American

Officials of the state department sought additional information about the killing of one American and two Englishmen by Mexicans in Chihuahua. Confirmation of the report was lacking. The fate of Consul Stillman, reported to have been arrested near San Luis Potosi, still caused uneasiness. The exodus of foreigners from Mexico City continued. Six hundred American refugees were on their way to Puerto Mexico under the protection of the Brazilian flag.

Nelson Coughlin's report submitted to Secretary Bryan it was believed would outline the strength of the Huerta regime and tell of the incidents that culminated in receiving his passports from the provisional president.

Prevent Loss of Life

Essentials of the American policy in Mexico up to the present time were reiterated today in a statement by Secretary Daniels replying to complaints against the withdrawal of United States warships from the river at Tampico and to criticism of the department's refusal to take some refugees back to Tampico after they had been removed from the danger zone. The statement declared that the department had considered as its present duty the prevention of loss of life and the rescue of foreigners and Americans in peril. The protection of property beyond range of the navy's guns was next to impossible, the statement declared but so far as had been possible the navy was endeavored to control the enthusiasm of an excited populace by the sight of the visible power for reprisal that is displayed by the guns of our warships lying as they are today in practically every port on the east and west coasts.

Declaring that practically every foreigner and American in the Tampico district now is safe, as well as foreign property interests, Secretary Daniels states that it seems almost unnecessary to defend a course which has achieved such results.

ARREST N. Y. ATTORNEY KNOWN ALL OVER WORLD

JAMES SHEWAN, FAMOUS SHIPPER, DIED AT NEW YORK YESTERDAY

NEW YORK, May 8.—James Shewan, known to shipping men all over the world, died yesterday at his home here. He was 66 years old. One of his business last acts as an active business man was purchasing from the government the big Spanish dry dock captured in Cuba and which was lying at the Pensacola navy yard. This dock was towed to South Brooklyn.

F. H. Griffin and Wife Arrested at Groton on Charge of Using the Mails to Defraud

BOSTON, May 8.—Francis H. Griffin, an attorney of New York and his wife, Clara Griffin, were arrested at Groton today charged with using the mails in a conspiracy to defraud. The government officials claim that by fraudulent representations Griffin and his wife have obtained between $200,000 and $500,000 from various persons.

The arrests were made on complaint of Postoffice Inspectors Swain and Mayhew of New York, who have been working on the case several months.

According to the federal officials, the alleged conspiracy has extended over the past seven years. It is charged that Mrs. Griffin has represented to many persons that she had contracts for stenographic work in connection with trust investigations by federal, state and municipal authorities. Owing to the secrecy attending such investigations Mrs. Griffin claimed, it is charged, that she was unable to obtain from the banks the funds needed to carry out the contract, as the banks were controlled parties. She represented her expenses as heavy but profits large, according to the officers.

It is charged that Mrs. Griffin obtained the desired funds from individuals, though she had no contracts as represented.

One man in New England, whose name is withheld by the prosecutors, supplied $100,000 and two others furnished $50,000 each, it is asserted.

The Griffins have been stopping at a hotel in Groton since April 21. Their last known New York residence was at the hotel Manhattan.

Mrs. Griffin before her marriage was Miss Clara H. Holland of Boicetown, this state. She is about 42 years old and her husband is five or six years her senior.

MAY OFFER GUNMAN'S CONFESSION AT TRIAL

Warden and Chaplain at Sing Sing Who it is Said Heard "Dago Frank" Exonerate Becker Called to Testify at Former Lieutenant's Trial

NEW YORK, May 8. The third session of one hundred of the three hundred talesmen drawn for the second trial of Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, charged with having instigated the murder of Herman Rosenthal, reported in court today when the third day's session began. Meanwhile, another panel of one hundred names was being drawn at the order of Justice Sutherland. This will make a total of 400 talesmen, 50 more than were drawn for the first Becker trial. From the remaining 200 talesmen it was expected that the six vacant seats in the jury box would be filled and that District Attorney Charles S. Whitman would make his opening address on Monday at the latest and possibly tomorrow. Presses servers for the defense yesterday subpoenaed Warden Cline and the Rev. William C. Cline, the Catholic chaplain at Sing Sing prison. This action gave rise to the supposition that the eleventh hour confession of "Dago Frank" Croli, in which the condemned gunman was credited with having declared that Becker had nothing to do with the murder of Rosenthal, will be offered in evidence. Croli made this statement, it has been stated, in the presence of the warden, Father Cline, and his mother and sister, only a few minutes before he was led to the chair. Whether or not the confession will be admitted is problematical. It was not written nor signed and to be of value to the defense it would have to be proved by those who heard it and even in that event it might not be admissible unless held by the court to be a dying declaration. District Attorney Whitman, it is known, will contest the admission of the confession.

In view of the order of the commissioner of corrections denying Becker the privilege of consultation with counsel except in his cell, District Attorney Whitman has arranged for a room in the criminal courts building where the accused, his wife and counsel may meet during recesses and after adjournments. GARDNER FINED

For Leaving Horse and Wagon Standing too Long on Central St.

Jake Gardner was arraigned before Judge Burleigh in police court this forenoon on a complaint charging him with permitting a vehicle to remain on Central street for more than twenty minutes, the time allowed by law. He pleaded guilty.

Patronus Conscience, who watches in the vicinity of Macmillan square, testified that on Thursday, April 23, the defendant left a horse and wagon standing on Central street from 1.50 p. m. to 5.20 p. m. He said that the traffic was very heavy at that time and the street was blocked at least three times while Mr. Gardner's team was hitched there. The defendant took the witness stand and told the court that he was visiting a lawyer's office and did not know just how long his team remained on the street. Judge Burleigh found him guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of three dollars.

Louis H. Cheney pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness and was given a three months' sentence to the Lowell jail.

STREET RAILWAY CARMEN

The Street Railway Carmen held a complimentary party and dance last evening in Prescott hall, and it was largely attended. Doyle's orchestra furnished the music of the evening and the young people danced to their heart's content until 12 o'clock. Pell, chairman; J. Lyons, J. Trimane, John Sullivan, T. J. Ahern, secretary; Fred Crowder, president; Joseph Powers, vice president.

AMONG THE TOILERS

Workmen are busily engaged tearing down the old chimney at the Prescott mill.

The Lawrence hockey baseball team will open their schedule Saturday on the South common.

Joe Powers, the popular conductor, who is vice president of the Carpenters' union, was a very active worker at the complimentary party last evening.

"Bert" Chandler, a prominent young man, employed at the Harvard brewery, has accepted a lucrative position in New York with a large contracting firm.

The machinists were shown in what high esteem they are held last night at their annual ball. "Joe" Quinn, the hustling business agent, was the busiest man in the hall.

The tools that were reported stolen from a local carpenter, who is a member of the Carpenters' union, have not as yet been recovered. The police are doing everything in their power to locate them.

The many friends of Miss Theresa Gargan will be pleased to learn that she has returned to work in the Ray State mills after being confined to her home with a severe illness.

Harry Turner, who is employed at the Merrimack mills, will start on an extensive motor-cycle trip visiting the most interesting parts of the New England and middle Atlantic states. He expects to leave Lowell June 1 and return in time for the Fourth.

Mr. Owen Cox has accepted a lucrative position with a big contracting firm in New York. Mr. Cox has been employed at the Harvard brewery as a first class machinist. He will leave today to assume his new duties.

Dalen Snow, employed at the Boston and Maine car shops suffered a painful injury today when he fell, breaking a bone in his right hand. He was attended by Dr. Forhan, the company's physician.

Peter Rogers who is the assistant superintendent of the Muskatquid mills, is a young man who has risen to the position which he now holds by a lot of hard work and study. He says any young man can do the same thing with a little hard work and study.

The unions that will meet tonight are as follows: Electric Employees of local 551, in Runels building, Electrical Workers at 137 Central street, Lowell Plasterers, No. 45, at 32 Middle street, Patternmakers League of North America, in Odd-Fellows hall, 54 Middlesex street.

Michael Corrigan and William Shed of the Machinists' union have accepted lucrative positions with the Harvard brewery. They are employed setting up machinery in the new bottling house which the company has erected.

The American Window Cleaning Co. is busy cleaning the windows of the Mass. Mills. They have just finished cleaning the windows of the Prescott mills. This is a job that used to be considered a very hard one, but with the modern appliances it is comparatively easy.

Sit down, you're rocking the boat. This is Joe McVey's advice to John O'Neil who is somewhat of a shark at the little pastime called pool. Both are contestants for the pool championship, which is being held by the M. T. I. at their hall. Don't forget your "cue," Joe, and have at him. Both are prominent mouliders.

Conductor Geo. Clark was the "idol" at the complimentary party held by the Street Railway Carpenters' union last evening. George is the heavy hitter of the baseball team and distinguished himself in the afternoon by slugging the pill all over the lot in the game with the Lawrence aggregation of carmen.

There has been a lot of talk about forming a baseball league among the local unions. Surely there is some good material in these organizations and a "league" would do a whole lot toward promoting friendliness between the different members. The painters, machinists and carpenters have already signified their intention of joining the "labor league" if the other unions "come across." Games would be played Saturday afternoons. The members of the other unions should select committees to confer with these unions already favoring the idea, or address Albert C. Burke, recording secretary of the Painters' union.

The members will meet every Saturday afternoon in the future and practice running, jumping, baseball, etc., in order to get in trim for the coming field day with the Painters' union of Lawrence. There is some good athletic material among the members, and last year they succeeded in capturing a large silver shield, the big prize offered at the annual tournament between the Lawrence, Haverhill and Lowell unions. In order to hold the trophy they must be returned the winners in two successive meets. This they feel confident of doing.

The business agent, George E. Field, told the members that he is receiving quite a few out-of-town calls from contractors, but was unable to fill the demand as the painters are all steadily employed in Lowell.

The officers of this popular organization are as follows: Charles E. Dane, president; Irving L. Sawyer, vice president; William A. De Long, treasurer; William E. Grant, financial secretary; Albert C. Burke, recording secretary; business agent, Geo. E. Field.

News of the Saco-Lowell Shops

When asked by a Sun representative today how business was, Agent Blake replied that everything remains a little bit dull, but added optimistically that it could be a great deal worse at this time of the season, when business is naturally dull all over the country.

Painters' Union Met

The Painters' union held a well attended meeting in Carpenters' hall last evening with President Charles E. Dane presiding.

Business of importance was transacted. Eight new members were admitted into the union and two applications for membership were received. The present condition of the union is the best it has enjoyed since its organization in 1906. The Painters' union was the first of the many unions in Lowell to get the nine and eight-hour day. For this they were presented a handsome banner by the Trades and Labor council. At the time of its organization the wages of the painters was $1.75 a day for ten hours. The wages paid at the present time are $3 per day and they work but 44 hours a week.

At the last meeting it was voted to put the "button system" in force instead of the old-time card.

WEDDING AT WHITE HOUSE

Pres. Wilson's Youngest Daughter Married to Sec. McAdoo in the Famous Blue Room

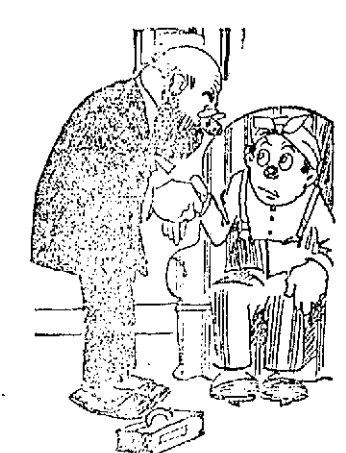

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Miss Ellen Wilson, youngest daughter of President Wilson, was married today to Secretary of the Interior William C. McAdoo in the famous blue room of the White House. The ceremony was held at 2 o'clock and was attended by the President, Mrs. Wilson, the Vice President, the Chief Justice, and the members of the cabinet. The bride wore a long white gown and the groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Dr. J. M. McKim.

The bride, however, was not in the least bit perturbed by the formalities, and she was the most beautiful bride ever seen in the White House.

Married in Blue Room.
The bride and groom, before the ceremony, stood in the blue room, on the east side of the White House, where the President and Mrs. Wilson were seated. The bride wore a long white gown and the groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Dr. J. M. McKim.

Second Daughter Given Away.
For the President and Mrs. Wilson it was a touching moment, as they gave away a daughter for the second time within a year. Around them stood their relatives and friends, a small group, for it was a family affair, much the same kind of home wedding one would see in any American household. The bride and groom then stood before the President and Mrs. Wilson, who were seated in the blue room.

White House Wedding

and the society of the national capital had no part in the affair. Most of the guests were intimate friends of the family from other cities. Secretary McAdoo gave a luncheon to his colleagues in the cabinet attended also by Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N., his best man, Secretary Tumulty and Vice President Marshall. It was a social company, speech-making and witty toasts, especially by Mr. McAdoo.

Keeping the group in a continuous roar of laughter. The president and Mrs. Wilson motored with their three daughters. During the early evening small crowds peered through the fences and iron gates, but saw only the procession of carriages and automobiles as they brought the guests or the bride away.

The Presbyterian single ring service was used, with the characteristic words "love, honor and obey." As the wedding cake was cut, the bride and groom stepped back from the altar, where they received the congratulations of the guests.

Supper was served at small tables in the state dining room, while the wedding cake was played. The bride cut the wedding cake with Dr. Grayson's sword, the young people had a dance in the blue room and suddenly Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo slipped into a waiting automobile and motored rapidly down

Executive Avenue. They will be away on their honeymoon about two weeks and will not go abroad as has been reported. The secretary expects to keep in close touch with the work of his office.

BRIDAL GOWN OF IVORY WHITE SATIN, TRIMMED WITH REAL OLD POINT LACE
WASHINGTON, May 8.—The bridal gown of Miss Eleanor Wilson, daughter of the president, who yesterday became Mrs. William G. McAdoo, wife of the secretary of the treasury and some of the other gowns of her wedding procession, were authoritatively described after the ceremony of yesterday had been concluded.

The bridal gown was made of ivory white satin and trimmed with real old point lace. This charming creation was the principal part of a trousseau made by Fifth Avenue modistes. The bodice was softly draped with satin which crosses in front and is brought to a point below the shoulders, front and back. The V-shaped neck is finished with folds of soft tulle. The long monomanière sleeves are made of tulle. The real old point lace is gracefully draped over the right shoulder to the left side of the waist and is fastened with a spray of orange blossoms; the lace then continues as a border to the long transparent tulle of tulle, which graduates to the side of the skirt at the train. The long sweeping train is three and a half yards in length. A cap effect of white especially executed with orange blossoms and long draped veil was very effective.

How to Overcome a Bad Constipation

There is a Mild Laxative That Will Bring Safe and Pleasant Relief Over Night

It is only natural that the simplest of ailments should be the most general, and so we have a whole nation suffering from constipation and indigestion, for they are closely allied. But common as constipation is many people do not seem to know they have it. They will complain of headache, drowsiness or biliousness, all unconscious of the cause of the trouble.

You should have a full and free movement at least once a day. If you pass a day you are constipated, and the result will be that you will catch a cold easily or have a more serious ailment. To cure the constipation and forestall still graver trouble take a dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at night before retiring and by morning relief will come, without disturbance from sleep or any inconvenience.

Legions of people use it regularly in such emergencies, some of them formerly chronic invalids who had suffered from constipation all their lives. Mrs. N. Frantz, 67 Eighth St., Salem, Ohio, took physics for years, and worst of all, without much avail. Finally, she began to take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and today she is no longer troubled and eats what she likes. Many others will tell you that they have tried most things recommended for this purpose but have found Syrup Pepsin the only one always reliable. A bottle can be obtained at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter size being bought by families already familiar with its merits.

Syrup Pepsin is mild, pleasant-tasting and non-gripping. Mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet it is effective to grownups. It is for everyone who suffers from any form of stomach, liver or bowel trouble, constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, etc. Its action will so lighten you that you will forever avoid harsh cathartics, purgatives, pills and salts.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

MEXICAN WAR HISTORY

The Start, the Finish, the Battles and the Result — Large Territory Added

Sixty-eight years ago this month the United States precipitated war with Mexico, which continued from April 23, 1846, until September, 1847, and added 651,500 square miles of territory, exclusive of Texas, to this country, an area nine times as large as the state of Nebraska.

The southwestern boundary line of Texas, whether the Rio Grande or the war of 1812 and in the Black Hawk, Seminoles and various other Indian wars with distinction, and later became president.

He was ordered by Polk to march westward of the Nueces. This was before annexation was accomplished. The president thus put peace in peril. Texas had claimed the Rio Grande as the boundary, but the land between it and the Nueces it had never been in possession.

Taylor marched, according to orders, to the Rio Grande. He reached it at what is now known as Brownsville. Arrived there, he planted a battery which commanded the public square or plaza in Matamoros, Mexico, across the river. He likewise blockaded the mouth of the stream.

The Mexican commander at Matamoros naturally held that this was beginning hostilities. So he crossed over the river April 23, 1846, and his force had a skirmish with a small force of our men. In it sixteen of our dragoons were killed.

The president then notified congress that American blood had been spilled on American soil. And the war was begun.

We were unready, of course, but the war went on. Taylor commanded in northern Mexico. He won the battle of Palo Alto, May 8, 1846, and that of Resaca de la Palma the next day, and about nine days later he took September 21 and he defeated Santa Ana at San Jacinto. A two-day fight, Washington's birthday and the day after, 1847. For this he won rank as major general.

Meanwhile, Winfield Scott, another American commander, had been carrying on a campaign south of this territory, striking at the heart of the enemy's country.

Scott was the finest looking man in the army. There were those who said he was more majestic than Washington. At all events he was an excellent soldier.

Scott was general-in-chief in Mexico. He had 8500 men. Santa Ana, his opponent, had 12,000.

Scott landed his force at Vera Cruz. There our navy helped him by pecking away at the ancient fort of San Juan de Ulua, which had made much trouble for Hawkins and some of the other old-time free-boaters. Scott put his men ashore by means of surfboats. On March 27 he had them in motion, and not long afterwards increased his force by drawing on Taylor.

The theatre of war now changed to the line between Vera Cruz and the capital.

This position was flanked April 18 and attacked by three columns. Two divisions of Twiggs and North went up to the heights gallantly. Here Santa Ana commanded in person, but the helms was carried by storm and his sons turned on another part of the field that Pillow was assaulting. The Mexicans didn't care for much of that sort of thing and soon surrendered. Santa Ana, for his part, fled to Jalapa, with Scott in pursuit. The latter fought well enough, but Santa Ana beat him—in the running.

A month or so after this fight at Cerro Gordo the Americans occupied Puebla. Here Scott was compelled to wait during June and July to receive reinforcements and to drill them.

August 1 he set out for the capital, which, but this time was defended by some 30,000 men.

A series of engagements followed this movement. August 19 and 20 three battles were fought, namely, those of Contreras, Churubusco and San Antonio. These were really parts of one general engagement.

Let it not be imagined for a moment that the Mexicans did not fight. They fought here with bravery and stubbornness. But in the end they were completely routed. Pursuit of them reached to the very gates of their capital.

The fortifications of the capital were known as Molino del Rey, Casa Mata and Chapultepec. They were considered formidable.

September 7 an armistice terminated. Negotiations failing, Scott prepared to move on these works. September 8 he attacked.

Santa Ana was in command here. He was an old campaigner. He had governed Mexico, with some interruptions, for twenty years. He drew up his forces with the right on Casa Mata and the left on Molino del Rey. Both these positions were carried by assault and the Mexicans driven from the field.

The next two days were given to the assault of Chapultepec. Batteries were planted on both sides for this purpose, and September 12 a simultaneous assault was made.

The American troops at the same time stormed the fortress. The works were carried and the enemy fled in confusion.

The American army pursued them along the causeway of Belem and San Cosme, fighting to the gates of the city.

Here the enemy stood and made desperate resistance. The struggle lasted till midnight.

That night our men rested on their arms. Early the next morning a detachment of the enemy arrived asking for terms. They were refused and the divisions of North and Galtman entered the city.

There was street fighting, however, for two days before the Americans secured possession of the city.

Negotiations now were renewed. There was guerrilla warfare a while longer, but the principal towns were garrisoned by our troops and our men carried on the government. February 2 a treaty of peace was signed and ratifications were exchanged a month or two later.

In his "Dictionary of United States History," J. Franklin Jamieson says: "The war was plainly one of unjust aggression on a minor power, with the object of winning more territory for new slave states."

SCHUMANN-HEINK TALKS

NOTED SINGER SAYS THAT ALLEGATIONS OF HER HUSBAND ARE RIDICULOUS—LAUGHS AT THEM

CINCINNATI, May 8.—"Me, infatuated with any man—no, a mother of eight and a grandmother six—me in love with a boy? Ach, himmel," said Mme. Schumann-Heink, the noted songstress of two continents, as she poised for a moment between laughter and tears as her sense of humor came to her rescue. So she took it in laughter.

Then she went on to explain how everyone who knows her will, she is sure, understand how very ridiculous is the charge brought in Chicago late yesterday in the divorce court of the Windy City by her husband in private life, Wilhelm Heinrich, Jr., that she was infatuated with a boy, N. J. Nicholson, whom her son, Henry, had introduced to her with the statement that the young New Jersey arm of the law had a wonderful voice.

The policeman is one of Madame's protectors. He is attending the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor at her expense and after he is graduated he will be trained for the concert stage, she said yesterday. Mme. Schumann-Heink is living apart from her husband. The statement involving the Nicholson policeman was made in an answer to her petition for divorce. It is stated not under oath Rapp charges his wife brought the policeman to her home in Chicago, and there was familiar with him. Madame is one of the soloists at the Cincinnati May festival, now in progress here.

"Of course, I did," said Schumann-Heink, emphatically, "and why not? I have a small palace in Chicago. This boy is a protegee of mine. He comes to Chicago. I invite him out. What is more natural? But he is only one of many young singers I am able to help."

MAP SHOWING POSITION OF MEXICAN TROOPS

The number of his forces and their distance from Vera Cruz are indicated on the map.

TENDERED RECEPTION AT HIGHLAND METHODIST CHURCH— FATHER AND SON PASTORS

Rev. Charles H. Davis and Mrs. Davis were tendered a reception at the Highland M. E. church last night by the Ladies' Aid society and members of the church. All of the Methodist pastors of the city were invited to the reception, and also the pastors of other churches in the Highlands. The new pastor, Rev. Charles H. Davis, is a son of Rev. Charles C. Davis, pastor of the Worthen Street church.

Chemical analysis of an ordinary cup of coffee shows that it contains about 2 1-2 grains of the drug caffeine.

By actual test the U. S. Government demonstrated that 5 grains of caffeine (the amount in 2 cups of coffee) were sufficient to kill a rabbit.

Of course, human beings are stronger than rabbits, but there are few people who can drink coffee regularly without sooner or later feeling the effects of caffeine poisoning, commonly shown in headache, indigestion, biliousness, sleeplessness, heart agitation and other ills.

Thousands of people, tired of coffee troubles, have found relief by changing to

OBSERVE THE 38TH ANNIVERSARY

Angel Guardian Society
to Have Special Service

At St. Joseph's Church
With a Parade in
Afternoon

Today marks the thirty-eighth anniversary of the founding of the Angel Guardian sodality of St. Joseph's parish, and the observance which will be held on Sunday will consist of a mass at St. Joseph's church in the morning; and a parade and church service in the afternoon.

The members of the sodality, over 250, will assemble at St. Joseph's college in Merrimack street at 7 o'clock Sunday morning and headed by the two companies of the A. G. Cadets and the Cadets brass band and bugle and drum corps, will proceed to St. Joseph's church in Lee street, where at 7:30 o'clock they will attend mass. The boys will receive holy communion in a body and will listen to an interesting sermon by the spiritual director, Rev. Joseph Denis, O. M. I. At the close of the mass the line of parade will be re-formed and the young men will return to the college hall where it is probable they will partake of a hearty breakfast.

In the afternoon at 1 o'clock they will again assemble at the school hall and parade to the church by way of Merrimack, Kirk and Lee streets where at 1:30 o'clock a special service will be held, consisting of the recitation of the rosary, a short instruction by the spiritual director, Rev. C. J. Paquette, O. M. I., and the reception of 50 new members. The service will close with benediction.

The parade will then form in Lee street and will proceed through the following streets: Kirk, Merrimack, Moody, Aiken, Hall, Tucker, Phoenix, Pawtucket and Merrimack to the college. The members of the brass band and bugle and drum corps will wear their full regalia and the flags and banners of the sodality will be carried in the parade.

The Angel Guardian sodality was founded on May 8, 1876, by the late Rev. J. A. Fournier, O. M. I., with about 25 members, all boys who had made their first communion. The first president of the sodality was the Very Rev. Honoré Constantineau, O. M. I., now provincial of the Order for the south. All boys who had received their first communion were admitted into the organization, and in a short time the membership had increased to over 250. The sodality held meetings every second and fourth Sunday of the month and always those meetings were largely attended for the young men were always pleased to listen to remarks by their spiritual director, who took special care for their welfare.

On Feb. 28, 1906, when Rev. Victor Viand, O. M. I., who possessed considerable knowledge of military affairs, was spiritual director of the sodality, he conceived the idea of forming a military guard among the boys and he organized what is known as the A. G. Cadets.

The first officers of the Cadets were the following: Xavier A. Delisle, major; Maxime Corneille, adjutant major;

REV. JOSEPH DENIS, O. M. I.

Ovila, Leblanc, quartermaster; Alphonse Rivest, bugler.

Company A was the first organized, with the following officers: Captain, X. Delisle; lieutenants, William Trotter, Lazare Bouché, sergeants, Maxime Corneille, Ernest Gagne, Mederic Boissonneault, Emile Vigneau; corporals, Eugene Cobell, Arthur St. Hilaire, Henri Boissonneault, Ovila Lafontaine and Theodore J. Delisle.

A month later Company B was organized and it was at that time that the Cadets were formed into a battalion. The first officers of Company B were: Capt. Arthur Lamoureux, lieutenants, Arthur L. Enn, Hermes Michaud; sergeants, Eugene Ricard, Edmund Bailey, Adelard Bourgeault and Antonio Vigneau; corporals, Arthur Giguere, Alexandre Thibault, Leon Vigneau and Willie Dupont.

The charter members of the Cadets were as follows: Edgar Brundage, Arthur Bourque, Joseph E. Gagne, Adelard Bourgeault, Mederic Boissonneault, Joseph Lamoureux, Emile Vigneau, Dumais Allard, Arthur Brunelle, William Bourque, William Vincent, Isaac J. Huet, Ovila Lafontaine, Ovila Leblanc, Horace and Rosalie Lafontaine, Adelard Payette, Henri Simard, Louis Simard, Joseph Roy, Eugene Cobell, Charles Germain, Henri Boissonneault, Hector Reeves, Francois Toupin, Joseph Ayotte, Louis Provost, Ernest Plamondon, Frederick Turcotte, Majorique Gaudin, Joseph Nadeau and Rogerie Fontaine.

About three years ago a brass band was organized among the Cadets but for some reason the organization fell through and it was not until a few months ago when Rev. Joseph Denis, O. M. I., was placed at the head of the sodality and heard that the band again came to the front. Louis Napoléon Guilbault, organist at St. Margaret's church, was appointed conductor and under his training and that of Fr. Denis the boys made rapid progress. The band made its first appearance in the streets of Lowell at the funeral of the late Rev. Joseph LeFebvre, O. M. I., and again last Sunday when it turned out to escort the Holy Family sodality on its annual pilgrimage to Notre Dame de Lourdes, where they donned their new uniforms for the first time.

The officers of the band are as follows: Arthur Giguere, president; Joseph Bourque, vice president; Leo Giguere, secretary; Frank Theriault, treasurer. The members are: Joseph Aubert, Armand Dupont, Eugene Cloutier, Ernest Levesque, Arthur McKinnon, Conrad Vigneau, Anathase Marquis, Wilfrid Dadele, Joseph Bergeron, Hector Labele, Arthur Giguere, Frank Theriault, Leo Giguere, Alphonse Roux, George Brout, Joseph Rousseau, Albert Giguere, Omer Lacroix, Arthur Lefebvre, Arthur Deneault, Arthur Labrecque, Emile Beauchamp, Leon Champagne, Horace Jenson and Leon Giguere.

The spiritual directors of the Angel Guardian sodality were as follows: Rev. J. A. Fournier, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Denis, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Pelletier, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Martin, O. M. I., Rev. D. S. Forget, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Sirois, O. M. I., Rev. Victor Viand, O. M. I., Rev. Guillaume Duquette, O. M. I., Rev. Charles Denzot, O. M. I., Rev. Jerome Desjardins, O. M. I., and Rev. Joseph Denis, O. M. I.

The president officers of the sodality are Rev. Joseph Denis, O. M. I., spiritual director; Leo Giguere, president; Joseph Albert, Jr. and Ernest Lefebvre, vice presidents; Antonio Bergeron, secretary; Louis Lachapelle and Arthur Labrecque, sergeants; Rev. Joseph Denis, O. M. I., treasurer; Joseph Bergeron and Hervé Perron, flag bearers; Hervé Drapeau, Arthur Lefebvre, Conrad Vigneau, Arthur Lemire, Victor Hamel and Alphonse Rivest, directors.

Arthur Lamoureux, who has had considerable military experience at the high school is major of the A. G. Cadets' battalion and under his command the young soldiers are being well trained. Three years ago they won first prize at a military tournament in Manchester, N. H., and now the organization is affiliated with the French-American Brigade of the United States.

HAS INCREASED COST OF FOOD

IN CANADA BY DEPLETING THE

SUPPLY, SAYS FISHER

In a recent address to the Canadian club of Montreal, Hon. Sydney Fisher, former minister of agriculture, made some shrewd remarks, which are worthy of attention, on the prices of food products in Canada. One of the causes of the high prices which have prevailed here, in Mr. Fisher's opinion, is the Underwood tariff, which has thrown open the American markets to many Canadian food products. He pointed out that during the last three months of 1913, under the Underwood tariff, we exported to the United States goods to the value of $7,130,000, as compared to $7,346,000 in the corresponding three months of 1912. Of this $7,130,000 no less than $1,000,000 is represented by ten articles on which the duties were lowered or removed—cattle, horses, oats, cream, print paper, beef, tallow, wheat, potatoes and fertilizers. There was practically no increase on any article on which the duty was not lowered or removed, so that the whole increase can fairly be attributed to the Underwood tariff.

The effect of this sudden increase in the outflow of Canadian products could not fail to have an effect on our home market. "Fourteen million dollars' worth more food has left this country," said Mr. Fisher, "and Canada's food supply is restricted to this extent. The additional horses and fertilizer exported will have their effect in depriving the farmer of these valuable helps in the production of food, which will also have its effect on our food supplies." In the one item of cream the increase in exports is striking. In the last quarter of 1912 the value of the cream exported to the states was $168,000; in the last quarter of 1913 it was $363,000. The result of this drawing off of the cream supply was scarcity of cream, causing a smaller output of butter, which in its turn accounted for the high price of butter during the winter. A good joke on the department of agriculture is the fact that most of the cream delivered last winter at a premium by the eastern townships run by the department was not used for butter-making at all, but was

These pictures were taken by a war photographer on the outskirts of Vera Cruz. The top view shows a number of marines guarding the Vera Cruz waterworks from the Mexican federals. This point was an important one in the defense of the city from possible attack, as upon the safety of the pumping station depended the water supply of the city's residents and the United States forces. The lower picture shows other marines on guard at a point near the principal railroad entering the city.

And Now We Are Ready for YOU

SINCE having moved into this beautiful new store, twenty months ago, we have striven steadily toward a point that is now attained, namely, complete readiness to take care of the trade of all New England.

Having suddenly expanded so that its selling space was increased about three times, there were many problems to be met and solved. Therefore, instead of attempting to conquer all of New England in the first year and a half, we have bent our energies to the task of meeting rightly the wants of the people of greater Boston.

Now, however, the day has dawned when we feel fully justified in enlarging our scope of activities to include you.

We are fully prepared to supply your apparel needs, whether you visit us in person, order by mail, or telephone to us. In no case will there be any charge for delivery of merchandise to your homes.

The Filene store, unlike any other of its size in the world, concentrates its energies upon the buying and selling of things ready to wear. These are assembled in specialty shops, each group of merchandise being in charge of an expert.

As a result of this specialization we are able to supply many wardrobe needs unobtainable in your local stores.

From those stores we seek to take no business rightfully theirs. On the other hand we feel justified in pointing out to you the many exclusive things to be found in our scores of specialty shops—shops the aim of which is to make it easy for you to dress differently from your neighbor.

Another prime aim of the Filene plan of shop-keeping is economy. Below is an example of the money-saving opportunities abounding here:

shipped to the states and sold at a high price. Undoubtedly the Underwood tariff has been one cause of the high prices of food supplies in Canada during the past winter. Our farmers have reaped large benefits by the new arrangement; but it has been hard on the dwellers in our cities and towns. The effects, so far as the consuming population is concerned, are much worse than reciprocity could have been. If the reciprocity agreement had gone through, we would be getting some classes of food products at lower prices than those which we are now obliged to pay. The account would be balanced."

ACTIVITIES IN BILLERICA

Highway Surveyor Twombly
Has Big Program of Roadwork
—Memorial Day Celebration

Highway Surveyor Edgar T. Twombly of Billerica is making arrangements to repair the main thoroughfares of the North village and men are now at work cleaning the macadam streets in preparation to the spraying of tar oil which will be done immediately. According to present plans over a mile of streets will be put in first class condition at once and others will be never since that time have they been given as good a cleaning as they are getting now.

In order to do this work thoroughly it was necessary to hire a street sweeper from the city of Lowell and this was drawn over the street in town, so that very little refuse remains on Billerica's highways. When the sweeping is completed and the dirt has been carried away a machine to spread tar oil will be secured and each street that has been scraped will be sprayed with the tar oil.

At present it is planned to start the work at Broadway bridge and go over Wilson, Paulkner and Elm streets, scraping the dirt from the top of the macadam and it is then hauled to a dump. It is claimed that these streets were constructed over a dozen years ago and repaired later so that the streets of Billerica will be in as good shape as those of any other town in this section of the state.

At present the highway surveyor has teams of men at work on Wilson, Paulkner and Elm streets, scraping the dirt from the top of the macadam and it is then hauled to a dump. It is claimed that these streets were constructed over a dozen years ago and will be done soon. Billerica has appropriated the sum of $2500 provided the county and state appropriate similar amounts and if a favorable report is made work of building this road will be started immediately and will probably be completed during the summer months.

Another New Road

The residents of Billerica and Carlisle have petitioned the board of selectmen for a public highway to be built between the main road, Billerica and Maple street, Carlisle, at or about where a private way now lies through the land of George E. French and Frank Breen in Carlisle, and land of the Judds heirs, Billerica. This matter will undoubtedly be taken up at the next meeting of the commission.

Odd Fellows to Parade

The North Billerica lodge of Odd Fellows, Manchester Unity, are making elaborate preparations for a class celebration on the evening of Thursday, May 21, when a uniform rank will be instituted in North Billerica. It is planned to have the members of Integrity lodge of Lowell present, and a special program will be carried out. Arrangements are also to be made to have a full dress parade before the meeting with the members of Integrity lodge and also a number of grand officers from Boston taking part.

Memorial Day Celebration

Plans are being made by the various patriotic organizations of the town for a Memorial day celebration and the day will undoubtedly be observed in the usual appropriate way. At noon the Civil war veterans, the Sons of Veterans, Ladies of the G. A. R., will converge on the common at the center and journey to the cemetery in South Billerica where graves will be placed on the graves of the dead comrades with appropriate exercises. On their return to the town hall there will be an address and patriotic songs will be sung. A dinner will also be served by the Ladies of the G. A. R.

New Steam Roller

The board of selectmen has not yet spent the $2000 which was appropriated to purchase a new steam roller for the exclusive use of the town. At the annual meeting the board was given permission to select any make it desired and although several have been looked at the members have been unable to agree upon any particular style.

Carpshops Quite Busy

Building work has been begun in Billerica on the houses in which the employees of the Boston & Maine repair shops are to live. Land developing companies have located in different sections of both North Billerica and the Centre and it is believed that within another year there will be houses enough in Billerica for all the workmen who care to live there.

From present indications the houses will be pleasant, home-like structures, a neat type of a cottage designed to accommodate one family, and each will have ample space of its sides and in the rear for lawns and gardening. Several varieties of construction are represented in the different sections and this alone goes a long way toward making the appearance of the houses very attractive.

Besides the houses that are now being built plans are being made to erect stores as soon as the population requires it. That the storekeepers will do a thriving business is almost certain as Billerica is growing and the building work now in evidence is on the outskirts of the town and the few stores are located together in the hearts of both villages.

The board of trade is still hoping to establish an expenditure in the town but as yet the necessary number of shareholders have not been secured. However, it is only a matter of time before this will be a reality and it has been stated that one of Lowell's institutions may establish a branch so that the employees who live in Billerica will not be subjected to the inconvenience of coming to Lowell to deposit their earnings.

Everything is being rapidly rushed along at the Boston & Maine repair shops and the thousand men now employed in the different departments are busy overhauling locomotives and repairing passenger cars, etc. As yet no freight car repairing has been done at the Billerica shops and this will probably be done in Concord, N. H., and Fitchburg for some time at least. The number of men employed at the passenger car shop is increasing weekly and now fourteen coaches are attached to the working train which carries the employees back and forth to this city daily.

LEEDS, England, May 8.—Lillian Lenton, a militant suffragette, was sentenced today at the assizes here to a year's imprisonment on a charge of setting fire to Westfield house, Doncaster, in June last year.

AT THE CAPITAL

Women Plan for a Big Suffrage Demonstration There Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, May 8.—With but a day remaining before they will march on congress and demand the passage of a constitutional amendment enfranchising women, suffragists from all over the United States were prepared today for their final charge. Everything is in readiness for the demonstration.

Although no estimate has been made of the number of women who will take part in the pageant, it was said today that it would surpass previous demonstrations here.

When the marchers reach the capital they will be met by a committee composed of senators and representatives in congress.

The parade will have the youngest suffragette in the world in line. Announcement was made today that Sheelagh Stone, daughter of Representative Charles E. Stone of Illinois, will ride with her mother in the procession tomorrow. She is six weeks old and has been enrolled as a member of the Congressional union, which is conducting the demonstration.

PERJURY IN FRANK CASE

ATLANTA, Ga., May 8.—It was announced yesterday that Judge R. P. Hill of the superior court, who yesterday denied a new trial to Leo M. Frank, under sentence for killing Mary Phagan, a factory girl, will instruct the grand jury which begins its sessions May 18, to investigate charges of perjury, coercion and intimidation of witnesses made against each other by both sides in the famous murder case.

USE OF PRISON LABOR

The taking of testimony in the strike situation at the Heywood Brothers and Wakenfield company, at Wakefield, by members of the state board of conciliation and arbitration continued yesterday, morning and afternoon, and bids fair to continue for several days to come. The only claim in the arbitration itself was the presence of only about 100 workmen in the factory, as against approximately twice that number Monday. Officers of the company yesterday declined to say whether or not the factory is to close tomorrow, as was rumored in the town yesterday.

The witnesses at yesterday's sessions of the hearing, which were held in the town hall, were from the strikers' ranks. The company has not yet put on any witnesses, nor has its representative at the hearing, Fred M. Cleveland, participated in the questioning or discussions.

Raymond Dulung yesterday testified that changes in the style of chairs made at the factory requiring more work had not been accompanied by increases in pay, so that it was not possible for men to make as much a week now as they could make 19 years ago. He estimated the average wage for his work to amount to about $12, as against $15 for the same amount of labor 19 years ago.

Several other strikers corroborated Dulung's testimony.

Henry Thwaites, an official of a local labor union, charged that the company is having work done at the Salem jail, although it is alleged, on the other side, that it is having work done at the jail with the reply that the company could not grant the increase because it was in competition with the prison labor of southern states.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

When a man marries he has to be very careful that his wife's disposition is one he can stand day in and day out for years and the same thing applies to the opposite sex. There are certain people who bring out all that is bad in another person's character and others who bring out all that is good. And sometimes a man has such a disposition that he is apt to see nothing but the good in the other sex. Just such a man is George Spinney, the name of the leading character in the two reel Pathe feature, "Victims of Vanity," at the Opera House today. Intensely selfish, quick-tempered and proud, the moment he touched liquor in any form he became a beast. How a loving and dutiful wife makes him see the folly of his ways and leads him in the path of righteousness, forms a picture that is most interesting and one that every man, woman and child can follow the thread of the story and understand the moral lesson it teaches.

DAVID WARFIELD

"It's the public that makes stars, not the managers," says David Warfield, who comes to the Lowell Opera House on Monday evening, May 11, in "The Auctioneer." "And now that I've gotten back to the part that brought me out as a star 12 years ago, I realize this more than I ever did before. I didn't jump into stardom, but on the other hand, I stood and looked over the bars into the prisoned land for a long time. During that time I was approached by three managers, who assured me that they would be the making of me. But I didn't want to be made too soon, and I felt that I wasn't ready to be counted among the stars yet. What's more, I wanted to be sure of my man before I jumped.

When Rebecca finally came along, he looked like the right man to me, though he had no theatre at that time, and only a small room for an office.

"After all, becoming a star is largely a matter of business, and an actor who has an eye out for the main chance is not unlike the clerk who feels he has the right to open a store of his own. But an opening doesn't make a store; it is always the public that decides the fate of an enterprise. Twelve years ago when I first faced the public as a star in 'The Auctioneer' I felt like hiding behind the counter in old Levi's shop; I almost died before I came on the stage the first night. But the public gave me a hand and pulled me through. I was ambitious and believed I could do something more than be bits of burlesque I had been doing, but without the help of the public I would have been lost that first night. Believe me when I say that the lower side of the theatre is on the public, by the mysterious, unspoken message it sends across to the actor, telling him whether he is a success or a failure. There's no getting away from it."

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
"Plunder's Furnished Flat," playing at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, is based on an actual happening in the life of Willard Stimmus, who plays the leading character. Stimmus once attempted to paper the room of his house. He didn't have to do it, but he had believed perparhanging to be nothing of a trade. Naturally enough he had a peck of trouble and got badly mixed up with the paper and the paste. In later years Stimmus thought the idea good enough for a vaudeville skit, and worked it into one. The result is the very funny act which is one of the hits of the week's bill. "The Big Surprise," played by Margaret Sawelle, Duffy and company of eight persons is a neat piece of cabaret work, with not one surprise hit a half dozen of them. Martini and Maximilian in their burlesque on magic are another team dealing in funny things. The assistant to the magician is a born comedian, who, by spolling all of the tricks, gets many a laugh. Martini and Martini, club jugglers and swingers, are among the speediest performers in their line ever seen here. Other acts on the bill are Lewis & Young, Willis & Fisher, Claude Rant and the Pathe Weekly. Phone 28.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

THE KASINO
Lest you forget, the Kasino is now at its best, with Miner's famous orchestra engaged for the summer. The conditions on Thursday night are ideal for dancing. Although practically all of the best of the city, all of the advantages of the country are here presented, for the Kasino is elevated and it is surrounded by greenery which contributes to its pleasures. Every night and on Saturday afternoon, the Kasino is at your disposal.

AUTO TURNED TURTLE

MILBURY MAN IS DYING IN HOSPITAL—MYSTERIOUS WOMAN UNHURT IN ACCIDENT AT SIDE

WORCESTER, May 8.—Edgar Benjamin, one of the wealthiest business men of Milbury and formerly of Newton, is dying at the Worcester hospital as the result of an automobile accident on the state highway near Sterling early yesterday morning.

A woman whose identity is not known and who was in the machine with him, escaped unharmed and is watching constantly by the dying man's bedside. She steadily refuses to make herself known and every effort is being made by the authorities to keep the matter secret.

As far as is known Benjamin and the woman were speeding along the state road between Sterling and Sterling junction. Benjamin was driving, and in the heavy fog which hung over the countryside he could not see to keep his machine in the highway. In taking one of the turns it swerved into the ditch and tearing along for a few rods, crashed into a fence and turned turtle.

Benjamin was hurled over the wheel and pinned beneath the heavy machine, while his companion, it is understood, was thrown in the opposite direction, striking on a grassy bank by the roadside. Although badly shaken up, she was unhurt and rising to her feet, she staggered to the roadside.

There, unconscious and groaning, she lay for some time. She finally was picked up by a passerby and taken to the hospital. The woman could not help him. After several futile attempts to drag his body from beneath the car she ran to a farm house some distance away and summoned aid.

Benjamin's bleeding form was finally released, but he received but no effect whatever. He was placed in an automobile and with the woman in attendance upon him brought him to this city. His skull was fractured, the pelvic bone broken, while his body was a mass of cuts and contusions.

Benjamin was in a bad way, it is supposed, at the time of the crash. He was the owner of the Milbury baseball team of the Blackstone Valley league.

Nearly 17,000 acres have just been added by act of congress to the Carbon national forest, Idaho. This is one of the first of such additions through congressional action, and is the largest so far made by direct legislation.

Those who have followed the national forest movement in this country will recall that most of the forests have been created through presidential proclamation, which set aside, for timber growing or for water protection, certain areas of the public domain.

In March, 1907, however, congress passed a law that in further additions should be made to the national forest areas in the states of Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington and Wyoming, except through congressional action.

Since July, 1909, residents of the city of Montpelier, Idaho, have been petitioning to have this 17,000 acres added to the Carbon national forest, because the area includes the watershed of the stream which furnishes the city's water supply. Not being within a national forest, the tract was given over to agricultural grazing and other uses which resulted in serious pollution and became a serious menace to health.

The citizens of Montpelier, at several times subsequent to their first efforts in 1909, renewed their petition, and the act just passed represents the successful outcome of their efforts.

QUARTER CENTURY AGO

was selling the "War Cry" or whatever Salvation Army publication was in vogue at that time in Newburgh, N. Y., where she met with an accident, for the Sun says:

"Mattie Towne, the Salvationist from Lowell who fell through a trap door at Newburgh, N. Y., while selling Salvation Army literature, is improving."

"Sister" Towne returned to Lowell and was a familiar figure on the streets until the time of her death a few years ago.

A "War Cry" which tickled "Isaac" immensely.

"Isaac" produced the nickel and then said: "Sister, they're granting the license tonight and I want you to pray that I'll get mine. If I get it I'll buy the War Cry from you every week as long as you come around."

Mattie thought a moment and then said: "Well, Mr. Mayhoney, I can't say that you'll get a license because we don't believe in liquor-selling, but I'll pray that you will be a successful man."

And "Isaac" kept his promise and purchased the War Cry every week afterward.

The Donohoe Outing

There have been outings of all kinds and descriptions in the past, but there has never been anything since like the celebrated Donohoe outing held for many years at the Donohoe farm in Dracut with Peter H. Donohoe as host.

The Donohoe outings began 25 years ago as may be seen by the following: "Ex-Alderman Peter H. Donohoe dedicated his new barn on the old Latham estate in Dracut, Thursday. There was a big attendance, 500 sandwiches being consumed. Boston friends sent Peter an ivory-handled, gold mounted whip."

The outing of 25 years ago might have been a big thing for those days, but it wasn't a circumstance to the annual affairs that followed. Five hundred sandwiches would have hardly fed the police officers on duty in later days for guests prominent in public and business life came from all over New England to greet Peter H. at his annual feast. A big clambake was at-

RESISTANCE TO DISEASE

Why is it that one person can work all day standing in cold water, slush and snow with no harmful effect, while another with less exposure contracts cold, pneumonia, rheumatism, sciatica or something equally distressing and dangerous?

Because in the first case the body was in such perfect balance that there was "resistance" to disease. In the second case, was lack of tone that invited ill health.

Keep your system toned up with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and foods that are as distressing to you will be harmless. Exercise will bring no tears of rheumatism and neuralgia and even germ diseases need hardly be dreaded.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills assist digestion, correct the lassitude, the palpitation of the heart, shaky nerves and the pallor of face and lips that are the result of thin, impure blood.

FORECASTING WEATHER

Duties of the Weather Man are Scientific and He is Not to Blame for Exceptions Due to Changes

One of our correspondents writes:
Will you please tell me through your columns, how the weather forecasts are made?
To this the shortest and simplest answer is: By telegraph. The weather or forecast does not look out of the window and guess. It is not weatherwise like the old salt who vents the approach of a storm without knowing how. To the signs to which the orinary citizen is likely to be led, the forecasting man adds the use of the barometer, the thermometer, and the anemometer, and he can make his predictions as accurately as a windowless officer on the top of
New York's highest skyscraper.
The private individual sees the clouds settle on a nearby mountain or the rain sweep over a field a mile from his house, and knows that the storm will be on him in a few minutes. With the aid of the telegraph, the forecasting man sees the same scene, not only in thousands of miles away, but only this storm but every other one in the country. He knows in what direction and at what speed each is moving, and can thus calculate with reasonable accuracy the approximate time when it will reach any place in its route.
Twice a day, at 8 in the morning and at 5 in the evening, reports are telegraphed to Washington from about ten observatories stationed in as many different localities in the United States and Canada. In these reports the observers do not volunteer their personal opinions about what is going to happen. They confine themselves to a plain statement of the actual conditions at that particular moment, the pressure, or weight of the atmosphere, the temperature, the direction and velocity of the wind, the amount of rain since the last report, and so forth.

From this information the weather map of the United States is made, a showing the conditions that prevail in every part of the country. Since there are two maps for each day of the year, that by comparing them the forecaster can keep track of the course and progress of both storms and periods of clear weather. From that, the next step is to predict what sort of weather or will prevail for a day or two in any given locality.
This map is the basis for all school life weather forecasting. A glance at it will show that it is divided into "high pressure areas" and "low pressure areas." There are technical terms used to describe the regions in which the weight or pressure of the atmosphere is great, light or small. These are called the barometer, which used to measure this weight, will register 30 inches under normal conditions of the atmosphere. When it registers more than this, say 30.5 or 31, the pressure is "high;" when 29.5 or 29, "low." In this way the height of a column of mercury in a barometer indicates the weight of the atmosphere. In a thermometer, it indicates the temperature.
Low pressures usually mean storm which, rain and rising temperature, les of water, and many other things which make weather forecasting the complicated science that it is. The progress of these "highs" and "lows" across the country.

This progress is caused by the shape of the earth and the well known fact that hot air rises. The tropical sun, in the regions along the equator heats great masses of air, which rise and drift toward the north and south poles.
As the earth revolves from west to east these masses are carried along with it at the same speed. But, as is also well known, the equator revolves much faster than the poles, which are practically stationary. In which the same way as the rim of a wheel revolves faster than the hub. Therefore these masses of air, revolving at the same rate as the equator, begin, as they approach the poles, to move much faster than the earth beneath them.

There is thus a constant movement of the atmosphere from west to east, a movement which becomes more marked the nearer one gets to the poles.
This, of course, does not mean that the wind always blows from the west.
The great current flows in that direction, but surface conditions cause innumerable eddies which are the winds we feel. Into a low pressure area, for instance, the air rushes from every direction. Thus, if the center of the eddy is to the west of us, we will feel an easterly wind as the air rushes toward this center; when the storm has reached and passed us on its easterly way we will have westerly winds.
For this reason it is common to say that west winds mean clear weather.
The air that flows into the low pressure area obviously must go somewhere.
Since it is coming in from every point of the compass, the only available place is up. As it rises it cools and contracts. In the process the moisture it contains is condensed and we have rain. That is, we are likely to can not be stated too emphatically that there are many things to be considered which may make exceptions to the most fundamental rules.
In regard to temperature, everyone has noticed that rain in winter means warm weather, in summer cool weather.
This arises from the fact that heat travels more easily through clear skies than through clouds and moisture. In the daytime heat reaches the earth from the sun, at night it leaves the earth to be absorbed in the atmosphere.
In summer, therefore, when the days are longer than the nights, the earth is being cooled. In consequence the air near the weather and the cooler it is, the heat to travel, the hotter it is. In winter the reverse is true.
The cooling time is longer than the heating, and the clearer it is the colder it grows.
Thus the pressure of the atmosphere is the key to the weather, affecting the direction of the wind, the amount of rain, the temperature, and the day and night. Many things may influence the weather, but when once it has been created, but there are certain general rules based on the principles already outlined. The weather maps tell the forecaster the conditions of the last few days, the telegraph tells him of the conditions at the moment, and with this information he is able to predict the conditions for the immediate future from a standpoint very different to that of the amateur observer, however experienced, who can form an opinion only from the signs visible to his unaided eye.

It may, in fact, be said that no accurate forecasts for more than a few hours in advance are possible unless the prophet is able to study a series of observations covering a wide range of country a few hours after they have been taken. For its weekly forecasts, indeed, the United States weather bureau has reports not only from this country but from abroad and at sea as well.

To Gag Cackle—Thieves Scientific in Pullet Plucking

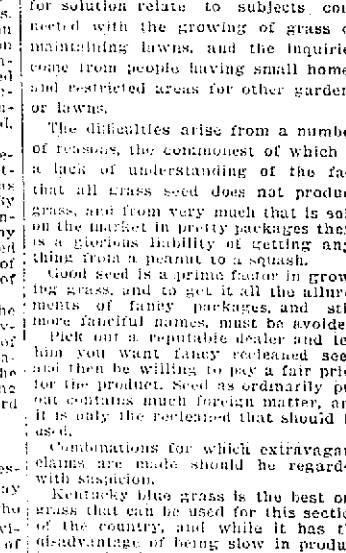

A man out Varnum avenue way has been losing hens and chickens of late and he allows that the chicken thieves are scientific in pullet plucking. He told the police today that he had read about an organized band of chicken thieves operating in the vicinity of Boston, and he believes the gang has found its way to Lowell. The Varnum avenue man calls them "fiddy druggers" and he read, he says, that they use a peculiar drug that makes a starved hen roost as quiet as a grave. The Varnum avenue man told the police that he had been listening for disturbances in his hen house and had remained awake all night to catch the thieves, but, as far as noise was concerned, there was nothing doing. In the morning, however, he would find that a few of his best cockers were missing and there's nothing will knock it out of his head that the thieves use some powerful anesthetic in order that they may raid poultry sheds without fear of the victimized chickens raising an alarm.

FOR LAWN GRASS

Boston Man Who Knows Gives His Opinion on This Matter

Mr. Luke J. Doegane, the well known horticulturist of Boston, gives out the following about the art of keeping good grass or lawns:

About 75 per cent. of the sweetest

In time the rye dies out and in the process of growth the Red Top is overcome by the stronger growing Blue.

It would be an interesting and instructive object lesson to make the following experiment and the result would better convey the force of what has been said.

Get a number of samples of grass seed from several sources and examine each one by spreading it on a piece white paper, or better still, spreading it, inspect it with a magnifying glass. You won't have to be skilled in the work to easily distinguish the great amount of undesirable things that are to be found in grass combinations.

When you have suitable seed the next thing is to prepare the ground. In with the seed, there is much to be said in regard to a proper soil.

Grass plants are the same as other plants. They need good deep soil, rich grass space dig it deep, work in plenty of manure, and if the soil is not good enough make it so. If you already have a lawn the one very necessary orchard has a direct beneficial action and in fact the early spring rolling has a potent influence for good and should never be omitted.

While the spring rolling should be heavy, subsequent rollings should be light even up to frost.

The rolling is necessary for grass seed, but for the seed for grass in Canada hardwood ashes. But, like grass seed, there is much in this fertilizer that should be avoided.

For instance. When you use ashes you want the beneficial effect to be derived from the potash, but you get a high percentage of potash you are wasting the money.

The average ashes on the market will show about a five per cent potash. There are some that will go as low as one per cent, which makes them undesirable.

There again enters the question of the ashes that have been carefully handled are the most desirable and expensive. Spread the ashes on the grass broadcast before a rain, that it will be washed into the soil.

Of the manures, sheep is the best use, but this product is also adulterated with a great deal of dirt.

It would be very gratifying to find that there was some royal road to the eradication of weeds. There are not; weeds have to be dug out.

Always the thought should be kept uppermost in the mind that the best

WARLIKE ATTITUDE

TWO ALLEGED LOVERS TOLD CONFLICTING TALES

Girl Was Assaulted by Lover—
She Claimed He Wanted to Kiss and Make Up—He Testified That She Wanted Him to Marry
Her—Other Court Cases

That the charges were brought only for revenge because he would not marry the complainant and that he did not attempt to make love to her on last Wednesday evening as she alleges, was the defence offered in police court this forenoon by John D. Pomeroy, who was placed on trial before Judge Enright charged with assault and battery upon Mary Louise Lafleur of 8 Howard street, a young lady whom he has known for over 20 years and whom he has escorted to many places on different occasions. When the case was called the defendant pleaded not guilty through his attorney, J. Joseph O'Donnell. Hon. James E. O'Donnell appeared for the prosecution.

After hearing the case, which brought out many amusing incidents, the court decided that there was not enough evidence and he ordered it continued until tomorrow so that another witness could be summoned.

Miss Mary Louise Lafleur, who alleges that she was struck by Pomeroy and pushed to the floor, was the first witness called by Mr. O'Donnell, and she said that the defendant went to her apartments at 8 Howard street last Wednesday afternoon about 5:40 o'clock and demanded an entrance. The witness said that she told him he could not go into the house but he insisted upon getting in and once inside he persistently asked her to kiss him and "make up." She said that he wanted to make love to her and when she told him that she did not want anything more to do with him, he threatened to kill her and struck her on the face, knocking her to the floor. The witness said that she rushed out by the back door and screamed for help and finally secured a Mr. Clapp to go into her house to put the unwelcome visitor out. She stated that when she and Mr. Clapp came back together the young man had gone but that he secured entrance again by breaking a lock.

When cross examined by Lawyer O'Connor, the complainant stated that Mr. Pomeroy had boarded at her house for over eight weeks but left a short time ago. She said that he had no clothes there but came back Wednesday afternoon for the sole purpose of "making up." She claimed that he had asked her to marry him and that he had told some of his friends that he was engaged to her.

Mrs. Julia Levey, of 17 Marshall street, a sister of the complainant, testified that she went to Miss Lafleur's house about 5:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of asking her to go to the store in the evening. She said that she saw Pomeroy strike her sister twice and that the latter picked up a statue to defend herself, but did not throw it at the defendant. She testified that she went out on the street to look for a police officer but returned about three minutes later without finding one. The witness said that she saw the broken lock on the door.

The defendant's story
John D. Pomeroy, the defendant, was called to the witness stand by his attorney and said that he lived in Miss Lafleur's house for over eight weeks, leaving there a short time ago. He stated that when he gave up his room he left a great deal of clothing in a bureau and meeting the complainant on the street a few days ago he told her he would come up for the clothes.

The witness said that when he knocked on the door Wednesday afternoon Miss Lafleur opened it and greeted him by saying, "Dearie, I knew you would come back to me." He said that he told her he wanted nothing but his clothing but she wanted him to sit down and make himself at home.

However, the witness said that this was not agreeable to him and he told the young lady that he wanted his clothes so he could go home to his mother. "When she realized that I meant that I wanted nothing more to do with her," said Mr. Pomeroy, "she rushed at the back door and told a Mr. Clapp that there was some body in her house whom she wanted ejected, and as a result Mr. Clapp came back but did not search the house."

While this was going on the witness said that he was packing his trunk and was about to go out when Miss Lafleur rushed up behind him and said, "Kiss me and let's make up." The defendant was positive that he was at no time willing to be friendly with Miss Lafleur and because of this she picked up a statue and threw it at his head but he dodged and it struck the wall breaking it into a thousand pieces.

The witness showed a note that he claimed he received from the complainant which read in part as follows: "Dear sweethearts—Won't be able to go to stay at home but will see you Monday at 9:30 o'clock. Do not let Walter see you as I got a letter from him last time from him." Miss Lafleur denied that she ever wrote this note.

Under cross examination, Mr. Pomeroy said that he left her boarding house because his mother wanted him to marry her. He admitted that he pushed her once, but only in defence.

Judge Enright ordered the case continued until tomorrow forenoon so that he could hear the testimony of Mr. Clapp, who it is claimed was in the house after the trouble.

FUNSTON AND TROOPS MAY MARCH AGAINST CAPITAL

War Council on Message From Gen. Funston—Huerta Complains Over Landing of More Troops—Preparations for the Mobilization of 60,000 Troops at Vera Cruz—War Department Active

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The Mexican war situation assumed a more warlike attitude today. Activities in the war department, which began last night on the receipt of long confidential advices from Gen. Funston, were renewed through the morning and were brought to the attention of President Wilson when the regular session began at 11 o'clock.

While this activity disclosed that every preparation was being made for eventualities, yet Secretary of War Garrison said just before entering the cabinet meeting that no additional troop movements have been ordered.

Huerta Complains

In the midst of the military preparations came definite word that the mediating efforts had received from Gen. Huerta and submitted to the United States government complaint that new landings of American troops and in long distance telephone communication with the governors of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio in an effort to determine how soon the militia organizations of these states could be mobilized and sent to the seaboard for shipment in transports. The department has been energetic in its efforts to make all preparations for the possible mobilization of troops.

May Delay Mediation

Meantime it was learned from a source close to the mediators that they believe they would be able to persuade Gen. Huerta that the United States has not been violating in spirit at least the armistice, otherwise a stumbling block would be placed in their way which might render virtually useless their further efforts at mediation.

In cooperation with the military preparations for a possible forward movement it became known that the officials of the war department have been in long distance telephone communication with the governors of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio in an effort to determine how soon the militia organizations of these states could be mobilized and sent to the seaboard for shipment in transports. The department has been energetic in its efforts to make all preparations for the possible mobilization of troops.

ALDERMAN CARMICHAEL WILL INCREASE THE WATER RATES

Twenty Per Cent. Reduction Inaugurated by Andrew Barrett Will be Cut in Two—Water and Fire Departments to be Turned Over Temporarily to the Mayor—Fire Commissioner Opposed to Double Platoon Bill for Firemen

The 20 per cent. reduction in water rates is to be reduced to 10 per cent. putting it back where it was before Andrew B. Barrett became commissioner of water works and fire department.

James H. Carmichael, the present commissioner of the water and fire departments, says that to have allowed a 20 per cent. reduction in the water rate was very poor business policy and that the city lost at least $22,000 on account of the reduction last year. Commissioner Carmichael has decided to put the rate back on a ten cent basis and the 20 per cent. reduction will end with the April quarter, so-called. The July quarter will be reckoned on the old 10 per cent. basis and just for that the consumer will have to pay a little more.

Commissioner Carmichael stated today that on Monday morning next he would turn his departments over to Mayor Murphy for a week or ten days. The commissioner and his superintendent, Robert J. Thomas, are going to Philadelphia to attend a meeting of the American Water Works association of which Mr. Thomas is president.

Lowell's Water Problem

Commissioner Carmichael says that while the water problem has not been completely solved, the proposition is not as complicated as it was a few months ago. He says he will present

MAY OFFER GUNMAN'S CONFESSION AT TRIAL

Warden and Chaplain at Sing Sing Who it is Said Heard "Dago Frank" Exonerate Becker Called to Testify—Eleven Jurors Selected

NEW YORK, May 8.—Five jurors were added to the six already in the box after an hour and a half's examination of talesmen today at the trial of Charles Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal. It was considered probable that the list would be completed before today's adjournment.

No mention was made during the early proceedings of the reported move to have W. Bourke Cockran of counsel for the defense held in contempt of court for a remark attributed to him. He had been quoted as saying:

"It is not a trial; it is an assassination."

Mr. Cockran was not in court. Whether he had permanently withdrawn from the case was not announced.

Because he had not been allowed to receive his wife in the Tombs Becker came into the courtroom a half hour before the forenoon session opened to talk to her. The pair drew away from others in the room and talked in low tones.

The panel was exhausted shortly before one o'clock and adjournment was taken until 2:30 and a new panel of 100 talesmen was summoned. Only one seat in the box was vacant when the recess was taken.

"DAGO FRANK" CONFESSION

NEW YORK, May 8.—The third session of one hundred of the three hundred talesmen drawn for the second trial of Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, charged with having instigated the murder of Herman Rosenthal, began today when the third day's session began. Meanwhile, another panel of one hundred names was being drawn at the order of Justice Seabury. This will make a total of 300 talesmen, 50 more than were drawn for the first Becker trial. From the remaining 250 talesmen it was expected that the six vacant seats in the jury box would be filled and that District Attorney Charles S. Whitman would make his opening address on Monday at the latest and possibly tomorrow. Progress reports for the defense yesterday subpoenaed Warden Cliney and the Rev. William Coshin, the Catholic chaplain at Sing Sing prison. This action gave rise to the supposition that the "eleventh hour confession" of "Dago Frank" Crolic, in which the condemned gunman was credited with having declared that Becker had nothing to do with the murder of Rosenthal, will be offered in evidence. Crolic made this statement, it has been stated, in the presence of the warden, Father Coshin, and his mother and sister, only a few minutes before he was led to the chair. Whether or not the confession will be admitted is problematical. It was not written nor signed and to be of value to the defense it would have to be proved by those who heard it and even at that event it might not be admissible unless held by the court to be a dying declaration. District Attorney Whitman, it is known, will contest the admission of the confession.

In view of the order of the commissioner of corrections denying Becker the privilege of consultation with counsel except in his cell, District Attorney Whitman has arranged for a room in the criminal courts building where the accused, his wife and counsel may meet during recesses and after adjournments. The action on the part of the commissioner of corrections followed the receipt of a petition complaining of conditions in the Tombs which was characterized as a plot to discredit the prison administration, Becker, according to the alleged confession of a fellow prisoner, was leader of the movement.

AMONG THE TOILERS

Workmen are busily engaged tearing down the old chimney at the Prescott mill.

The Lawrence hockey baseball team will open their schedule Saturday on the South common.

Joe Powers, the popular conductor, who is vice president of the Carpenters' union, was a very active worker at the complimentary party last evening.

"Bert" Chandler, a prominent young man, employed at the Harvard brewery, has accepted a lucrative position in New York with a large contracting firm.

The machinists were shown in what high esteem they are held last night at their annual ball, "Joe" Quinn, the hustling business agent, was the busiest man in the hall.

The tools that were reported stolen from a local carpenter, who is a member of the Carpenters' union, have not as yet been recovered. The police are doing everything in their power to locate them.

The many friends of Miss Theresa Gargan will be pleased to learn that she has returned to work in the Bay State mills after being confined to her home with a severe illness.

Harry Turner, who is employed at the Merrimack mills, will start on an extensive motor-cycle trip visiting the most interesting parts of the New England and middle Atlantic states. He expects to leave Lowell June 1 and return in time for the Fourth.

Mr. Owen Cox has accepted a lucrative position with a big contracting firm in New York. Mr. Cox has been employed at the Harvard brewery as a first class machinist. He will leave today to assume his new duties.

Dalen Snow, employed at the Boston and Maine car shops suffered a painful injury today when he fell, breaking a bone in his right hand. He was attended by Dr. Farhan the company's physician.

Peter Rogers who is the assistant superintendent of the Muskataquid mills, is a young man who has risen to the position which he now holds, by a lot of hard work and study. He says any young man can do the same thing with a little hard work and study.

The unions that will meet tonight are as follows: Electric Employees of local 551, in Russell building. Electrical Workers at 197 Central street. Lowell Plasterers, No. 45, at 32 Middle street. Patternmakers League of North America, in Odd Fellows hall, 54 Middlesex street.

Michael Corrigan and William Shea of the Machinists' union have accepted lucrative positions with the Harvard brewery. They are employed setting up machinery in the new bottling house which the company has erected.

The American Window Cleaning Co. is busy cleaning the windows of the Mass. Mills. They have just finished cleaning the windows of the Prescott mill. This is a job that used to be considered a very hard one, but with the modern appliances it is comparatively easy.

Sit down, you're rocking the boat. This is Joe McVey's advice to John O'Neil who is somewhat of a shark at the little pastime called pool. Both are contestants for the pool championship, which is being held by the M. T. I. at their hall. Don't forget your "cue," Joe, and have at him. Both are prominent moulders.

Conductor Geo. Clark was the "idol" at the complimentary party held by the Street Railway Carpenters' union last evening. George is the heavy hitter of the baseball team and distinguished himself in the afternoon by slugging the ball all over the lot in the game with the Lawrence aggregation of carmen.

There has been a lot of talk about forming a baseball league among the local unions. Surely there is some good material in these organizations and a "league" would do a whole lot toward promoting friendliness between the different members. The painters, machinists and carpenters have already signified their intention of joining the "labor league" if the other unions "come across." Games would be played Saturday afternoons. The members of the other unions should select committees to confer with these unions, already favoring the idea, or address Albert C. Burke, recording secretary of the Painters' union.

The members will meet every Saturday afternoon in the future and practice running, jumping, baseball, etc., in order to get in trim for the coming field day with the Painters' union of Lawrence. There is some good athletic material among the members, and last year they succeeded in capturing a large silver shield, the big prize offered at the annual tournament between the Lawrence, Haverhill and Lowell unions. In order to hold the trophy they must be returned the winners in two successive meets. This they feel confident of doing.

The business agent, George E. Field, told the members that he is receiving quite a few out-of-town calls from contractors, but was unable to fill the demand as the painters are all steadily employed in Lowell.

The officers of this popular organization are as follows: Charles E. Dane, president; Irving L. Lawyer, vice president; William A. De Long, treasurer; William E. Grant, financial secretary; Albert C. Burke, recording secretary; business agent, Geo. E. Field.

News of the Saco-Lowell Shops

When asked by a Sun representative today how business was, Agent Blake replied that everything remains a little bit dull, but added optimistically that it could be a great deal worse at this time of the season, when business is naturally dull all over the country.

Painters' Union Met

The Painters' union held a well attended meeting in Carpenters' hall, last evening with President Charles E. Dane presiding.

Business of importance was transacted. Eight new members were admitted into the union and two applications for membership were received. The present condition of the union is the best it has enjoyed since its organization in 1900. The Painters' union was the first of the many unions in Lowell to get the nine and eight-hour day. For this they were presented a handsome banner by the Trades and Labor council. At the time of its organization the wages of the painters was $1.75 a day for ten hours. The wages paid at the present time are $3 per day and they work but 44 hours a week.

At the last meeting it was voted to put the "button system" in force instead of the old-time card.

Want Eight-Hour Day

The Brockton Cutters' union, B. & S. W. U., is out in earnest for the establishment of an eight-hour work day, says the Brockton Times. The Brockton Shoe Manufacturers association has received the required 60 days' no-

White House Wedding

and the society of the national capitol had no part in the affair. Most of the guests were intimate friends of the family from other cities. Secretary McAdoo gave a luncheon to his colleagues in the cabinet attended also by Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N. His hostess, Mrs. Grayson, was a woman of many parts, Secretary Tamm and Vice President Marshall. It was a jovial company, speech-making and witty toasts, especially by Mr. Marshall, keeping the group in a continuous roar of laughter. The president and Mrs. Wilson motored with their three daughters. During the early evening small crowds peered through the fences and iron gates, but saw only the procession of carriages and automobiles as they brought the guests or took them away.

The Presbyterian single ring service was held, with the characteristic words "love, honor and obey." As the president gave the bride away there was an affectionate smile on his face. He stepped back from the altar beside Mrs. Wilson, and as the words of the service were read their faces grew grave. The bride and groom repeated the service unflinchingly. They smiled happily as they led the procession from the altar to the Red Room, where they received the congratulations of the guests.

Supper was served at small tables in the gate dining room, while the Marine band played. The bride cut the wedding cake with Dr. Grayson's sword, the young people had a dance in the Blue Room and suddenly Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo slipped into a waiting automobile and motored rapidly down

Executive Avenue. They will be away on their honeymoon about two weeks and will not go abroad as has been reported. The secretary expects to keep in close touch with the work of his office.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The bridal gown of Miss Eleanor Wilson, daughter of the president, who yesterday became Mrs. William G. McAdoo, wife of the secretary of the treasury and some of the other guests of her wedding reception, were authoritatively described after the ceremony of yesterday had been concluded.

The bridal gown was made of ivory white satin and trimmed with real old point lace. This charming creation was the principal part of a trousseau made by Fifth Avenue modistes. The bodice was entirely covered with satin which crosses in front and is brought to a point below the shoulder, front and back. The V-shaped neck is finished with folds of soft tulle. The long transparent tulle of tulle which reaches to the side of the skirt at the train. The long sweeping train is three and a half yards in length. A cap effect of tulle especially executed with orange blossoms and long draped veil was very effective.

Real Old Point Lace
Much interest was shown in the real old point lace used on the gown. It is a masterpiece and a work of art. It is lace making. Unique in design and perfect in execution. It is said this famous art-treasure, which is in part of a world-famous collection, may find its place as an antique in a national collection.

The three-piece going away dress was made of corbeau blue gabardine. The coat is of corbeau blue charmeuse and gabardine. The front and upper part of back of coat is of charmeuse. The back is gathered at collar. The three-quarter sleeve of gabardine is topped with the blue charmeuse. Edge of sleeve is bound with a flat black silk braid. Soft giraffe of gabardine ending in front with oval charmeuse buckle.

The bodice is dark blue chiffon over white. It has braided straps of gabardine over the shoulders, with twelve rows of braid over belt of blue gabardine. White organdie vestee and collar edge with a rose and green flowered narrow ribbon, fastened in front by three ribbon buttons. Long blue sleeves over white chiffon ending in a wide cuff of 16 rows of narrow black braid.

The short skirt of gabardine with three circular flounces starting at knee of skirt. These are fastened at back with a strap of gabardine, buckled to which are four small black silk tassels. Between the flounces, vertical charmeuse, to which they are attached, showing about one inch of charmeuse between each flounce. Flounces and bottom of skirt edged with black silk braid.

Rose and Silver Gown

A rose and silver evening gown is made of rose pink satin d'amoire and rose tulle. Satin bodice ending in points at shoulders (surplice effect) and edged with silver braid around arm holes. Pink rose and bud posed below left shoulder. Large flesh color net butterfly bow at back, attached to points at shoulders. Silver shadow lace, form flowing sleeves. Skirt of rose pink satin d'amoire veiled with tulle of shadow silver lace from which flows long overskirt of rose color tulle. Silver lace continued down front and makes a slight pointed train at back.

Ciel blue brilliant peau de faulle gown with bodice of self color blue silk net which veils bands of silver embroidered lace across the front. Around neck and down front of bodice ending at waist line a (bias) band of peau de faulle where they meet, they are finished off with a single natural rose bouquet. Japanese collar—below collar a fulness is gathered, which falls softly to waist line. Net sleeves, gathered at elbow with silver thread, making a soft ruffle effect. Silver embroidered motifs on sides of soft folded skirt. Skirt—flat puff tulle effect at back. Front of skirt shirred long drape, cut blue and a trifle fuller at side, with slight ruffle at bottom.

Waistcoat blue moire, invisible stripes, peau de faulle gown. Watteau blue tulle (self color) bodice, over band of cream lace—two moire peau de faulle straps pleated edge, crossing at back. Underneath the tulle, blue net frill, pique edge around neck. Not showing frills. Blue moire shirred fastened at back with bow and in center of bow a Strauss buckle set in silver, triangular shape and having a blue stone in center. Skirt, long tulle of blue net over fulness. Watteau blue moire skirt, blue de faulle skirt. Bottom of skirt scalloped. Back of net tulle falls in folds veiled with transparent draperies.

White crepe crepe embroidered in Vieux Rose and gray silk done in pattern resembling wheat. The bodice is white and rose china buttons to match embroidery. Long kimono sleeve of plain white crepe with band of Vieux rose moire silk on cuff which has three buttons on each side. The collar is of rose moire over which is a leaf de-lace frills around the V-shaped neck. sign of white silk lace.

The skirt has two bias hemstitched ruffles of plain white. Crepe crepe, piped with rose moire silk. Around the waist there is a sash of wide rose moire ribbon—at the side back a large bow of same. Peterine (tempe) made of ender blue cheviot cloth, crossing in front with two sash ends which wind around body and tie in front or back. Padded high at neck, standing collar. Blue satin lining. Two inside lining pockets.

Mrs. Garrison, wife of the secretary of war, wore black and white chiffon draped over white satin, with smart touches achieved by French blue ribbon holding the part of the skirt, drape and also showing on the bodice, where rhinestone buckles held the soft sign of white silk lace. Mrs. Redfield, wife of the secretary of commerce, wore a summer silk costume, white with half stripes in mauve. It is trimmed with silver lace.

Mrs. Wilson, wife of the secretary of labor, wore gray crepe-de-chine, and Mrs. Agnes Hart Wilson had a blue satin costume with touches of orange velvet and lace in the trimming.

MINISTER TO HAITI

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Announcement was made at the state department yesterday that Arthur Baileys Blanchard, secretary, who has been selected as minister to Haiti to succeed Madison R. Smith, resigned, will take up his new duties as soon as he can close his affairs in the Orient and return to the United States.

How to Overcome a Bad Constipation

There is a Mild Laxative That Will Bring Safe and Pleasant Relief Over Night

It is only natural that the simplest of ailments should be the most general, and so we have a whole nation suffering from constipation and indigestion, for they are closely allied. But common as constipation is many people do not seem to know they have it. They will complain of headache, drowsiness or biliousness, all unconscious of the cause of the trouble.

You should have a full and free movement at least once a day. If you pass a day you are constipated, and the result will be that you will catch a cold easily or have a more serious ailment. To cure the constipation and forestall still graver trouble take a dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at night before retiring and by morning relief will come, without disturbing the system or any inconvenience. Legions of people use it regularly in such emergencies, some of them formerly chronic invalids who had suffered from constipation all their lives. Mrs. N. Prantz, of Eighth St., Salem, Ohio, took Pepsin for years, and worst of all, without much avail. Finally, she began to take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and today she is no longer troubled and eats what she likes. Many others will tell you that they have tried most things recommended for this purpose but have found Syrup Pepsin the only one always reliable. A bottle can be obtained at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter size being bought by families already familiar with its merits. Syrup Pepsin is mild, pleasant-tasting and non-gripping. Mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet it is effective in grownups. It is for everyone who suffers from any form of stomach, liver or bowel trouble, constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, etc. Its action will so delight you that you will forever avoid harsh cathartics, purgatives, pills and salts. Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 413 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

MEXICAN WAR HISTORY

The Start, the Finish, the Battles and the Result — Large Territory Added

Sixty-eight years ago this month the United States precipitated war with Mexico, which continued from April 23, 1846, until September, 1847, and added 551,590 square miles of territory, exclusive of Texas, to this country, an area nine times as large as the state of Nebraska.

The southwestern boundary line of Texas, whether the Rio Grande or the river Nueces, was the primary cause of the war, but back of it was the stimulus of "manifest destiny," the acquisition of New Mexico and California and the spur for revenge for the massacre of the Alamo. President Polk assumed the right to decide upon Rio Grande as the boundary without Mexico's consent.

Zachary Taylor was a general of the American forces in that day. He was a Virginian who had served in the war of 1812 and in the Black Hawk, Seminole and various other Indian wars with distinction, and later became president.

He was ordered by Polk to march westward of the Nueces. This was before annexation was accomplished. The president thus put peace in peril. Texas had claimed the Rio Grande as the boundary, but the land between it and the Nueces had never been in possession.

Taylor marched, according to orders, to the Rio Grande. He reached it at what is now known as Brownsville. Arrived there, he planted a battery which commanded the public square or plaza in Matamoros, Mexico, across the river. He likewise blockaded the mouth of the stream.

The Mexican commander at Matamoros naturally held that this was beginning hostilities. So he crossed over the river April 23, 1846, and his forces had a skirmish with a small force of our men. In it sixteen of our dragoons were killed.

The president then notified congress that American blood had been spilled on American soil. And the war was begun.

We were unready, of course, but the war went on. Taylor commanded in northern Mexico. He won the battle of Palo Alto, May 8, 1846, and that of Resaca de la Palma the next day, and about nine days later he took Matamoros. Monterey he captured September 21 and he defeated Santa Anna at Buena Vista in a two-day fight, Washington's birthday and the day after, 1847. For this he won rank as major general.

Meanwhile, Winfield Scott, another American commander, had been carrying on a campaign south of this territory, striking at the heart of the enemy's country.

Scott was the finest looking man in the army. There were those who said he was more majestic than Washington. At all events he was an excellent soldier.

Scott was general-in-chief in Mexico. He had 8,500 men. Santa Anna, his opponent, had 12,000.

Scott landed his force at Vera Cruz. There our navy helped him by pegging away at the ancient fort of San Juan de Ulua, which had made much trouble for Hawkins and some of the other old-time free-bourgeois. Scott put his men ashore by means of surfboats. On March 27 he had them in motion, and moreover somewhat increased his force by drawing on Taylor.

The theatre of war now changed to the line between Vera Cruz and the capital.

This position was flanked April 18 and attacked by three columns. Two divisions of Twiggs and North went up to the heights gallantly. Here Santa Anna commanded in person, but the heights were carried by storm and his guns turned on another part of the field that Polk was assaulting. The Mexicans didn't care for much of that sort of thing and soon surrendered. Santa Anna, for his part, fled to Jalapa, with Scott in pursuit. The latter fought well enough, but Santa Anna beat him—in the running.

A month or so after this fight at Cerro Gordo the Americans occupied Puebla. Here Scott was compelled to wait during June and July to receive reinforcements and to drill them.

August 7 he set out for the capital, which by this time was defended by some 20,000 men.

A series of engagements followed this movement. August 19 and 20 three battles were fought, namely, those of Contreras, Churubusco and San Antonio. These were really parts of one general engagement.

Let it not be imagined for a moment that the Mexicans did not fight. They fought here with bravery and stubbornness. But in the end they were completely routed. Pursuit of them reached to the very gates of their capital.

The fortifications of the capital were known as Molino del Rey, Casa Mata and Chapultepec. They were considered formidable.

September 7 an armistice terminated. Negotiations falling, Scott prepared to move on these works. September 8 he attacked.

Santa Anna was in command here. He was an old campaigner. He had commanded Mexico with some intermissions for twenty years. He drew up his forces with the right on Casa Mata and the left on Molino del Rey.

Both these positions were carried by assault and the Mexicans driven from the field.

The next two days were given to the assault of Chapultepec. Batteries were planted on both sides for this purpose, and September 13 a simultaneous assault was made.

The American troops at the same time stormed the fortresses. The works were carried and the enemy fled in confusion.

The American army pursued them along the causeway of Telem and San Cosme, fighting to the gates of the city.

Here the enemy stood and made desperate resistance. The struggle lasted till midnight.

That night our men rested on their arms. Early the next morning a detachment of the enemy arrived asking for terms. They were refused and the divisions of North and Quitman entered the city.

There was street fighting, however, for two days before the Americans secured possession of the city.

Negotiations now were renewed. There was guerrilla warfare a while longer, but the principal towns were surrendered by our troops and our men carried on the government. February 2 a treaty of peace was signed and ratifications were exchanged a month or two later.

In his "Dictionary of United States History," J. Franklin Jamieson says: "The war was plainly one of unjust aggression on a minor power, with the object of winning more territory for new slave states."

SCHUMANN-HEINK TALKS
CINCINNATI, May 8.—"My infatuated little man—no, a mother of eight and a grandmother to six—me in love with a boy? Ach, himmel!" said Mme. Schumann-Heink, the noted songstress of two continents, as she poised for a moment between laughter and tears as her sense of humor came to her rescue. So she took it in laughter.

Then she went on to explain how everyone who knows her will, she is sure, understand how very ridiculous is the charge brought in Chicago late yesterday in the divorce court of the Windy City by her husband in private life, William Heink, Jr., that she was infatuated with a "young man," a policeman, when her son, Henry, had introduced to her with the statement that the young New Jersey arm of the law had a wonderful voice.

The policeman is one of Madame's proteges. He is attending the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor at her expense and after he is graduated he will be trained for the concert stage, she said yesterday. Mme. Schumann-Heink is living apart from her husband. The statement involving the policeman was made in an answer to her petition for divorce. It is stated not under oath. Rapp charges his wife brought the policeman to her home in Chicago, and there was familiar with him. Madame is one of the soloists at the Cincinnati May festival, now in progress here.

"Of course, I did," said Schumann-Heink, emphatically, "and why not? I have a small palace in Chicago. This boy is a protegee of mine. He comes to Chicago. I invite him out. What is more natural? But he is only one of many young singers I am able to help."

OBSERVE THE 38TH ANNIVERSARY

Angel Guardian Society
to Have Special Service

At St. Joseph's Church
With a Parade in
Afternoon

Today marks the thirty-eighth anniversary of the founding of the Angel Guardian sodality of St. Joseph's parish, and the observance which will be held on Sunday will consist of a mass at St. Joseph's church in the morning and a parade and church service in the afternoon.

The members of the sodality, over 200, will assemble at St. Joseph's college in Merrimack street at 7 o'clock Sunday morning and headed by the two companies of the A. G. Cadets and the Cadets brass band and bugle and drum corps, will proceed to St. Joseph's church in Lee street, where at 7:30 o'clock they will attend mass. The boys will receive holy communion in a body and will listen to an interesting sermon by the spiritual director, Rev. Joseph Denis, O. M. I. At the close of the mass the line of parade will be re-formed and the young men will return to the college hall where it is probable they will partake of a hearty breakfast.

In the afternoon at 1 o'clock they will again assemble at the school hall and parade to the church by way of Merrimack, Kirk and Lee streets, where at 1:30 o'clock a special service will be held, consisting of the recitation of the rosary, a sermon by the spiritual director, a short instruction by the rector of the church, Rev. C. A. Paquette, O. M. I., and the reception of 20 new members. The service will close with benediction.

The parade will then form in Lee street and will proceed, through the following streets: Kirk, Merrimack, Moody, Allen, Hall, Tucker, Cheever, Pawtucket and Merrimack to the college. The members of the brass band and bugle and drum corps will wear their full regalia and the flags and banners of the sodality will be carried in the parade.

The Angel Guardian sodality was founded on May 8, 1876, by the late Rev. J. A. Fournier, O. M. I., with about 25 members, all boys who had made their first communion. The first president of the sodality was the Very Rev. Honore Constantineau, O. M. I., now provincial of the Oblate order for the south. All boys who had received their first communion were admitted into the organization, and in a short time the membership roll had increased to over 200. The sodality held meetings every second and fourth Sunday of the month and always these meetings were largely attended for the youngsters were always pleased to listen to remarks by their spiritual director, who took special care for their welfare.

On Feb. 26, 1904, when Rev. Victor Vinand, O. M. I., who possessed considerable knowledge of military affairs, was spiritual director of the sodality, he conceived the idea of forming a military corps among the boys and he organized what is known as the A. G. Cadets.

The first officers of the Cadets were the following: Capt. A. Labue, adjutant major; Joseph Maxime Cornille, adjutant major;

REV. JOSEPH DENIS, O. M. I.

Company A was the first organized, with the following officers: Captain, N. Delisle; lieutenant, William Trottier; sergeant, Ernest Gagne; corporals, Ernest Carpentier, Arthur St. Hilaire, Henri Boissonneault, Ovilia Lalline and Tancrode L. Blanchette.

A month later Company B was organized and it was at that time that the Cadets were formed into a battalion. The first officers of Company B were: Capt. Arthur Lamoureux, lieutenant, Arthur L. Eno, Hermas Michaud; sergeants, Eugene Heard, Edmund Belley, Adolphe Bourgeois and Antonio Vigeant; corporals, Arthur Giroux, Alexandre Thibault, Leon Vigeant and Willie Drapeau.

The charter members of the Cadets were as follows: Edgar Brandigan, Arthur Bourque, Joseph E. Gagne, Adolphe Bourgeois, Mederic Boissonneault, Joseph Lamoureux, Emile Vignault, Eugene Allard, Arthur Brunelle, William Bourque, William Vincent, Isidore J. Hien, Ovilia Lalline, Ovilia Leblanc, Horace and Rosaria Lafontaine, Adolphe Payette, Henri Simard, Louis Simard, Joseph Roy, Eugene Corbett, Charles Germain, Henri Boissonneault, Hector Doyon, Francis Thibault, Joseph Ayotte, Louis Trivost, Laurent Phamphion, Frederick Turcotte, Marjorie Gauthier, Joseph Sadeau and Rosario Fontaine.

About three years ago a brass band was organized among the Cadets but for some reason the organization fell through and it was not until a few months ago when Rev. Joseph Denis, O. M. I., was placed at the head of the sodality and guard that the musicians again came to the front. Louis Napoléon Gauthier, organist at St. Marc's church, was appointed conductor and under his training and that of Fr. Denis the boys made rapid progress. The band made its first appearance in the streets of Lowell at the funeral of the late Rev. Joseph LeBlanc, O. M. I., and again last Sunday when it turned out to escort the Holy Family sodality on its annual pilgrimage to Notre Dame de Lourdes church, when they donned their new uniforms for the first time.

The officers of the band are as follows: Arthur Gionet, president; Joseph Rousseau, vice president; Leo Giroux, secretary; Frank Theriault, treasurer. The members are: Joseph Aubert, Armand Dupont, Eugene Cloutier, Ernest L'Heroux, Arthur McInnis, Conrad Vigeant, Anathase Marquis, Wilfrid Dalgic, Joseph Bergeron, Hector Lathie, Arthur Gionet, Frank Theriault, Leo Giroux, Alphonse Roux, George Biron, Joseph Rousseau, Albert Gionet, Oscar Lincoy, Arthur L'Heroux, Arthur Biron, Arthur Labrecque, Emile Boagness, Leon Champagne, Horace Bergeron and Leon Gionet.

The spiritual directors of the Angel Guardian sodality were as follows: Rev. J. A. Fournier, O. M. I., Rev. Dr. Geny, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Pelletier, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Marion, O. M. I., Rev. D. N. Forget, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. St. Hilaire, O. M. I., Rev. Victor Vinand, O. M. I., Rev. Guillaume L'Heroux, O. M. I., Rev. Charles Denize, O. M. I., Rev. Jerome Diss, O. M. I., and Rev. Joseph Denis, O. M. I.

The president officers of the sodality are Rev. Joseph Denis, O. M. I., spiritual director; Leo Giroux, president; Joseph Aubert, Jr. and Ernest L'Heroux, vice presidents; Antonio Boissonneault, Louis Lachapelle and Arthur Labrecque, secretaries; Rev. Joseph Denis, O. M. I., treasurer; Joseph Bergeron and Hervé Perron, bag bearers; Hervé Drapeau, Arthur L'Heroux, Conrad Vigeant, Arthur Lemire, Victor Bachelot and Albert Gionet, directors.

Arthur Lamoureux, who has had considerable military experience at the high school, is in command of the A. G. Cadets' battalion and under his command the young soldiers are being well trained. Three years ago they won first prize at a military tournament in Manchester, N. H., and now the organization is affiliated with the French-American Brigade of the United States.

EFFECT OF THE TARIFF

IN CANADA BY DEPLETING THE
SUPPLY, SAYS FISHER

In a recent address to the Canadian club of Montreal, Hon. Sydney Fisher, former minister of agriculture, made some shrewd remarks, which are worthy of attention, on the prices of food products in Canada. One of the causes of the high prices which have prevailed here, in Mr. Fisher's opinion, is the Underwood tariff, which has thrown open the American markets to many Canadian food products. He pointed out that during the last three months of 1912, under the Underwood tariff, we exported to the United States goods to the value of $7,130,000, as compared to $7,316,000 in the corresponding three months of 1912. Of this fifty-seven millions no less than $19,000,000 is represented by ten articles on which the duties were lowered or removed—cattle, horses, oats, cream, print paper, beef, lard, wheat, potatoes and fertilizers. There was practically no increase on any article on which the duty was not lowered or removed, so that the whole increase can fairly be attributed to the Underwood tariff.

The effect of this sudden increase in the outflow of Canadian products could not fail to have an effect on our home market. "Fourteen million dollars' worth more food has left this country," said Mr. Fisher, "and Canada's food supply is restricted to this extent. The additional horses and fertilizer exported will have their effect in depriving the farmer of these valuable helps in the production of food, which will also have its effect on our food supplies." In the opinion of Mr. Fisher the increase in exports is striking. In the last quarter of 1912 the value of the cream exported to the states was $168,000; in the last quarter of 1913 it was $263,000. The result of this drawing off of the cream supply was scarcity of cream, causing a smaller output of butter, which in its turn accounted for the high price of butter during the winter. A good joke on the department of agriculture is the fact that most of the cream delivered last winter at a creamery in the eastern townships run by the department was not used for butter-making at all, but was

These pictures were taken by a war photographer on the outskirts of Vera Cruz. The top view shows a number of marines guarding the Vera Cruz waterworks from the Mexican federals. This point was an important one in the defense of the city from possible attack, as upon the safety of the pumping station depended the water supply of the city's residents and the United States forces. The lower picture shows other marines on guard at a point near the principal railroad entering the city.

And Now We Are Ready for YOU

SINCE having moved into this beautiful new store, twenty months ago, we have striven steadily toward a point that is now attained, namely, complete readiness to take care of the trade of all New England.

Having suddenly expanded so that its selling space was increased about three times, there were many problems to be met and solved. Therefore, instead of attempting to conquer all of New England in the first year and a half, we have bent our energies to the task of meeting rightly the wants of the people of greater Boston.

Now, however, the day has dawned when we feel fully justified in enlarging our scope of activities to include you.

We are fully prepared to supply your apparel needs, whether you visit us in person, order by mail, or telephone to us. In no case will there be any charge for delivery of merchandise to your homes.

The Filene store, unlike any other of its size in the world, concentrates its energies upon the buying and selling of things ready to wear. These are assembled in specialty shops, each group of merchandise being in charge of an expert.

As a result of this specialization we are able to supply many wardrobe needs unobtainable in your local stores.

From those stores we seek to take no business rightfully theirs. On the other hand we feel justified in pointing out to you the many exclusive things to be found in our scores of specialty shops—shops the aim of which is to make it easy for you to dress differently from your neighbor.

Another prime aim of the Filene plan of shop-keeping is economy. Below is an example of the money-saving opportunities abounding here:

shipped to the states and sold at a high price. The effects, so far as the consuming population is concerned, are much worse than reciprocity could have been. If the reciprocity agreement had gone through, we would be getting some classes of food products at lower prices than those which we are now obliged to pay. Chemical analysis of an ordinary cup of coffee shows that it contains about 2 1-2 grains of the drug caffeine.

By actual test the U. S. Government demonstrated that 5 grains of caffeine (the amount in 2 cups of coffee) were sufficient to kill a rabbit.

Of course, human beings are stronger than rabbits, but there are few people who can drink coffee regularly without sooner or later feeling the effects of caffeine poisoning, commonly shown in headache, indigestion, biliousness, sleeplessness, heart agitation and other ills.

Thousands of people, tired of coffee troubles, have found relief by changing to

Highway Surveyor Twombly Has Big Program of Roadwork—Memorial Day Celebration

Highway Surveyor Edgar E. Twombly of Billerica is making arrangements to repair the main thoroughfares of the North village and men are now at work cleaning the macadam streets in preparation to the spraying of tar oil which will be done immediately. According to present plans over a mile of streets will be put in first class condition at once and others will be never since that time have they been given as good a cleaning as they are getting now.

In order to do this work thoroughly it was necessary to hire a street sweeper from the city of Lowell and this was done over the streets twice, so that very little refuse remains on Billerica's highways. When the sweeping is completed and the dirt has been carried away a machine to spread tar oil will be secured and each street that has been scraped will be sprayed with the tar oil.

At present it is planned to start the work at Fordway bridge and go over Wilson, Paulkner and Carleton streets as far as the Boston & Maine depot, and return via Elm street to Talbot avenue. Later work will be started to improve the condition of Talbot avenue and then the hearts of automobilists will be made happy when they strike the Billerica thoroughfares.

After the streets are in condition Highway Surveyor Twombly will appoint Christopher Walker of North Billerica "sparrow man" and then it will be left in his hands to keep them in A 1 condition.

The selection of Billerica are awaiting the decision of the county commissioners relative to the new state road between Billerica and Burlington and it is expected that something definite will be done soon. Billerica has appropriated the sum of $2500 provided the county and state appropriate similar amounts and if a favorable report is made work of building this road will be started immediately and will probably be completed during the summer months.

Another New Road

The residents of Billerica and Carlisle have petitioned the board of county commissioners for a public highway to be built between Chelmsford road, Billerica and Maple street, Carlisle, at or about where a private way now lies through the land of George E. French and Frank Green in Carlisle, and land of the Jenkins heirs, Billerica. This matter will undoubtedly be taken up at the next meeting of the commission.

Old Fellows to Parade

The North Billerica Lodge of Odd Fellows, Manchester Unity, are making elaborate preparations for a class initiation on the evening of Thursday, May 21, when a uniform rank will be instituted in North Billerica. It is planned to have a number of interesting lodge of Lowell present as guests and a special program will be carried out. Arrangements are also to be made to have a full dress parade before the meeting with the members of Integrity lodge and also a number of grand officers from Boston taking part.

Memorial Day Celebration

Plans are being made by the various patriotic organizations of the town for a Memorial day celebration and the day will undoubtedly be observed in the usual appropriate way. At noon the Civil war veterans, the Sons of Veterans, Ladies of the F. A. R. will converge on the common at the center and journey to the cemetery in North Billerica where there will be placed on the graves of the dead comrades with appropriate exercises. On their return to the town hall there will be an address and patriotic songs will be sung. A dinner will also be served by the Ladies of the G. A. R.

New Steam Roller

The board of selectmen has not yet spent the $2000 which was appropriated to purchase a new steam roller for the exclusive use of the town. At the annual meeting the board was given permission to select any make it desired and although several have been looked at the members have been unable to agree upon any particular type.

Carshops Quite Busy

Building work has been begun in Billerica on the houses in which the employees of the Boston & Maine repair shops are to live. Land developing companies have located in different sections of both North Billerica and the Centre and it is believed that within another year there will be houses enough in Billerica for all the workmen who care to live there.

From present indications the houses will be pleasant, home-like structures, a neat type of a cottage designed to accommodate one family, and each will have ample space on its sides and in the rear for lawns and gardening. Several varieties of construction are represented in the different sections and this alone goes a long way toward making the appearance of the houses very attractive.

Peddlers the houses that are now being built plans are being made to erect stores as soon as the population requires it. That the storekeepers will do a thriving business is almost certain as Billerica is growing and the building work now in evidence is on the outskirts of the town and the few stores are located together in the hearts of both villages.

The board of trade is still hoping to establish a co-operative bank in the town but as yet the necessary number of shareholders have not been secured. However, it is only a matter of time before this will be a reality and it has been stated that one of Lowell's institutions may establish a branch so that the employees who live in Billerica will not be subjected to the inconvenience of coming to Lowell to deposit their earnings.

Everything is being rapidly rushed along at the Boston & Maine repair shops and the thousand men now employed in the different departments are busy overhauling locomotives and repairing passenger cars, etc. As yet no freight car repairing has been done at Billerica shops and this will probably be done in Concord, N. H., and Fitchburg for some time at least. The number of men employed at the passenger car shop is increasing weekly and now fourteen coaches are attached to the working train which carries the employees back and forth to this city daily.

AT THE CAPITAL

Women Plan for a Big Suffrage Demonstration There Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, May 8.—With but a day remaining before they will march on congress and demand the passage of a constitutional amendment enfranchising women, suffragists from all over the United States were prepared today for their final charge. Everything is in readiness for the demonstration.

Although no estimate has been made of the number of women who will take part in the parade, it was said today that it would surpass previous demonstrations here.

When the marchers reach the capitol they will be met by a committee composed of senators and representatives in congress.

The parade will have the youngest suffragette in the world in line. Announcement was made today that Sheilagh Stone, daughter of Representative Claudius F. Stone of Illinois, would ride with her mother in the procession tomorrow. She is six weeks old and has been suckled as a member of the Congressional union, which is conducting the demonstration.

PERJURY IN FRANK CASE

ATLANTA, Ga., May 8.—It was announced yesterday that Judge B. P. Hill of the superior court, who yesterday denied a new trial to Leo M. Frank, under sentence for killing Mary Phagan, a factory girl, will instruct the grand jury which begins its sessions May 18, to investigate charges of perjury, coercion and intimidation of witnesses made against each other by both sides in the famous murder case.

USE OF PRISON LABOR

The taking of testimony in the strike situation at the H. W. and Brothers and Wakefield company, at Wakefield, by members of the state board of arbitration and arbitration continued yesterday morning and afternoon, and bids fair to continue for several days to come. The only change in the situation itself was the presence of only about 100 workmen in the factory, as against approximately twice that number Monday.

Officers of the company yesterday declined to say whether or not the factory is to close tomorrow, as was rumored in the town yesterday.

The witnesses at yesterday's sessions of the hearing, which were held in the town hall, were from the strikers' ranks. The company has not yet put on any witnesses, nor has its representative at the hearing, Fred M. Cleveland, participated in the questioning or discussions.

Edward Dulone, yesterday testified that changes in the style of chairs made at the factory requiring more work had not been accompanied by increases in pay, so that it was not possible for men to make as much a week now as they could make 10 years ago.

He estimated the average wage for his work to amount to about $12, as against $14 for the same amount of labor 10 years ago.

Several other strikers corroborated Dulone's testimony.

Henry Thwaites, an official of a local labor union, charged that the company is having work done at the Salem jail, although it is alleged, employees' petitions for increased wages had been met with the reply that the company could not grant the increases because it was in competition with the prison labor of other northern states.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

When a man marries he has to be very careful that the wife's disposition is one he can stand day in and day out for years and the same thing applies to the opposite sex. There are certain people who bring out all that is bad in another person's character and others who bring out all that is good. And sometimes a man has such a disposition that he ought to go off somewhere alone and stay for the rest of his natural life. Just such a character is George Spinnery, the name of the leading character in the new real Pathe feature, "Victims of Vanity." At the Opera House today. Intensely selfish, quick-tempered and proud, he is most interesting and one that every man, woman and child can follow the thread of the story and understand the moral lesson it teaches.

DAVID WARFIELD

"It's the public that makes stars, not the managers," says David Warfield, who comes to the Lowell Opera House on Monday evening, May 11, in "The Auctioneer." "And now that I've gotten back to the part that brought me out as a star 12 years ago, I realize that more than I ever did before, I didn't jump into stardom, but on the other hand, I stood and looked over the bars into the promised land for a long time. During that time I was approached by three managers, who assured me that they would be the making of me. But I didn't want to be made too soon, and I felt that I wasn't ready to be counted among the stars yet. What's more, I wanted to be sure of my own before I jumped. When Helason finally came along, he looked like the right man to me, though he had no theatre at that time, and only a small room for an office. After all, becoming a star is largely a matter of business, and an actor who has an eye out for the main chance is not unlike the clerk who feels he has the right to open a store of his own. But an 'opening' doesn't make a star; it is always the public that decides the fate of an enterprise. "Twelve years ago when I first faced the public as a star in 'The Auctioneer' I felt like hiding behind the counter in old Levi's shop. I almost died before I came on the stage the first night. But the public gave me a hand and pulled me through. I was ambitious and believed I could do something more, then the bias of burlesque I had been doing, but without the help of the public, I would have been lost that very first night. Believe me when I say that the larger side of the theatre is on the public, by the mysterious, unspoken message it sends across to the actor, telling him whether he is a success or a failure. There's no getting away from

"Flunder's Furnished Flat," playing at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, is based on an actual happening in the life of Willard Simms, who plays the leading character. Simms once attempted to paper the room of his house. He didn't have to do it, but he had believed paperhanging to be nothing of a trade. Naturally enough he had a peek of trouble and got badly mixed up with the paper and the paste. In later years Simms thought the idea good enough for a vaudeville skit, and worked it into one. The result is the very funny act which is one of the hits of the week's bill. "The Big Surprise," played by Margaret Sawtelle only and company of eight persons is a neat piece of cabinet work, with not one surprise but a half dozen of them. Martini and Maximilian in their burlesque on magic are another team dealing in funny things. The assistant to the magician is a born comedian, who, by spoiling all of the tricks, gets many a laugh. Martini and Martini, club jugglers and swingers, are among the speediest performers in their line ever seen here. Other acts on the bill are Lewis & Young, Wills & Fisher, Claude Raul and the Pathe Weekly. Phone 25.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Theatre folk of Lowell are enthusiastic in their praise of the work of the Merrimack Square theatre players in "The Divorce Question," William Anthony McGuire's wonderfully interesting play. Never before have the men here been given such opportunity to display their unusual talent, and they are making the most of their chances. Stewart Wilson and Miss Malvern are especially good, while Mr. Weeks and Mr. Stevens are equally as good. See the play and learn the lesson it teaches. It is worth while. For the week commencing May 16, the presentation will be Channing Pollock's four-act drama, "The Little Gray Lady," a play without a hero, but filled with pathos and interesting situations. Telephone in advance and have your seats reserved. It costs no more.

THE KASINO
Lest you forget, the Kasino is now at its best, with Silver's famous orchestra engaged for the summer. The conditions on Thorndike hill are ideal for dancing. Although practically all of the country are of the opinion that the Kasino is elevated and it is surrounded by greenery which contributes to its pleasures. Every night and on Saturday afternoon, the Kasino is at your disposal.

Arrival of the Fifth brigade of United States regulars, with a number of marines, at Vera Cruz is shown in the picture. The soldiers and marines are deploying on the wharf at Vera Cruz after the arrival of the transports bearing them from Galveston, Tex. They were at once sent to various points in the city and outskirts. A new picture of General Funston, snapped at Vera Cruz, is also shown.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

The Lowell Choral society which is busily preparing for its coming concert to be held on May 14, appears to have been equally busy as far back as 25 years ago, for we read in the old Sun: "Patrick Sarsfield Gilmore is to celebrate the 25th anniversary of his great peace jubilee at Boston, June 6-7. The Lowell Choral society will be represented in the chorus by 150 voices."

So much has been written in The Sun about the celebrated bandmaster that it is unnecessary to review his career at this time. He married a Lowell girl, who was Miss Nellie McNeill, whom he composed the famous ballad, "I Was Seeing Nellie Home."

In the sky the bright stars glittered, On the bank the pale moon shone, And 'twas from Aunt Dinah's quilting party I was seeing Nellie home.

Chorus
I was seeing Nellie home,
I was seeing Nellie home,
And 'twas from Aunt Dinah's quilting party I was seeing Nellie home.

On my arm a soft hand rested, Bristled light as ocean foam, And 'twas from Aunt Dinah's quilting party I was seeing Nellie home.

On my lips a whisper trembled, Trembled till it dared to come, And 'twas from Aunt Dinah's quilting party I was seeing Nellie home.

On my life new hopes were dawning, And these hopes have lived and grown, And 'twas from Aunt Dinah's quilting party I was seeing Nellie home.

"We may forget the singer, but the song will never die."

Class of 1890 (High School)
If you were a pupil at the high school 25 years ago you will recall the names mentioned in the following item from the old Sun:

"The following officers of the high school graduating class of 1890 have been elected: President, Arthur Burke; Vice President, Miss Jessie Butler; Secretary, Miss Minnie Bartlett; Treasurer, Michael Corbett. A constitution and by-laws are to be drawn up by a committee consisting of Messrs. Martin, Graves and Lamont and Misses Goodale and Lamont."

"Special homes and many other changes with the city and common of a quarter of a century ago. After an absence of 25 years the Lowell Choral society will be represented in the chorus by 150 voices."

AUTO TURNED TURTLE

MILBURY MAN IS DYING IN HOSPITAL—MYSTERIOUS WOMAN IN HURT IN ACCIDENT AT NIDEE

WORCESTER, May 8. (Edison) Benjamin, one of the wealthiest business men of Milbury and formerly of Newton, is dying at the Worcester hospital as the result of an automobile accident on the state highway near Sterling early yesterday morning.

A woman whose identity is not known and who was in the machine with him, sustained injuries and is watching constantly by the danger man's bedside, she steadfastly refused to make herself known and every effort is being made by the authorities to keep the matter secret.

As far as is known Benjamin and the woman were speeding along the state road between Sterling and Stockbridge

junction. Benjamin was driving, and in the heavy fog which hung over the countryside he could not see to keep his machine in the highway. In taking one of the turns, it swerved into the ditch and tearing along for a few rods, crashed into a fence and turned turtle.

Benjamin was hurled over the wind shield and plumed beneath the heavy engine, while his companion, it is understood, was thrown in the opposite direction, striking on a grassy bank by the roadside. Although badly shaken up, she was uninjured and, rising to her feet, she staggered to the wrecked machine.

There, unconscious and groaning, she found Benjamin. So tightly was he pinned beneath the debris that the woman could not help him. After several futile attempts to drag his body from beneath the car she ran to a farm house some distance away and summoned aid.

Benjamin's bleeding form was finally released, but restoratives had no effect whatever. He was placed in an automobile and with the woman in attendance upon him brought him to this city.

His skull was fractured, the pelvic bone broken, while his body was a mass of cuts and contusions. Benjamin, who is a bachelor, is superintendent of the National Graph Manufacturing company, of Milbury, and owner of the Milbury baseball team of the Blackstone Valley league.

NATIONAL FOREST

Nearly 17,000 acres have just been added by act of congress to the Caribou national forest, Idaho. This is one of the first of such additions through congressional action, and is the largest so far made by direct legislation. Those who have followed the national forest movement in this country will recall that most of the forests have been created through presidential proclamation, which set aside, for timber growing or for water protection, certain areas of the public domain. In March, 1907, however, congress passed a law that no further additions should be made to the national forest areas in the states of Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington and Wyoming, except through congressional action.

Since July, 1909, residents of the city of Montpelier, Idaho, have been petitioning to have this 17,000 acres added to the Caribou national forest, because the area includes the watershed of the stream which furnishes the city's water supply. Not being within a national forest, the tract was given over to unregulated grazing and other usages which resulted in stream pollution and became a serious menace to health. The citizens of Montpelier, at several times subsequent to their first efforts in 1909, renewed their petition, and the act just passed represents the successful outcome of their efforts.

was selling the "War Cry" or whatever Salvation Army publication was in vogue at that time. In Newburg, N. Y., where she met with an accident, for the Sun says:

"Sister" Towne, the Salvationist from Lowell who fell through a trap door at Newburg, N. Y., while selling Salvation Army literature, is improving."

"Sister" Towne returned to Lowell and was a familiar figure on the streets until the time of her death a few years ago. A firm friend of "Sister" Towne was the late John J. Mahoney, better known as "Isaac," who for many years conducted the "Clipper Shades" in Merrimack street near Suffolk. "Isaac" and "Mattie" had some great talks together at the former's place of business, and Mattie ever asserted that "Isaac" was a Christian gentleman if he was engaged in the liquor business. One morning, long ago, Mattie entered the "Clipper Shades" with the usual bundle of "War Cries" under her arm. That night the salaried men were arant the licenses and there were grave rumors as to who and how many were going down. "Isaac," like the others, was on the anxious seat. Approaching him, Mattie said: "Will you buy a 'War Cry' this morning, Mr. Mayhoney?" Mattie always pronounced the name "Mayhoney," which tickled "Isaac" immensely.

"Isaac" produced the nickle and then said: "Sister, they're granting the license tonight and I want you to pray that I'll get mine. If I get it I'll buy the 'War Cry' from you every week as long as you come around."

Mattie thought a moment and then said: "Well, Mr. Mayhoney, I can't pray that you'll get a license because we don't believe in liquor-selling, but I'll pray that you will be a successful man."

That night the licenses were granted and "Isaac" got his. A day or two afterward, Mattie called in again and with a huge smile on her genial countenance said: "I guess my prayers were answered, Mr. Mayhoney. You were a successful man."

And "Isaac" kept his promise and purchased the War Cry every week afterward.

The Donohoe Outing

There have been outings of all kinds and descriptions in the past, but there has never been anything since like the celebrated Donohoe outing held for many years at the Donohoe farm in Tolland with Peter H. Donohoe as host.

The Donohoe outings began 25 years ago as may be seen by the following: "Ice-Admiral Peter H. Donohoe dedicated his new barn on the old Latham estate in Tolland, Thursday. There was a big attendance, 500 sandwiches being consumed. Boston friends sent Peter an ivory-handled, gold mounted whip."

The outing of 25 years ago might have been a big thing for those days, but it wasn't a circumstance to the annual affairs that followed. Five hundred sandwiches would have hardly fed the police officers on duty in later days for guests prominent in public and business life came from all over New England to greet Peter H. at his annual feast. A big clambake was always a feature and likewise a deer roast. The outing became so famous that every hobo this side of the Mississippi was obliged to abandon the outings, to the deep disappointment of the hundreds who never missed the festive occasions while they were in vogue, and doubtless to the deep regret of Peter himself.

RESISTANCE TO DISEASE

Why is it that one person can work all day standing in cold water, slush and snow with no harmful effect, while another with less exposure contracts colds, pneumonia, rheumatism, sciatica or something equally distressing and dangerous?

Because in the first case the body was in such perfect balance that there was "resistance" to disease. In the second there was lack of tone that invited ill health.

Keep your system toned up with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and foods that are distressing you will be harmless, exposure will bring no fears of rheumatism and neuritis and even germ diseases need hardly be dreaded.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills assist digestion, correct the lassitude, the palpitation of the heart, shaky nerves and the pallor of face and lips that are the results of thin, impure blood.

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong. Get a box from the nearest drug store and begin this treatment now. Send to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a free booklet, "Building up the Blood."

of uninvited guests became so great that Peter was obliged to abandon the outings, to the deep disappointment of the hundreds who never missed the festive occasions while they were in vogue, and doubtless to the deep regret of Peter himself.

ARREST N. Y. ATTORNEY

F. H. Griffin and Wife Arrested at Groton on Charge of Using the Mails to Defraud

BOSTON, May 8.—Francis H. Griffin, an attorney of New York and his wife, Clara Griffin, were arrested at Groton today charged with using the mails in a conspiracy to defraud. The government officials claim that by fraudulent representations Griffin and his wife have obtained between $20,000 and $40,000 from various persons.

The arrests were made on complaint of Postoffice Inspectors Swann and Mayhew of New York, who have been working on the case several months.

According to the federal officials, the alleged conspiracy has extended over the past seven years. It is charged that Mrs. Griffin has represented to many persons that she had contracts for stenographic work in connection with trust investigations by federal, state and municipal authorities. Owing to the secrecy attending such investigations Mrs. Griffin claimed, it is charged, that she was unable to obtain from the banks the funds needed to carry out the contract, as the banks were concerned parties. She represented her expenses as heavy but profits large, according to the officers.

It is charged that Mrs. Griffin obtained the desired funds from individuals, though she had no contracts as represented.

One man in New England, whose name is withheld by the prosecutors, supplied $20,000 and two others furnished $10,000 each, it is asserted.

The Griffins have been stopping at a hotel in Groton since April 21. Their last known New York residence was at 100 West 11th street.

Mrs. Griffin before her marriage was Clara H. Holland of Belchertown, his wife. She is about 42 years old and her husband is five or six years younger.

Boston Supply Department to Place Orders for 1,000,000 Feet—Savings of $8000 on the Deal

BOSTON, May 8.—The city supply department is to ask bids on 1,000,000 feet of lumber, being by far the largest order ever purchased by the city. Bids are also asked by the city on 150,000 feet of lumber, 200,000 paving bricks, 250,000 sewer bricks and 1000 barrels of cement.

The mayor has saved about $8000 on a purchase of 30,000 tons of coal for the city for the next year. The average price paid per ton was $2.81, which is 16 cents a ton cheaper than the price paid last year.

Refreshments were served and the event broke up at a late hour, all stating that they were very much pleased with the evening's program.

BILLERICA SOLDIER'S CLOSE CALL

Geo. R. Kearney of No. Billerica Had Horse Shot Under Him

No Recent Breakout at Laredo Says Mr. Kearney

George R. Kearney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Kearney of Talbot avenue, North Billerica, is one of the Lowell boys who has seen real service at Mexico, and the young man recently wrote to a friend in this city, telling of a thrilling experience he had at Laredo, Texas, when his horse was shot from under him, but fortunately the young soldier escaped injury.

Mr. Kearney, who is well known in this city and home town, North Billerica, enlisted with the 15th Cavalry, U. S. A. on Jan. 28 of the present year. He was then assigned to Fort Slocum, where he remained on duty until the Mexican trouble broke out, when he was transferred to the Mexican line, where he was given an opportunity of seeing real service.

After remaining some time ahead of a United States battleship on the Mex-

GEORGE R. KEARNEY, 15th U. S. Cavalry

ican border, the 15th Cavalry was landed at Laredo, Tex., where later the U. S. A. soldiers were fired upon by the Mexican federals. It was during that battle that Kearney had his horse shot from under him and miraculously escaped being killed. In that same battle four horses were killed by Mexican bullets.

The cavalry men later had quite an experience when they traveled 127 miles on horseback, in pursuit of "greasers," who were doing their very best to get away with some of Uncle Sam's horses, and they encountered thrilling experiences during this long ride.

Mr. Kearney in his letter tells of the shooting of an Indian with the reputation of a "bad" man, who was shot to death by possemen, after he had defied them to arrest him. It seems that Luz Padraza, for such was the name of the Indian, was wanted for the murder of an Indian woman, whom he shot to death at one of the festival dances at that time made good his escape, but sometime in April he returned to his village, Ysleta, and sent a message to the deputy sheriff, defying him to come and arrest him.

The following morning Deputy Sheriff W. W. Schmidt, accompanied by seven inspectors went to the house where Padraza was staying. As the posse approached on horseback, Padraza and his relatives within the house opened fire, but did not hit anyone. The posse then fired at the Indian, one of the bullets striking him in the head and killing him instantly. The officers at Ysleta were endeavoring to organize the Mexicans and Indians against the Americans.

Mr. Kearney is now stationed at Laredo, Tex., and he says he is enjoying the best of health. There has been no breakout recently and the 9th Infantry and the 15th Cavalry are anxiously awaiting the result of the peace conference now being held between statesmen of South America.

At the quarterly meeting of the Lowell Historical society, to be held Wednesday evening, May 13, in Memorial hall, George Francis Day, secretary of the Essex Institute of Salem, will deliver his lecture on "The River Aracama, a Middlesex and Essex County Waterway." The lecture will be illustrated with lantern slides. There will be no charge and all are welcome.

ROBBED 78 GAS METERS

BOY THIEF CAUGHT AFTER SENSATIONAL CHASE IN BOSTON—SEVERAL SHOTS WERE FIRED

BOSTON, May 8.—Captured after a sensational chase, yesterday through the streets of Somerville, during which several shots were fired, Stephen H. Harneth, an 18-year-old Roxbury lad, was taken to police headquarters in that city, and after a rigid "third degree" confessed last night to wholesale larcenies from gas meters. In all, he admitted breaking into 78 meters.

Harneth was taken into custody by Patrolman Lynch, who had been watching him for a long time, and followed him from a house at 16 Dover street, West Somerville.

Noticing the officer, Harneth took to his heels and was fast making his escape when Lynch drew his revolver and opened fire. The shots attracted the attention of scores of persons who joined in the chase, finally surrounding their quarry after a pursuit of several blocks.

A skeleton key which would fit any meter of the Cambridge Gas Light company was found in Harneth's pocket, and also five other keys, and a 25-caliber revolver with a large number of cartridges.

In spite of this incriminating evidence, though, the boy stoutly maintained his innocence at first, confessing to his thefts only after a grueling examination.

STREET RAILWAY CARMEN

The Street Railway Carmen held a complimentary party and dance last evening in Prescott hall and it was largely attended. Doyle's orchestra furnished the music of the evening and the young people danced to their heart's content until 12 o'clock. There was a short intermission between times and the "Paragon Four" gave an entertainment which was greatly enjoyed. The committee in charge of arrangements were as follows: J. J. Fell, chairman; J. Lyons, J. Kringson, John Sullivan, T. J. Maroney, secretary; Fred Crowley, president; Joseph Powers, vice president.

GARDNER FINED

For Leaving Horse and Wagon Standing too Long on Central St.

Jake Gardner was arraigned before Judge Bright in police court this forenoon on a complaint charging him with permitting a vehicle to remain on Central street for more than twenty minutes, the time allowed by law. He pleaded guilty.

Patrolman Conside, who watches in the vicinity of Merrimack square, testified that on Thursday, April 30, the defendant left a horse and wagon standing on Central street from 4:30 p. m. to 5:20 p. m. He said that the traffic was very heavy at that time and the street was blocked at least three times while Mr. Gardner's team was hitched there. The defendant took the witness stand and told the court that he was visiting a lawyer's office and did not know just how long his team remained on the street. Judge Bright found him guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of three dollars.

THE ADVANCE RATE CASE

Counsel for Western R. R. Commissions Files a Brief Which Bitterly Arraigns Brandeis

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The interstate commerce commission has today a supplemental brief filed by Clifford Thorne, representing the Western railroad commissions in the advanced rate case, in which he bitterly arraigns Louis D. Brandeis, special counsel for the commission, who in his closing argument in the case last Friday stated that "on the whole, the net operating revenues of the carriers in official classification territory are smaller than is consistent with their assured prosperity and the welfare of the country." Mr. Thorne asserts that Mr. Brandeis commenced his argument before the commission by conceding the position of the carriers on behalf of those whom he represents. Mr. Thorne says that he "repudiates in unqualified terms the concession made by Mr. Brandeis in his closing argument."

Mr. Thorne after referring to the questions the commission had before it in the case, says:

"This commission itself has a responsibility to discharge in determining the adequacy of railroad revenues within official classification territory, that is not met by any opinion or conclusion announced by special counsel. This duty is one which is placed upon you by our national government, and it is one that you cannot and have not attempted to delegate to Mr. Brandeis."

"The special counsel was invited to emphasize any aspect of the case, deserving emphasis, but his duty was to present facts and not opinions."

"In spite of this specific instruction, the said special counsel exceeded all bounds of propriety in the premises and practically usurped the functions of the commission, announcing an opinion or conclusion on the only question finally submitted at the time and further, he specifically advocated a particular theory for the disposition of the case."

"Mr. Thorne refers to unpardonable attacks on Mr. Brandeis on the surplus he (Mr. Thorne) had allowed."

"That surplus which Mr. Brandeis applied the epithet 'ridiculously' he said, 'was precisely the surplus adopted after careful and deliberate consideration by the unanimous action of the commission in the former advanced rate cases.'"

TO RAISE $1000 FOR THE IRISH CAUSE—CONFERENCE TO BE HELD TONIGHT

LAWRENCE, May 7.—Those prominent in the movement in this city have arranged for a conference this evening in the city hall, to which all friends of the cause are invited. It is planned to receive contributions from all who wish to assist, and not more than $1 will be expected from anyone. The plea of the local branch is as follows:

"The citizens of Lawrence, having always manifested their great friendship for the cause of Ireland, are cordially invited to take part in a movement to complete the pledge of Massachusetts, made at the last national convention in Philadelphia. At that convention the state of Massachusetts pledged $200,000, of which a little over $100,000 remains to be paid in. Lawrence pledged $1000. Now on the eve of home rule, we want to make good our pledge."

"It is hardly necessary to point out to the friends of Ireland in this city, the enormous task which has been upon the people of Ireland and the Irish parliamentary party to preserve the organization during so many years of emigration and the opening of parliament in February. The Irish members alone addressed 500 meetings in England, Scotland and Wales. The expenses attending upon all these meetings had to be borne by the treasury of the United Irish League."

"This is only a part of the enormous expense of keeping the organization intact. The great work which has been done by the efforts of the Irish people and the parliamentary party are sufficiently known. Through their efforts the boom of home rule is almost accomplished. We hope that our friends of liberty will join in making good the pledge of Lawrence."

"We therefore ask you to attend a conference Thursday evening, May 7, in the city hall, at 7:30 o'clock, or send your contributions."

Lawrence Branch United Irish League. Dr. M. F. Sullivan, Pres. Rev. Jas. T. O'Reilly, Hon. Pres. John Lyons, Treas. P. J. Coan, Secy.

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Boxing Bill Opposed—Bill Affecting the Assessors Killed—New Health Board—Other Matters

BOSTON, May 8.—The state senate yesterday took a step in the direction of determining by statute what are, and what are not, charitable institutions, and which ones are therefore exempt from taxation under the constitution and laws of the commonwealth.

The question arose on a bill which permits towns to tax income as well as property, unless they devote a quarter of their accommodations to free beds and free treatment of patients. This bill is intended particularly to enable the town of Belmont to tax the property of the McLean asylum. The bill had been passed by the house, but had been referred on motion of Senator Williams of Boston.

When the bill came up again yesterday Senator Williams asked the senate to suspend its rules so that he might offer an amendment.

Senator Williams said he proposed that Belmont might be entitled to some relief from the burden caused by the removal of the asylum property from Belmont, but he thought the bill was wrong in that it attempted to make a classification of property that is not based on taxation and not on the value of the property. He proposed to delete what is a charitable institution to be exempted under the law covering charitable institutions.

Senator McCarthy said that the McLean asylum had been a charitable institution, that it had no profit and gave no treatment without pay. He said the asylum owns 314 of the 324 acres of land in the town owned property amounting to $2,740,000. Senator McCarthy said that the exemption of such property from taxation in a small town like Belmont was altogether the worst of burdens.

The senate refused to suspend its rules and the bill, which the speaker said was passed by the house, was sent to the governor.

FUNSTON AND TROOPS MAY MARCH AGAINST CAPITAL

War Council on Message From Gen. Funston—Huerta Complains Over Landing of More Troops—Preparations for the Mobilization of 60,000 Troops at Vera Cruz—War Department Active

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The Mexican situation assumed a more warlike attitude today. Activities in the war department, which began last night on the receipt of long confidential advices from Gen. Funston, were renewed through the morning and were brought to the attention of President Wilson when the regular session began at 11 o'clock.

While this activity disclosed that every preparation was being made for eventualities, yet Secretary of War Garrison, said just before entering the cabinet meeting that no additional troop movements have been ordered.

Huerta Complains
In the midst of the military preparations came definite word that the mediating envoys had received from Gen. Huerta and submitted to the United States government complaint that new landings of American troops and war material at Vera Cruz amounted to a breaking of the armistice which had been arranged by the South American diplomats after their good offices in the Mexican crisis had been accepted by Gen. Huerta and the United States. This also was one of the subjects before the cabinet. Secretary Bryan said early in the day he had received the mediators' note and that reply would be made.

May Delay Mediation
Meantime it was learned from a source close to the mediators that they believe they would be able to persuade Gen. Huerta that the United States has not been violating in spirit at least the armistice. Otherwise a stalling block would be placed in their way which might render virtually useless their further efforts at mediation.

In connection with the military preparations for a possible forward movement it became known that the officials of the war department have been in long distance telephone communication with the governors of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio in an effort to determine how soon the militia organizations of those states could be mobilized and sent to the seaboard for shipment in transports. The department has been energetic in its efforts to make all preparations for the possible mobilization of troops.

The British ambassador conferred today with Secretary Bryan as to conditions at Tampico and to negotiations which might ensure the safety of the oil properties and oil company employees.

The British embassy here has made representations to Mexico City in behalf of the American and British employees in the oil districts in and about Tampico. These foreigners when they attempted to land, and resume their work were driven off with threats. There has been no response from the Mexican officials.

Reply to Huerta
When Secretary Bryan left the cabinet meeting he said that no reply had yet been formulated to the Huerta communication forwarded by the mediators relating to the armistice. In the Huerta message, he stated, the question was raised as to the sending of the army to take the place of naval forces at Vera Cruz.

Asked if the unusual activity of the war department since the receipt of Gen. Funston's cipher despatch, last night signified any change of policy on the part of the United States toward Mexico, Mr. Bryan said he could not discuss the affairs of the war department.

O'Shaughnessy at White House
Charge O'Shaughnessy conferred with Secretary Bryan and the secretary to the president, Mr. Tumulty, today. He will not see the president for a day or two.

Mr. Tumulty declared emphatically that so far as known at the White House there was no serious crisis at Vera Cruz.

BOSTON, May 8.—A message outlining his wishes for a reorganization of the state board of health was sent by Governor Walsh to the house of representatives today. The governor would abolish the present board and discharge all department heads and employees so that complete reorganization may be effected. He asks that the proposed new board consist of one new health commissioner with a five year tenure at an annual salary of $7500 and an advisory council of six members, three of whom must be physicians, the council members to receive ten dollars a day.

The governor would centre all authority in the commissioner and give him power to appoint and remove bureau chiefs.

The message was referred to the committee on public health.

Twenty Per Cent. Reduction Inaugurated by Andrew Barrett Will be Cut in Two—Water and Fire Departments to be Turned Over Temporarily to the Mayor—Fire Commissioner Opposed to Double Platoon Bill for Firemen

The 20 per cent. reduction in water rates is to be reduced to 10 per cent, putting it back where it was before Andrew E. Barrett became commissioner of water works and fire department.

James H. Carmichael, the present commissioner of the water and fire departments, says that to have allowed a 20 per cent. reduction in the water rate was very poor business policy and that the city lost at least $22,000 on account of the reduction last year.

Commissioner Carmichael has decided to put the rate back on a ten cent basis and the 20 per cent. reduction will end with the April quarter, so-called. The July quarter will be reckoned on the old 10 per cent. basis and just for that the consumer will have to pay a little more.

Commissioner Carmichael stated today that on Monday morning next he would turn his departments over to

Mayor Murphy for a week or ten days. The commissioner and his superintendent, Robert J. Thomas, are going to Philadelphia to attend a meeting of the American Water Works association of which Mr. Thomas is president.

Lowell's Water Problem
Commissioner Carmichael says that while the water problem has not been completely solved, the proposition is not as complicated as it was a few months ago. He says he will present a report on the water situation to the municipal council within ten days or two weeks and that it will be the best report ever submitted on the water question in Lowell. He says the report is based on a thorough study of conditions and that when completed will be very comprehensive.

PASSES THE NAVAL BILL

ENTIRE ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM ADOPTED WITHOUT ROLL CALL IN HOUSE—TOTAL IS $139,500,000

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The annual naval appropriation bill, carrying $139,500,000 and providing for the entire administration naval construction program, was passed by the house yesterday without a roll call.

The building program includes two battleships, one to be built in some government navy yard; six torpedo boat destroyers, one sea-going torpedo boat, three coast defense submarines, torpedo boats to be constructed on the Pacific coast and four submarines.

The "Little Navy" men made the final stand against two battleships on motion to send the bill back to the committee, which was defeated 291 to 109.

Democratic Leader Underwood, Republican Leader Mann and other prominent figures in the house supported the motion.

HANGED FOR MURDER

GALLOWS CLAIMED ONE MORE VICTIM IN CONNECTICUT TODAY—SAID HE KILLED HIS WIFE

WETHERSFIELD, Conn., May 5.—The gallows claimed one more victim in Connecticut today when Melvin E. Ricker was hanged in the state prison for the murder of his wife in Waterbury, in May, a year ago. He entered the execution chamber at 12:25 and less than a minute later the trap was sprung. He was officially pronounced dead at 12:45.

The condemned man was calm to the last. He admitted his guilt. A quarrel was the reason for the murder. For weeks he was in a hospital having a battle between life and death. Vigorous efforts were made to save him from hanging.

TO PASS ANTI-TRUST BILL

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Democratic leaders of the house, anxious to get congress out of Washington by July 10, yesterday called a party caucus for Tuesday through which they hope expedite consideration and passage of the anti-trust bill. The caucus will determine the length of time the measure shall be debated in the house, and in compliance with its decision the rules committee will frame an order under which the debate will proceed.

The Interstate Commerce committee was prepared for a hearing but the expected witnesses did not appear. Hearings will be held today.

WRECK CASE DROPPED

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 5.—A habeas corpus was entered yesterday by State Attorney Adams in the case of the state against Bruce V. This formally disposes of the three separate cases growing out of the disaster, in which 21 persons lost their lives.

PART OF THE EXTENSION WORK OF AMHERST AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

The extension service of the Massachusetts Agricultural college has just issued a bulletin announcing and describing the summer schools for the present year. These will include the popular summer school of agriculture and country life, June 30 to July 28; the school for rural social service, July 15 to July 28; the boys' agricultural camps, of which there will be three, each lasting one week and opening June 30, July 16 and July 20 respectively; the three days' poultry convention, July 22-24 inclusive, and the conferences on rural community planning, July 28 to August 1 inclusive. The college has already received a large number of applications for the summer schools and indicates point to another very successful season. The courses, of which there are 47 in number, are grouped so that anyone may follow certain specific lines. There are seven distinct groups, as follows: Practical agriculture, and horticulture, elementary sciences bearing on agriculture and horticulture, agricultural education, agricultural economics and rural sociology, play and recreation, domestic science and household sciences, and those designed for rural social workers. It is required that pupils shall elect not less than 10 nor more than 15 exercises a week unless special permission is received from the Director of the Extension Service. Large amounts of field work, observation time and laboratory experiments are given in connection with the majority of the courses. A course of evening lectures on popular topics is a feature of the general program and noted speakers are secured for these talks. There is a registration fee of $5 for the regular Summer School which is payable at the time application is made. There are no tuition fees. Rooms and board are provided both in the town of Amherst and by the college at very reasonable rates. The school for rural social service is designed especially for clergymen, teachers, librarians, town officers, TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY. Take LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE Tablets. grange workers and others who devote a great deal of time to problems of community development. The boys' agricultural camps have been previously announced and a circular describing them can be secured by writing the extension service. The poultry conference will prove a great attraction to those interested in this branch of agriculture. Last year there were over 500 people in attendance and this year it is expected that this will be nearly doubled. During the three days assigned to the conference, there will be lectures by the best talent available. Demonstrations in killing, picking, packing and preparing for retail trade; demonstrations in selection and mating. Samples of feeds, equipment, diseased specimens, etc., will be on exhibit, as well as a miniature poultry farm which will be handled in conjunction with charts, diagrams, maps, etc. The community planning conference is conducted in cooperation with a number of state organizations and in the past has proved a very profitable event. A copy of the summer school bulletin will be very gladly sent, together with an application blank. Apply to Wm. D. Hurd, director of the extension service, M. A. C., Amherst, Mass.

O. M. I. CADET DRUM CORPS
The statement made in Wednesday's Sun about the O. M. I. Drum corps is not entirely correct. Some of the so-called members are not members: Fifer: H. McNiff, J. Powers, W. Walworth. Drummers: W. Murray, E. Rogers, E. Rogers and McLaughlin are not members of the O. M. I. corps, but are members of the Spindle City Drum corps. All corps desiring to contest with the Spindle City City and drum corps will please write to Walter Murray, 738 Central street. AMONG THE TOILERS

Workmen are busily engaged tearing down the old chimney at the Prescott mill.

The Lawrence history baseball team will open their schedule Saturday on the South common.

Joe Powers, the popular conductor, who is vice president of the Carmen's union, was a very active worker at the complimentary party last evening.

"Bert" Chandler, a prominent young man, employed at the Harvard brewery, has accepted a lucrative position in New York with a large contracting firm.

The machinists were shown in what high esteem they are held last night at their annual ball. "Joe" Quinn, the hustling business agent, was the busiest man in the hall.

The tools that were reported stolen from a local carpenter, who is a member of the Carpenters' union, have not as yet been recovered. The police are doing everything in their power to locate them.

The many friends of Miss Theresa Gargan will be pleased to learn that she has returned to work in the Day State mills after being confined to her home with a severe illness.

Harry Turner, who is employed at the Merrimack mills, will start on an extensive motor-cycle trip visiting the most interesting parts of the New England and middle Atlantic states. He expects to leave Lowell June 1 and return in time for the Fourth.

Mr. Owen Cox has accepted a lucrative position with a big contracting firm in New York. Mr. Cox has been employed at the Harvard brewery as a first class machinist. He will leave today to assume his new duties.

Dalen Snow, employed at the Boston and Maine car shops suffered a painful injury today when he fell, breaking a bone in his right hand. He was attended by Dr. Forhan the company's physician.

Peter Rogers who is the assistant superintendent of the Muskataquid mills, is a young man who has risen to the position which he now holds, by a lot of hard work and study. He says any young man can do the same thing with a little hard work and study.

The unions that will meet tonight are as follows: Electric Employees of local 651, in Tunnels building. Electrical Workers at 127 Central street. Lowell Plasterers, No. 45, at 32 Middle street. Patternmakers League of North America, in Odd Fellows hall, 24 Middlesex street.

Michael Corrigan and William Shea of the Machinists' union have accepted lucrative positions with the Harvard brewery. They are employed setting up machinery in the new bottling house which the company has erected.

The American Window Cleaning Co. is busy cleaning the windows of the glass mills. They have just finished cleaning the windows of the Prescott mill. This is a job that used to be considered a very hard one, but with the modern appliances it is comparatively easy.

Sit down, you're rocking the boat. This is Joe McVey's advice to John O'Neil who is somewhat of a shark at the little pastime called pool. Both are contestants for the pool championship, which is being held by the M. T. I. at their hall. Don't forget your "cue," Joe, and have at him. Both are prominent moulders.

Conductor Geo. Clark was the "Idol" at the complimentary party held by the Street Railway Carmen's union last evening. George is the heavy hitter of the baseball team and distinguished himself in the afternoon by slugging the pill all over the lot in the game with the Lawrence aggregation of carmen.

There has been a lot of talk about forming a baseball league among the local unions. Surely there is some good material in these organizations and a "league" would do a whole lot toward promoting members. The painters, machinists and carpenters have already signified their intention of joining the "League" if the other unions "come across." Games would be played Saturday afternoons. The members of the other unions should select committees to confer with these unions already favoring the idea, or address Albert C. Burke, recording secretary of the Painters' union.

The members will meet every Saturday afternoon in the future and practice running, jumping, baseball, etc. In order to get in trim for the coming field day with the Painters' union of Lawrence. There is some good athletic material among the members, and last year they succeeded in capturing a large silver shield, the big prize offered at the annual tournament between the Lawrence, Haverhill and Lowell unions. In order to hold the trophy they must be returned the winners in two successive meets. This they feel confident of doing.

The business agent, George E. Field, told the members that he is receiving quite a few out-of-town calls from contractors, but was unable to all the demand as the painters are all steadily employed in Lowell.

The officers of this popular organization are as follows: Charles E. Dana, president; Irving L. Lawyer, vice president; William A. De Long, treasurer; William E. Grant, financial secretary; Albert C. Burke, recording secretary; business agent, Geo. E. Field.

News of the Saco-Lowell Shops
When asked by a Sun representative today how business was, Agent Blake replied that everything remains a little bit dull, but added optimistically that it could be a great deal worse at this time of the season, when business is naturally dull all over the country.

Painters' Union Met
The Painters' union held a well attended meeting in Carpenters' hall, last evening with President Charles E. Dana presiding.

Business of importance was transacted. Eight new members were admitted into the union and two applications for membership were received. The present condition of the union is the best it has enjoyed since its organization in 1900. The Painters' union was the first of the many unions in Lowell to get the nine and eight-hour day. For this they were presented a handsome banner by the Trades and Labor council. At the time of its organization the wages of the painters was $1.75 a day for ten hours. The wages paid at the present time are $3 per day and they work but 44 hours a week.

At the last meeting it was voted to put the "button system" in force instead of the old-time card.

Want Eight-Hour Day
The Brockton Cutters' union, B. & S. W. U., is out in earnest for the establishment of an eight-hour work day, says the Brockton Times. The Brockton Shoe Manufacturers' association has received the required 60 days' notice.

WEDDING AT WHITE HOUSE

Pres. Wilson's Youngest Daughter Married to Sec. McAdoo in the Famous Blue Room

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Miss Eleanor Wilson, youngest daughter of the president and Mrs. Wilson, was married in the Blue room at the White House at 6 o'clock last evening to William Gibbs McAdoo, her father's secretary of the treasury. In many ways the event was the most interesting and notable wedding which has taken place there.

Flowers, music, handsome gowns and the laughter of children combined to lend an air of gaiety to the affair. In fact, never before have so many chil-father's official family, as well as his private family, and must observe all the restrictions and duties imposed upon a cabinet hostess, such as calling upon wives of the judges of the supreme court, ambassadors and senators.

But of the responsibilities placed upon the shoulders of the bride there was no intimation yesterday, and she was the most joyous bride ever seen in the White House.

Married in Blue Room

The bride stood before the south window of the Blue room, on the exact spot where President Cleveland took as his bride Frances Folsom, 27 years ago.

The first daughter of a president to be married at the White House, Marie Monroe, chose the same spot in the exact spot as did Miss Eleanor Wilson, and perhaps the decorations there were not more simple than for the present wedding.

Lilies Conspicuous

None of the lavish decoration which has marked White House weddings of late years was in evidence yesterday.

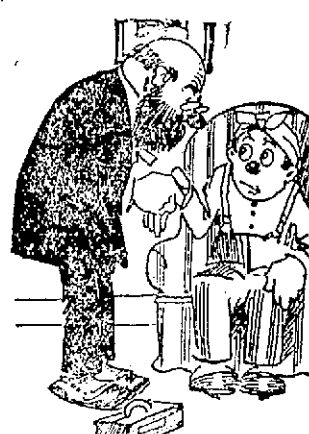

A LITTLE NONSENSE

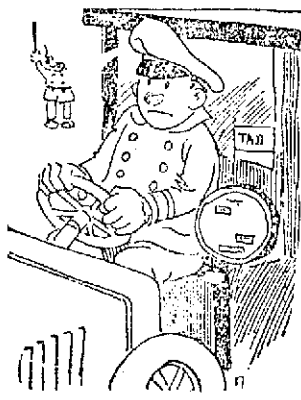

MERITED PUNISHMENT.
You'll notice that the letter "S" is quite often in distress. And really it deserves to be, for it is "crooked," don't you see.

MISFIRE.
Poor Jones is living A miserable life. He's a street car income And a taxicab wife.

A PEDESTRIAN NOW.
"Cheer up! I'll have you on your feet Within a month," said Dr. Jill. He did—my car was sold to meet His monumental bill.

TOUGH.
"Both day and night I'm on the go," "The tired chauffeur protested. "I never get a rest, although I often get arrested."

MENDING MATTERS.
Germs are found in finger bowls, And germs are found in kisses! One can't hope to escape alive From such a world as this is.

JILLY-NILLY.
Man wants but little here below. Yet he is not forgiving. For he is forced to have it so Thanks to the cost of living.

the Blue room in particular being quite simple. Before the great windows opening onto the south porch stood a platform about 18 inches high, on which was laid the rare white viennese rug belonging to the minister of Peru and Madame De Pozet, upon which Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bowers Sayre stood for their wedding. They stood upon low white pedestals—and held great bunches of Easter lilies. As a further relief and background for them, feathery palms were massed. Lilies filled the vases on the mantel and low baskets of lilies gave the effect of a bank of blossoms. Except for a great cluster of lilies and ferns at either side of the room there were no other decorations.

The plain white enamel stand, with its satin cover, before which the bride and bridegroom took their vows, was wholly undecorated save for perhaps a half dozen lilies tied with quantities of white gauze ribbon to the right hand corner. The stand as well as the pedestal upon which the couple knelt were the same as used at the wedding of the president's second daughter.

The Red room, where the reception was held, also showed the bride's taste for lilies, for they banked the high mantel, but American Beauty roses stood before the large gold mirror and filled tall slender vases of silver about the room.

Less than a hundred persons and but few officials heard the low-toned voice of the Rev. Sylvester W. Beach, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Princeton, N. J., where the Wilson family worshipped for years, as he united in marriage a member of the cabinet and the daughter of the president of the United States.

It was a simple ceremony, brief, but solemn, the radiant faces of the bride and groom reflecting the happiness of the hour.

Second Daughter Given Away

For the president and Mrs. Wilson it was touching moment, as they gave away a daughter for the second time within a year. Around them stood their relatives and friends—a small group—for it was a family affair, much the same kind of home wedding one would see in any American household, though the historic interior of the White House with its masses of lilies and ferns, the uniformed aides and the presence of members of the cabinet and the vice-president, preserved for the function an official aspect.

Mrs. Wilson descended the state stairway some moments before the approach of the bride party was announced by the strains of the wedding march. She was accompanied by the group of girls who form the house party, and by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wilson, Fred Axson, her brother, and a few others. They passed into the blue room through the green room and took their places. The other invited guests entered by way of the red room.

Miss Sallie McAdoo, the 12-year-old daughter of the bridegroom, led the wedding party down the steps and into the blue room. Dainty and pretty, she wore a childish frock of white batiste exquisitely hand embroidered with a wide ribbon sash tied about her waist. Her leghorn hat was trimmed with a wreath of flowers and with long blue ribbon streamers hanging down behind. On her arm she carried a basket-shaped basket filled with flowers which she scattered in the path of the wedding party, so that they gave forth all their sweetness when crushed by the feet of the bride and bridesmaids. As the bridegroom entered the Blue room, little Miss McAdoo, the youngest of his six children, smiled delightedly into his face.

Close upon the heels of the first flower girl came the bride's sisters, Mrs. Francis Bowers Sayre, as matron of honor, and Miss Margaret Wilson, as maid of honor.

Following Mrs. Sayre and Miss Wilson in the pageant, which will make White House history for future generations, was Miss Nancy Lane.

Bride's Train Entangled

As the bride turned to leave the Blue room on the arm of her husband her long train became entangled and she was held back by its weight.

The president stepped down, took the long folds of satin in hand and straightened it out as skillfully as possible and in the most natural and unassuming manner.

All day long the thousands of strangers who had been sent out of the White House while the preparations for the wedding were under way, fingered about the gates and watched for the White House automobile to go in or out. Their reward came when, at 2:30 in the afternoon not alone the bride, but two sisters, Mrs. Sayre and Miss Wilson left the White House for a short drive in the White House automobile. They were absent only a short time and those who were sufficiently patient had the pleasure of seeing them return. The bride-to-be wore a charming satin gown of light blue and a blue hat pulled well over her dark hair. She wore a veil so arranged as to be seen by Mrs. Lane.

The big heavy of civil friends of the bride, who are White House guests and who would have been bridesmaids for Mrs. McAdoo, had her wedding party been a large one, spent the greater part of the morning under the tent, which is the president's summer office, and on the south porch which is decidedly attractive with its furnishings of green against the white of the historic walls.

Luncheon to Cabinet

All day long there had been busy preparations, but official Washington continued on page five.

and the society of the national capital had no part in the affair. Most of the guests were intimate friends of the family from other cities. Secretary McAdoo gave a luncheon to his colleagues in the cabinet attended also by Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N., his best man, Secretary Tumulty and Vice President Marshall. It was a jovial company, speech-making and witty toasts, especially by Mr. Marshall, keeping the group in a continuous roar of laughter. The president and Mrs. Wilson motored with their three daughters. During the early evening small crowds peered through the fences and iron gates, but saw only the procession of carriages and automobiles as they brought the guests or took them away.

The Presbyterian single ring service was used, with the characteristic words "love, honor and obey." As the president gave the bride away there was an affectionate smile on his face. He stepped back from the altar beside Mrs. Wilson, and as the words of the service were read their faces grew grave. The bride and groom repeated the service unflinchingly. They smiled happily as they led the procession from the altar to the Red room, where they received the congratulations of the guests.

Supper was served at small tables in the state dining room, while the Marine band played. The bride cut the wedding cake with Dr. Grayson's sword, the young people had a dance in the Blue room and suddenly Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo slipped into a waiting automobile and motored rapidly down

Executive avenue. They will be away on their honeymoon about two weeks and will not go abroad as has been reported. The secretary expects to keep in close touch with the work of his office.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The bridal gown of Miss Eleanor Wilson, daughter of the president, who yesterday became Mrs. William G. McAdoo, wife of the secretary of the treasury and some of the other gowns of her wedding trousseau, were authoritatively described after the ceremony of yesterday had been concluded.

The bridal gown was made of ivory white satin and trimmed with real old point lace. This charming creation was the principal part of a trousseau made by Fifth Avenue modistes. The bodice was softly draped with satin which crossed in front and is brought to a point below the shoulders, front and back. The V-shaped neck is finished with folds of soft tulle. The long mousseline sleeves are made of tulle. The real old point lace is gracefully draped over the right shoulder to the left side of the waist and is fastened with a spray of orange blossoms; the lace then continues as a border to the long transparent tulle of tulle which graduates to the side of the skirt at the train. The long sweeping train is three and a half yards in length. A cap effect of tulle is especially executed with orange blossoms and long draped veil was very effective.

Real Old Point Lace
Much interest was shown in the real old point lace used on the gown. It is a masterpiece and a work of art in lace making. Unique in design and perfect in execution, it is said this famous art-treasure, which is in part of a world-famous collection, may find its place as an antique in a national collection.

The three-piece going away dress was made of corbeau blue gabardine. The coat is of corbeau blue charmeuse and gabardine. The front and upper part of back of coat is of charmeuse. The back is gathered at collar. The three-quarter sleeve of gabardine is edged with the blue charmeuse. Edge of sleeve is bound with a flat black silk braid. Soft girde of gabardine ending in front with oval charmeuse buckle.

The short skirt of gabardine with three circular flounces starting at sides of skirt. These are fastened at back with a strap of gabardine, attached to which are four small black silk tassels. Between the flounces, corbeau charmeuse, to which incyaro attached, showing about one inch of charmeuse between each flounce. Flounces and bottom of skirt edged with black silk braid.

Rose and Silver Gown
A rose and silver evening gown is made of rose pink satin d'amoire and rose tulle. Satin bodice ending in points at shoulders (surplice effect) and edged with silver braid around arm holes. Pink rose and bud posed below left shoulder. Large flesh color net butterfly bow at back, attached to points at shoulders. Silver shadow lace, form flowing sleeves. Skirt of rose pink satin d'amoire velled with tulle of shadow silver lace from which flows long overskirt of rose color tulle. Silver lace continued down front and makes a slight pointed train at back.

Watteau blue gown. Watteau blue tulle (self color) bodice, over band of cream lace—two metre peau de faille straps, pleated edge, crossing at back. Underneath the tulle, blue net trim, pleated edge around neck. Net sleeves gathered at elbow with long flowing frills. Blue moire girde fastened at back with bow and in center of bow a Strauss buckle set in silver, triangular shape and having a blue stone in centre. MINISTER TO HAITI
WASHINGTON, May 8.—Announcement was made at the state department yesterday that Arthur Daily-Blanchard, secretary of the American embassy at Tokio, who has been selected as minister to Haiti to succeed Madison R. Smith, resigned, will take up his new duties as soon as he can close his affairs in the Orient and return to the United States.

How to Overcome a Bad Constipation

There is a Mild Laxative That Will Bring Safe and Pleasant Relief Over Night

It is only natural that the simplest of ailments should be the most general, and so we have a whole nation suffering from constipation and indigestion, for they are closely allied. But common as constipation is many people do not seem to know they have it. They will complain of headache, drowsiness or biliousness, all unconscious of the cause of the trouble.

You should have a full and free movement at least once a day. If you pass a day you are constipated, and the result will be that you will catch a cold easily or have a more serious ailment. To cure the constipation and forestall still graver trouble take a dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at night before retiring and by morning relief will come, without disturbance from sleep or any inconvenience. Such emergencies, some of them fatal, many chronic invalids who had suffered from constipation all their lives. Mrs. N. Prantz, of Eighth st., Salem, Ohio, took physics for years, and, worst of all, without much avail. Finally she began to take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and today she is no longer troubled and eats what she likes. Many others will tell you that they have tried most things recommended for this purpose but have found Syrup Pepsin the only one always reliable. A bottle can be obtained at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter size being bought by families all ready familiar with its merits. Syrup Pepsin is mild, pleasant-tasting and non-gripping. Mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet it is effective in grownups. It is for everyone who suffers from any form of stomach, liver or bowel trouble, constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, etc. Its action will so delight you that you will forever avoid harsh cathartics, purgatives, pills and salts. Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 413 Washington st., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

TWO-PLATOON FIRE BILL

It is to be presumed that the one hundred and eleven members of the Massachusetts legislature who voted for the bill which requires all large cities to divide their fire-fighting force into day and night shifts—with the referendum clause attached—are convinced that there is either a great public necessity or a great public demand for such a change. What the desirable features of the measure are cannot be determined with the naked eye, but even the most superficial examination reveals the fact that it would pile up a most unwarranted burden on the public treasury—and this is a virtue, apparently, in the eyes of far too many people, whether wise legislators or just ordinary citizens. It would, of course, be a rather nice change for the firemen of the cities affected, but is their lot so hard that they require it? We have never yet seen the time when municipalities found it difficult to get applicants for positions on the single shift fire departments.

Aside from the merits or demerits of the bill in itself, there seems to be absolutely no reason why the legislature should interfere with what is a purely local matter for the municipalities. There is nothing in the present laws which would prevent Lowell or any other important city from making this change, if it seemed wise or timely that it be done. That the suggested change is neither wise nor timely is apparent at the first glance, though the solons who pleaded so earnestly for it laid great emphasis on the humanitarian side of the measure, and cheerfully admitted that it would cost all cities a great deal more. The Boston Herald estimates that the two-platoon bill would add three-quarters of a million to Boston's budget and raise the tax rate from thirty to fifty cents. Lowell might suffer from a proportionate basis, and at this time of public burden and high tax rate, anything which would entail such an enormous cost is little short of outrageous.

The cost to the cities of Massachusetts of the two-platoon bill is adopted must be reckoned in dollars and cents, but the other evil effects of it would outweigh even the monetary consideration. It has failed absolutely wherever it has been adopted in any form; it has interfered with discipline; it has rendered the men less fit for duty; it has decreased efficiency. There is no crying need for it and not all firemen are in favor of it. Many of them, of course, like all classes of public employees, are anxious for anything and everything in the nature of an advantage in wages or working hours, providing the public pays, but even some of the best fire chiefs in Massachusetts have condemned it, knowing from experience that it would tend to the deterioration of the fire departments rather than improvement. The two-platoon bill might with more appropriateness be called "the more costly and less efficient bill" and thus it would go to the voters of cities over 50,000 in population in its true colors.

Those members of the legislature who explained their vote by stating that they wished to give the various municipalities an opportunity to vote on the measure according to the referendum idea cannot be blind to the fact that not all things approved by the general electorate are desirable. So long as the money for innovations comes out of the public treasury, the tendency is to vote it away in gradually increasing amounts. The present suggestion is one of the most unnecessary and flagrant made in a long time, and public opinion ought to register itself in opposition so swiftly and so unmistakably that we would hear the last of the two-platoon bill for a very long time.

TEXTILE GRADUATES

In its possible influence on the future of the textile industry of Lowell, the annual graduation of pupils of the evening classes of the textile school is far more significant than the more heralded graduation of day students, for owing to conditions on which there is a great difference of opinion, very few Lowell boys attend the day classes. This is probably due to the fact, commented on frequently by The Sun, that there is room for far greater co-operation between the splendid school and the mills of the city. If Lowell young men were shown that expert training in the Lowell Textile school would lead to positions of trust, importance and adequate financial returns in their own city, it would not be necessary to agitate the need for textile training, nor would the condition noted by Mr. Smith in his recent criticism exist in such an exaggerated form.

One of the apparent causes for youthful neglect of the textile lines of industry and the consequent overcrowding of other professions is that those who aspire to higher positions in the mills aim at holding executive offices or positions of supervision, forgetful of the fact that trade excellence in the varied lines is of itself most desirable. This is not so much lost sight of in the evening classes, the students of which are not more or less wealthy young men who look forward to mill superintendentships or important positions in the counting house, but usually ordinary mill workers who wish to become experts in their respective lines. To such, promotion may come only after a long period of watchful waiting, but it will come nevertheless, and when it does come it will be all the more desirable for being based on real merit.

It is gratifying to find that in the class of 67 graduates who received their diplomas last Wednesday evening, 55 were from this city, but the fact that 12 more were from outside cities should be an incentive to many more local young men to be workers worthy of the industrial reputation of Lowell. As Mr. A. G. Cunnock remarked in his address, the local textile school has no superior in the world, and it stands to reason that it should be a greater benefit to the mills of Lowell than those of cities north, south, east or west. That it is not more helpful to local mills is a reproach to somebody, but whether the responsibility lies more on the mills or on the school or on the young men of the city is a matter for conjecture. Probably the fault is shared in some degree by all three parties.

Hon. John N. Cole of Andover outlined the proper mode of procedure when after declaring that textile training will be the redemption of New England manufacturing, he said that where a certain line of industry is flourishing there must be some means of educating men to carry along that industry. In declaring his pleasure that such is true of Lowell with its textile industry and splendidly equipped and well managed school, he could not have been very familiar with the conditions. Possibly perusal of the lists of graduates for many years past and their places of employment would enlighten him. However, he was speaking to the graduates of the evening schools, and in a sense his words had a direct application. All credit to the young men who, denied the opportunities of other more fortunate and often less appreciative young men of the city, persevered in their laudable determination to become textile experts. It now remains for mill officials to appreciate their ambition and their earnestness and to recognize it, not theoretically but practically.

EUGENICS CONDEMNED

At the opening of a conference of Methodist bishops in Oklahoma city recently the church dignitaries in their official address, which is the most important feature of such affairs, covered many recent schemes for social betterment, and incidentally went on record as having little faith in eugenics as a means for regenerating the race. "Many persons would have the church rely on eugenics," reads the address. "... for the making of a new and nobler race, and bring to bear upon man, the free agent, stock-raising expedients and plant culture device as the most efficacious means to improve the species. But she may not heed the voices of these spurious renovators of mankind, believing that the soul of all improvement is the improvement of the soul."

It would not be at all surprising if many of the most ardent exponents of the virtues of eugenics would agree with the bishops of the Methodist church before very long, for the theoretical advantages of artificial regeneration are getting severe jolts daily. When it is apparent to the least observant that the children of the wise may be born foolish, that physical wrecks spring from the physically perfect, that dullards claim the parentage of genius, and that the most beautiful babies often spring from parents of the slums, the futility of much eugenic nonsense becomes painfully evident. "The improvement of the soul" mentioned in the Methodist address as the proper substitute for eugenics has a strangely unfamiliar sound. Soul! Soul! Seems as though we've heard of such a thing sometime. Have exponents of eugenics heard of it?

IN MEXICO

Judging by the latest Mexican news, the rebels under Villa and Carranza have excellent and self-satisfying reasons for refusing to subject their differences with Huerta to mediation. For if things in that country are allowed to take their natural course the rebel will be in Mexico City before many weeks have passed and unless the crafty and courageous head of the de facto government is not on his way to a more peaceful climate by that time he will be given little time to hunt defiant notes at the American state department or at anything else. As this government has never directly interfered in the domestic Mexican trouble between the federals and rebels—though it passively favored the latter—neither mediation nor any other important change of policy will affect the march of events in Mexico, which points to the march of the victorious

Villa southwards. Many students of Mexican affairs have stated that Huerta took his recent anti-American stand on realizing that he must soon fall before the rebels, and wishing to have it appear that his failure was due to the opposition of a more powerful foe. If Huerta falls as reported, the first part of the president's program will be completed, and probably to his satisfaction. What to expect from Villa no one knows with certainty—but many both here and in Mexico feel that rebel success will not spell permanent Mexican peace.

THE PHYSICAL TEST

There were undoubtedly many excellent features in the bill which Rep. Achin of this city wished to substitute for the child labor law, to wit, that those minors who were considered by competent authority so constituted physically as to withstand work in the mills and factories without injury should be allowed to do so.

The tendency at present in the legislature is to do nothing which will stir up the manufacturing field of New England whether adversely or otherwise. What is needed is not new legislation, but a brief rest from all legislation affecting labor and labor conditions.

Whether for good or ill the present law must stand a longer test before any change be made. The manufacturers wanted the change as late a vast number of parents. The belief prevailed, however, that the law will work out all right in the end and perhaps it will.

REPORT ON VACCINATION

The report which the state board of health has addressed to the house of representatives regarding the subject of vaccination is a complete refutation of the charges of those who are supporting the anti-vaccination bill, and as the opinion of experts their view must command the respect that no mere political assertion can claim. According to the report of the board only two cases of vaccination out of half a million cases for the past ten years have been followed by deleterious results, and in both these cases the injury was not due to the vaccination process but to carelessness afterwards. The stand taken by the state authorities is supported by many recent instances, and everything points to the soundness of the official view. Incidentally the state report says that the need is for greater strictness with regard to compulsory vaccination rather than any laxity at this time.

The one man active and prominent in the Mexican situation who has received nothing but praise from all sides is Nelson O'Shaughnessy, charge of the American embassy at Mexico City, who seems to have cornered the market in tact and diplomacy. It is no small honor to hold the personal regard of Huerta and the confidence of the state department at one and the same time. The secret of his success lies apparently in the fact that, unlike Ambassador Wilson that was, he smiles much but says little. May your diplomatic days, O'Shaughnessy, be as long as your name!

Colonel Roosevelt, according to himself, lost 63 pounds during his trip to Brazil but he found a river, some snakes and other things. Apparently he has lost neither his voice nor his happy faculty of self-advertising.

One listening to the attack made on General Butler in the legislature last Wednesday must have regretted that he was not there. Or he might have been uncharitable enough to regret that some spouting politicians live so long.

And they lived happy ever after.

SEEN AND HEARD

It was an arduous task for the teacher to drill into her youthful pupils the principles of arithmetic. "Now listen," she said. "In order to be a mathematician, you must be of the same denomination. You can't take three apples from four peaches, nor eight marbles from twelve buttons. It must be three apples from four apples, and so on. Do you understand?"

Most of the children seemed to grasp the idea. However, one little youngster in the class raised a timid hand. "Please, teacher," he inquired, "couldn't you take three quarts of milk from two cows?"—Youth's Companion.

It was not left to modern doctors to associate the decline of the Roman empire with luxurious, warm bathing. Roman writers are full of moralizing on the subject. Seneca, glancing back at the good old times, recalled that the old Romans, though they washed their arms and legs daily, bathed their whole body once a week.

Even when Scipio introduced a warm bath into his villa the bathroom was "small and dark, after the manner of the ancients," with no pretensions to luxury; and the earlier public baths were so simple that the needle merely tested the temperature with his hand. Things moved on rapidly, and such emperors as Commodus bathed seven or eight times a day, and took their meals in the bath.

Considerable pomp used to attend the entrance into the water of the Duchess de Berri, who nearly 100 years ago first made sea bathing fashionable in France. When the duchess went bathing at Dieppe her arrival at the beach was hailed with a salvo of artillery.

The holder of the then newly created post of "inspector des mairies" had to be there to receive her, attired in a resplendent uniform, cocked hat and white gloves.

This functionary led her royal highness into the sea until the water reached his knees, when he retired with three profound reverences. The duchess, who was an expert swimmer, then proceeded to enjoy herself.

The militant suffragette was led into the dock by four bobbies and a bailiff. "Has the prisoner been searched?" inquired the judge.

"Yes, m' lord. She conceals no weapons, m' lord."

"Has she been fed?"

"No, m' lord. She absolutely refuses to eat, m' lord."

The judge frowned darkly and assumed his criminal scaring air.

"Your name?"

"The militant stared at him.

"Has she any eyes?"

The militant opened her mouth and gave a scream that might have been heard from Land's End to John O'Groats.

"How do you plead?"

The militant uttered a yell like the combined efforts of 27 steam engines.

"Do you deny the charge?"

"The militant howled like a pack of lone wolves on Onalaska's shore.

The judge dropped back, his hands covered his ears.

"Take her away!" he roared. "Gag her, smother her, put her out in the street. Don't you ever bring her into this court room again. I won't have it. She's discharged!"

And the militant lady departed, smiling blandly.

Those persons who delight in alliteration will appreciate the following advertisement written by the Irish poet, Owen Ruid O'Sullivan, born in County Kerry in 1748:

Pinklets, the New Laxative Really Do Correct It.

The sufferer from constipation is distressed after eating, gas forms on the stomach, the abdomen has a feeling of pressure and weight and is hard and distended.

The blood soon absorbs poisons that should have been expelled and loss of flesh shows that the body is being poorly nourished. Headaches become frequent, the patient is drowsy, irritable and sometimes faint.

Pinklets, the new laxative pills, do not wear out their effect before accomplishing their work of correcting constipation, because they do not stimulate the bowels to over-exertion. They assist nature so gently that the action is regular and thorough, yet without griping. Pinklets put the liver, stomach and bowels in harmonious, perfect working order.

A short trial of Pinklets will convince you that they are the ideal laxative. Every druggist can now supply you with Pinklets at 25 cents per bottle. Write to the Dr. Williams Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a Pinklet book telling all about the treatment of constipation.

CONGRESSMAN FROM POHICK

We sent an able congressman from Pohick on the Creek.

We told him to get busy with the body politic.

And make a diagnosis and prescribe the proper stuff.

Before we had to call for a post-mortem, sure enough.

And after he had spoke eternal truths we thought that he had look 'round and get a job for Jabez Jones

And Tim McGee and Ezra Boggs and half a dozen more.

Who dig such talking for him at our meetings in the store.

His eloquence is splendid. All his speeches are as good as gold.

Are elegantly phrased and very logical indeed.

But he keeps up his discussions of the party of the day.

And various other subjects most perplexing to the mind.

When we kind o' think it's time for him to mention Tim McGee and Boggs and Jones and other folks, perhaps including me.

Although our congressman is wise, he sometimes makes the trick.

GEN. SICKLES
Woonsocket Call: The financial troubles that gathered over General Sickles' head in his later years should not, now that he is dead, obscure the services he rendered his country. He was one of the great fighters of the Civil war. Brave as a lion, patriotic, oblivious of personal interests, and chivalrous he gave himself freely to the cause of the Union. Gettysburg was a field that proved human metal and Sickles came out unscathed and unscolding no drums. The country had to have such men, and it should be thankful for them and honor their memories.

RAILROADS AND NATHES
Leviston Sun: It seems to be forgotten that the present squeeze of the railroads and refusal to allow them reasonable rates is not only going to cripple them for making the necessary improvements and extensions, but is going to make them fight hard against over reducing rates or giving more favorable conditions to shippers.

MEDIATORS' TASK
Burlington Free Press: The Mexican situation appears to have more sides than a porcupine has quills. The arbitrating powers might spend all summer trying to define the status of Huerta, Velasco, Carranza, and Villa and all the rest. Down there it threatens to be a case of every man his own revolution.

LYNN SHOE TRADE
Lynn Item: It would be interesting to know what percentage of the pupils of our public schools drift into the shoe business. No doubt it is large. None of them has any previous experience, and they learn their part of the trade under conditions which are at least difficult. A shoe trade school similar to the Lowell textile school would be of great value in developing skilled workers, by now, they may be full of initiative and even genius, but he is limited to one line of endeavor by his own election of the part of the business he is to learn.

WORLD PEACE
Fitchburg Sentinel: The reports of exceptional public interest in the great peace meeting in progress in Springfield in this state is another evidence that this subject makes progress and takes hold of the heart of people. There is common sense in the matter, also and the absurdity of the military position becomes more and more evident. The fact that people think about its illogical processes.

CLEAN-UP
Manchester Union: Having given the house a thorough cleaning inside, polished the windows and looked after the painting, and put the law in perfect order, you will, of course, proceed today to clean up the back yard, screen the garbage cans, and thus give Clean-Up and Paint-Up week another push toward successful completion.

FACTS FOR FARMERS
The April issue of Facts for Farmers has just been sent out by the extension service of the Agricultural college. This is upon the above topic and was written by Prof. E. M. McDonald. It is really a resume of the corn show held in connection with farmers' week at the college recently. The following quotations from the circular will give you an idea of its value. "In addition to the usual ten-car exhibit at the recent corn show held during farmers' week at the Massachusetts Agricultural college, 45 exhibits of 40 ears each were sent from all parts of the state, and were representative of the common flint and dent varieties. In order to approximate as nearly as possible favorable field conditions, the corn was germinated in clean moist sand in a farm room. Proper germination of the samples tested seemed due in most cases to improper methods of selection, curing and storing, rather than to immaturity. Some of the brightest and best developed ears failed to germinate and in some conspicuous cases, ears of apparently poor quality, germinated perfectly. It is immensely important that farmers know whether their seed is to grow before they put it into the ground."

MEXICAN WAR HISTORY

The Start, the Finish, the Battles and the Result — Large Territory Added

Sixty-eight years ago this month the United States precipitated war with Mexico, which continued from April 23, 1846, until September, 1847, and added 651,590 square miles of territory, exclusive of Texas, to this country, an area nine times as large as the state of Nebraska.

The southwestern boundary line of Texas, whether the Rio Grande or the river Nueces, was the primary cause of the war, but back of it was the stimulus of "manifest destiny," the acquisition of New Mexico and California and the spur for revenge for the massacre of the Alamo. President Polk assumed the right to decide upon Rio Grande as the boundary without Mexico's consent.

Zachary Taylor was a general of the American forces in that day. He was a Virginian who had served in the war of 1812 and in the Black Hawk, Seminole and various other Indian wars with distinction, and later became president.

He was ordered by Polk to march westward of the Nueces. This was before annexation was accomplished. The president thus put peace in peril. Texas had claimed the Rio Grande as the boundary, but the land between it and the Nueces it had never been in possession.

Taylor marched, according to orders, to the Rio Grande. He reached it at what is now known as Brownsville. Arrived there, he planted a battery which commanded the public square or plaza in Matamoras, Mexico, across the river. He likewise blockaded the mouth of the stream.

The Mexican commander at Matamoras naturally held that this was beginning hostilities. So he crossed over the river April 23, 1846, and his force had a skirmish with a small force of our men. In it sixteen of our dragoons were killed.

The president then notified congress that American blood had been spilled on American soil. And the war was begun.

We were unready, of course, but the war went on. Taylor commanded in northern Mexico. He won the battle of Palo Alto, May 8, 1846, and that of Resaca de la Palma the next day, and about nine days later he took Matamoras. Monterey he captured September 24 and he defeated Santa Anna at Buena Vista in a two-day fight Washington's birthday, and the day after, 1847. For this he won rank as major general.

Meanwhile, Winfield Scott, another American commander, had been carrying on a campaign south of this territory, striking at the heart of the enemy's country.

Scott was the finest looking man in the army. There were those who said he was more majestic than Washington. At all events he was an excellent soldier.

Scott was general-in-chief in Mexico. He had 3500 men. Santa Anna, his opponent, had 12,000.

Scott landed his force at Vera Cruz. There our navy helped him by pegging away at the ancient fort of San Juan de Ulua, which had made much trouble for Hawkins and some of the other old-time free-booters. Scott put his men ashore by means of surfboats. On March 27 he had them in motion, and moreover somewhat increased his force by drawing on Taylor.

The theatre of war now changed to the line between Vera Cruz and the capital.

This position was flanked April 18 and attacked by three columns. Two divisions of Twiggs and North went up to the heights gallantly. Here Santa Anna commanded in person, but the heights were carried by storm and his guns turned on another part of the field that Taylor was assaulting. The Mexicans didn't care for much of that sort of thing and soon surrendered. Santa Anna, for his part, fled to Jalapa with Scott in pursuit. The latter fought well enough, but Santa Anna beat him—in the running.

A month or so after this fight at Cerro Gordo the Americans occupied Puebla. Here Scott was compelled to wait during June and July to receive reinforcements and to drill them.

August 7 he set out for the capital, which by this time was defended by some 20,000 men.

A series of engagements followed this movement. August 19 and 20 three battles were fought, namely, those of Contreras, Churubusco and San Antonio. These were really parts of one general engagement.

Let it not be imagined for a moment that the Mexicans did not fight. They fought here with bravery and stubbornness. But in the end they were completely routed. Pursuit of them reached to the very gates of their capital.

The fortifications of the capital were known as Molino del Rey, Casa Mata and Chapultepec. They were considered formidable.

September 7 an armistice terminated. Negotiations failing, Scott prepared to move on these works. September 8 he attacked.

Santa Anna was in command here. He was an old campaigner. He had governed Mexico with some intermissions, for twenty years. He drew up his forces with the right on Casa Mata and the left on Molino del Rey.

Both these positions were carried by assault and the Mexicans driven from the field.

The next two days were given to the assault of Chapultepec. Batteries were planted on both sides for this purpose, and September 13 a simultaneous assault was made.

The American troops at the same time stormed the fortress. The works were carried and the enemy fled in confusion.

The American army pursued them along the causeway of Belem and San Cosme, fighting to the gates of the city.

Here the enemy stood and made desperate resistance. The struggle lasted till nightfall.

That night our men rested on their arms. Early the next morning a detachment of the enemy arrived asking for terms. They were refused and the divisions of North and Quitman entered the city.

There was street fighting, however, for two days before the Americans secured possession of the city.

Negotiations now were renewed. There was guerrilla warfare a while longer, but the principal towns were garrisoned by our troops and our men carried on the government. February 2 a treaty of peace was signed and ratifications were exchanged a month of two later.

In his "Dictionary of United States History," J. Franklin Jameson says: "The war was plainly one of unjust aggression on a minor power, with the object of winning more territory for new slave states."

SCHUMANN-HEINK TALKS

CINCINNATI, May 8.—"Me, infatuated with any man—me, a mother of eight and a grandmother to six—me, I love him? Ach, himmel," said Mme. Schumann-Heink, the noted songstress of two continents, as she pointed for a moment between laughter and tears at her sense of humor came to her rescue. So she took it in laughter.

Then she went on to explain how everyone who knows her will, she is sure, understand how very ridiculous is the charge brought in Chicago late yesterday in the divorce court of the Windy City by her husband in private life, William Rapp, who she was infatuated with a Paterson, N. J. policeman, whom her son, Henry, had introduced to her with the statement that the young New Jersey arm of the law had a wonderful voice.

The policeman is one of Madame's proteges. He is attending the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor at her expense and after he is graduated he will be trained for the concert stage, she said yesterday. Mme. Schumann-Heink is living apart from her husband. The statement involving the Paterson policeman was made in an answer to her petition for divorce. It is stated not under oath Rapp charges his wife brought the policeman to her home in Chicago, and there was familiar with him. Madame is one of the soloists at the Cincinnati May festival, now in progress here.

"Of course, I did," said Schumann-Heink, emphatically, "and why not? I have a small palace in Chicago. This boy is a protegee of mine. He comes to Chicago. I invite him out. What is more natural? But he is only one of many young singers I am able to help."

ACTIVITIES IN BILLERICA

Highway Surveyor Twombly
Has Big Program of Roadwork
—Memorial Day Celebration

Highway Surveyor Edgar F. Twombly of Billerica is making arrangements to repair the main thoroughfares of the North Village and men are now at work clearing the macadam streets in preparation to the spraying of tar oil which will be done immediately. According to present plans over a mile of streets will be put in first class condition at once and others will be never since that time have they been given as good a cleaning as they are getting now.

In order to do this work thoroughly it was necessary to hire a street sweeper from the city of Lowell and this was drawn over the streets twice, so that very little refuse remains on Billerica's highways. When the sweeping is completed and the dirt has been carried away a machine to spread tar oil will be secured and each street that has been swept will be sprayed with the tar oil.

At present it is planned to start the work at Fordway bridge and go over Wilson, Faulkner and Carleton streets as far as the Boston & Maine depot, and return via Elm street to Talbot avenue. Later work will be started to improve the condition of Talbot avenue and then the hearts of automobilists will be made happy when they strike the Billerica thoroughfares.

After the streets are in condition Highway Surveyor Twombly will appoint Christopher Waskar of North Billerica "sparrow man" and then it will be left in his hands to keep them in A-1 condition.

The selectmen of Billerica are awaiting the decision of the county commissioners relative to the new state road between Billerica and Burlington and it is expected that something definite will be done soon. Billerica has appropriated the sum of $2500 provided the county and state appropriate similar amounts and if a favorable report is made work of building this road will be started immediately and will probably be completed during the summer months.

Another New Road

The residents of Billerica and Carlisle have petitioned the board of county commissioners for a public highway to be built between Chestnut road, Billerica and Maple street, Carlisle, at or about where a private way now lies through the land of George E. French and Frank Breen in Carlisle, and land of the Jenkins heirs, Billerica. This matter will undoubtedly be taken up at the next meeting of the commission.

Old Fellows to Parade

The North Billerica lodge of Odd Fellows, Manchester Unity, are making elaborate preparations for a class initiation on the evening of Thursday, May 21, when a uniform rank will be inducted in North Billerica. It is planned to have the members of Integrity lodge of Lowell present, as guests and a special program will be carried out. Arrangements are also to be made to have a full dress parade before the meeting with the members of Integrity lodge and also a number of grand officers from Boston taking part.

Memorial Day Celebration

Plans are being made by the various patriotic organizations of the town for a Memorial day celebration and the day will undoubtedly be observed in the usual appropriate way. At noon, the Civil war veterans, the Sons of Veterans, Ladies of the G. A. R., will converge on the common at the center and journey to the cemetery in South Billerica where flags will be placed on the graves of the dead comrades with appropriate exercises. On their return to the town hall there will be an address and patriotic songs will be sung. A dinner will also be served by the Ladies of the G. A. R.

New Steam Roller

The board of selectmen has not yet spent the $2000 which was appropriated to purchase a new steam roller for the exclusive use of the town. At the annual meeting the board was given permission to select any make it desired and although several have been looked at the members have been unable to agree upon any particular style.

Carshops Quite Busy

Building work has been begun in Billerica on the houses in which the employees of the Boston & Maine repair shops are to live. Land developing companies have located in different sections of both North Billerica and the Centre and it is believed that within another year there will be houses enough in Billerica for all the workmen who care to live there.

From present indications the houses will be pleasant, home-like structures, a neat type of a cottage designed to accommodate one family, and each will have ample space on its sides and in the rear for lawns and gardening. Several varieties of construction are represented in the different sections and this alone goes a long way toward making the appearance of the houses very attractive.

Besides the houses that are now being built plans are being made to erect stores as soon as the population requires it. That the storekeepers will do a thriving business is almost certain as Billerica is growing and the building work now in evidence is on the outskirts of the town and the few stores are located together in the hearts of both villages.

The board of trade is still hoping to establish a co-operative bank in the town but as yet the necessary number of shareholders have not been secured. However, it is only a matter of time before this will be a reality and it has been stated that one of Lowell's institutions may establish a branch so that the employees who live in Billerica will not be subjected to the inconvenience of coming to Lowell to deposit their earnings.

Everything is being rapidly rushed along at the Boston & Maine repair shops and the thousands men now employed in the different departments are busy overhauling locomotives and repairing passenger cars, etc. As yet no freight car repairing has been done at the Billerica shops and this will probably be done in Concord, N. H., and Fitchburg for some time at least. The number of men employed at the passenger car shop is increasing weekly and now fourteen coaches are attached to the working train which carries the employees back and forth to this city daily.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 8.—Two persons were killed in Mississippi, a number of others injured and thousands of dollars damage done to growing crops yesterday by storms that swept several southern states. A storm in southern Georgia and Florida left wide communication demoralized. Half destroyed growing cotton and corn in South Carolina and in eastern Tennessee hail did great damage to crops.

AT THE CAPITAL

Women Plan for a Big Suffrage Demonstration There Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, May 8.—With but a day remaining before they will march on congress and demand the passage of a constitutional amendment enfranchising women, suffragists from all over the United States were prepared today for their final charge. Everything is in readiness for the demonstration.

Although no estimate has been made of the number of women who will take part in the parade, it was said today that it would surpass previous demonstrations here.

When the marchers reach the capital they will be met by a committee composed of senators and representatives in congress.

The parade will have the youngest suffragette in the world in line. Announcement was made today that Sheilagh Stone, daughter of Representative Charles T. Stone of Illinois, would take with her mother in the procession tomorrow. She is six weeks old and has been enrolled as a member of the Congressional union, which is conducting the demonstration.

PERJURY IN FRANK CASE

ATLANTA, Ga., May 8.—It was announced yesterday that Judge R. P. Hill of the superior court, who yesterday denied a new trial to Leo M. Frank, under sentence for killing Mary Phagan, a factory girl, will instruct the grand jury which begins its sessions May 18, to investigate charges of perjury, coercion and intimidation of witnesses made against each other by both sides in the famous murder case.

USE OF PRISON LABOR

The taking of testimony in the strike situation at the Heywood Brothers and Wakefield company, at Wakefield, by members of the state board of conciliation and arbitration continued yesterday, morning and afternoon, and bids fair to continue for several days to come. The only check on such a situation itself was the presence of only about 100 workmen in the factory, as against approximately twice that number Monday. Officers of the company yesterday declined to say whether or not the factory is to close tomorrow, as was rumored in the town yesterday.

The witnesses at yesterday's sessions of the hearing, which were held in the town hall, were from the strikers' ranks. The company has not yet put on any witnesses, nor has its representative at the hearing, Fred M. Cleveland, participated in the questioning or discussions.

Raymond Dulong yesterday testified that changes in the style of chairs made at the factory requiring more work had not been accompanied by increases in pay, so that it was not possible for men to make as much a week now as they could make 10 years ago. He estimated the average wage for his work to amount to about $12, as against $10 for the same amount of labor 10 years ago.

Several other strikers corroborated Dulong's testimony.

Henry Thwaites, an official of a local labor union, charged that the company is having work done at the Salem jail, although it is alleged, employees' petitions for increased wages had been met with the reply that the company could not grant the increases because it was in competition with the prison labor of southern states.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

When a man marries he has to be very careful that his wife's disposition is one he can stand day in and day out for years and the same thing applies to the opposite sex. There are certain people who bring out all that is bad in another person's character and others who bring out all that is good. And sometimes a man has such a disposition that he ought to go off somewhere alone and stay for the rest of his natural life. Just such a man is George Sweeney, the name of the leading character in the two reel Pathé feature "Victims of Vanity," at the Opera House today. Intensely selfish, quick-tempered and proud, the moment he touched liquor in any form he became a beast. How a lovely and faithful wife makes him see the folly of his ways and leads him in the path of righteousness, forms a picture that is most interesting and one that every man, woman and child can follow the thread of the story and understand the moral lesson it teaches.

DAVID WARFIELD

"It's the public that makes stars, not the managers," says David Warfield, who comes to the Lowell Opera House on Monday evening, May 11, in "The Auctioneer." And now that he has gotten back to the part that brought him out as a star 12 years ago, I realize this more than I ever did before. "I didn't jump into stardom, but on the other hand, I stood and looked over the bars into the promised land for a long time. During that time I was approached by three managers, who assured me that they would be the

R. F. KETTES THEATRE
"Flinders' Furnished Flat," playing at the R. F. Kettes theatre, this week, is based on an actual happening in the life of Willard Simms, who plays the leading character. Simms once attempted to paper the room of his house. He didn't have to do it, but he had believed paperhanging to be nothing of a trade. Naturally enough he had a peek of trouble and got badly mixed up with the paper and the paste. In later years Simms thought the idea good enough for a vaudeville skit, and worked it into one. The result is the very funny act which is one of the hits of the week's bill. "The Big Surprise," played by Margaret Sawtelle and company of eight persons is a neat piece of cabaret work, with not one surprise but a half dozen of them. Martini and Maximilian in their burlesque on magic are another team dealing in funny things. The assistant to the magician is a barn comedian, who by spouting all of the tricks, gets many a laugh. Martini and Martini, club jugglers and swingers, are among the speediest performers in their line ever seen here. Other acts on the bill are: Lewis & Young, Wills & Fisher, Claude Raul and the Patho Weekly. Phone 28.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Theatre folk of Lowell are enthusiastic in their praise of the work of the Merrimack Square theatre players in "The Divorce Question," William Anthony McGuire's wonderfully interesting play. Never before have the members been given such opportunity to display their unusual talent, and they are making the most of their chance. Stewart Wilson and Miss Mayborn are especially good, while Mr. Weeks and Mr. Stevens are equally as good. See the play and learn the lesson it teaches. It is worth while. For the week commencing May 10, the presentation will be Channing Pollock's four-act drama, "The Little Gray Lady," a play without a hero, but filled with pathos and interesting situations. Telephone in advance and have your seats reserved. It costs no more.

THE KASINO
Lest you forget, the Kasino is now at its best, with Almer's famous orchestra engaged for the summer. The conditions on Thorndike Hill are ideal for dancing. Although practically in the heart of the city, all of the advertised for the Kasino is here presented, it is surrounded by greenery which contributes to its pleasures. Every night and on Saturday afternoon, the Kasino is at your disposal.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS AND MARINES LANDING AT VERA CRUZ AND GENERAL COMMANDING THEM

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

The Lowell Choral society which is busily preparing for its coming concert to be held on May 14, appears to have been equally busy as far back as 25 years ago, for we read in the old Sun: "Patrick Sarsfield Gilmore is to celebrate the 20th anniversary of his great peace jubilee at Boston, June 6-7. The Lowell Choral society will be represented in the chorus by 150 voices."

So much has been written in The Sun about the celebrated bandmaster that it is unnecessary to review his career at this time. He married a Lowell girl, who was Miss Nellie McNeill, about whom he composed the famous ballad, "I Was Seeing Nellie Home."

In the sky the bright stars glittered,
On the bank the pale moon shone;
And 'twas from Aunt Dinah's quilting party
I was seeing Nellie home.

Chorus

I was seeing Nellie home,
I was seeing Nellie home;
And 'twas from Aunt Dinah's quilting party
I was seeing Nellie home.

On my arm a soft hand rested;
Restled light as ocean foam;
And 'twas from Aunt Dinah's quilting party
I was seeing Nellie home.

On my lips a whisper trembled;
Trembled till it dared to come,
And 'twas from Aunt Dinah's quilting party
I was seeing Nellie home.

On my life new hopes were dawning,
And those hopes have lived and grown;
And 'twas from Aunt Dinah's quilting party
I was seeing Nellie home.

"We may forget the singer, but the song will never die."

Class of 1889 (High School)

If you were a pupil at the high school 25 years ago you will recall the names mentioned in the following item from the old Sun:

"The following officers of the high school graduating class of 1889 have been elected: President, Arthur Buttrick; vice president, Miss Josie Butler; secretary, Miss Minnie Bartlett; treasurer, Michael Corbett. A constitution and bylaws are to be drawn up by a committee consisting of Messrs. Martin, Graves and Lamore and Misses Goodale and Lambert."

Inspected the Boulevard
Says The Sun of a quarter of a century ago:

"Special barges and private carriages filled with local statesmen and common clay went up to the Pawtucketville boulevard Thursday afternoon. After an inspection there was a collection at Page & Sun's."

Leave it to the local statesmen to conclude their day's labor with a feed. And the "common clay" referred to were right there at the festive board with the statesmen. The city of Lowell in days gone by spent great sums of money on the boulevard for it was a most congenial place to work during the warm weather and jobs on the boulevard were always in great demand. When the sun became too hot, the tired city employee could enjoy a siesta under the trees or if he were so disposed could divest himself of his outer garments and disport amid the rippling waters of the Merrimack. If money wasn't appropriated early in the year for the boulevard the "consistants" would go down to city hall in droves to see about it. I recall a meeting of the common council long ago when a big battle was on to get an appropriation for the boulevard. A councilman interested in the matter made an "impassioned" speech on the neglected and dangerous condition of the roadway. "Why, gentlemen," he concluded, "there are rocks as big as boulders in the roadway and travel is positively dangerous."

"The last time I was up there I didn't see any rocks bigger than pebbles," interrupted a member who was "agin" the measure.

"I'll like to ask when the gentleman last visited the boulevard," said the speechmaking councilman.

"I was up there late last fall," was the reply.

"O, that accounts for it," said the promoter of the appropriation, "those pebbles have grown since then."

A Little Baseball Dope

Just about 25 years ago the Lowell team was going real bad and the sporting editor was quite upset over it. The opening game at Newark called forth the following comment:

"The opening game at Newark nearly broke the Lowellists' hearts. Thirteen bases on balls by Billy Sullivan. Quite enough to break up any team. Was it Newark beer that did it, or was it sea sickness on Long Island sound?"

Now don't run away with the idea that "Billy" Sullivan was "Billy" of The Lowell Sun, because he was not. Twenty-five years ago our "Bill" stuck to a mild diet exclusively and the only exhibitions of a public nature that he gave was to smile, when tickled in the ribs, to show to admiring relatives his first tooth. I glanced over the box score of that game and found that rain came to the rescue of the Lowell team in the sixth inning with the score 15 to 13 in favor of Newark.

According to the box score Billy Sullivan had seven assists and 16 errors, while Lowell had a total of 24 errors; some fielding game. But you know, in those days, the pitcher got an assist for each base out, so an error for each base on balls, which accounts for Sullivan's big record. Perhaps you'll wonder how that beer was made in Newark. It's easily explained. Twenty-five years ago Jones' ale had the call in Lowell and practically every beer sold locally to any extent was Ballantine's, for which Peter H. Donohoe had the agency. Ballantine's was made in Newark, hence the editor's wise knock.

Lowell ball players could be found all over the country even quarter of a century ago, as the following will show:

"Jack Roach of the Mathews signed with Galveston, Texas, on Wednesday."

Jack was a Texas-leaguer in the old days, and as I believe I remarked before, some ball players have been given up in interest in the game, yet although he has long since ceased to play.

Billy McGuirk on Deck
Do you remember Billy McGuirk, formerly of this city, but of recent years a receiving teller for the Nashua street railroad, on the rear-end. It was once said of Billy that his entrance into baseball was beyond the memory of man. But The Sun has him placed 25 years ago, for it says:

"Billy McGuirk won't go to the Athol. He is janitor of the Mathew Temperance Institute and can get $5 per game every time he plays with Melrose."

It seems rather unkind to expose a man's private business affairs especially when there was no income tax law to make him tell how much he earned but the editors in those days didn't care what they said about a man in public life. Those were the days before the advent of the Federal league, and a local ball player who could demand five bucks a game was a gentleman to be envied. Billy McGuirk could put more money in his pocket than any other Lowell-born ball player. He bore a charmed life, else he would have been passed out of the shadow years ago. After leaving Lowell Billy McGuirk went to Nashua, where for one glorious season he had the whole town in an uproar by rooting against the Nashua team which was then in the New England league by the angelic influence of Dr. Collins of that city. When Lowell went to Nashua, to play Billy would always join forces with the visiting rooters and draw odious comparisons between the two teams. He had a special grudge against Garry Wilson, who was then playing third base for Nashua. Billy insisted that he could go down to the North common in Lowell and pick up a hundred kids that could show up Wilson at third base.

"Why, I haven't handled a ball since I left Lowell, but I'll bet I could put on a uniform tomorrow and play a better third base than Wilson does," remarked Bill one day.

Billy's crack was promptly carried to the management of the Nashua team and after a council of war it was decided that the only way to stop McGuirk was to call his bluff by offering him a good day's pay to hold down third base for the team for a day.

Much to their surprise, but not to the surprise of those who knew him well, Billy accepted the offer and the next day showed up at Lowndale and donned a Nashua uniform. Wilson's friends started early to "kid" the "old buck," but only for a few minutes. Right off the reel Billy made a circus one-hand stab of a hot liner, making a double play, unassisted, at third and shutting off a run. Later he accepted several good chances without an error. At the bat he got a single and a double, and in fact made poor Wilson look like a plugged nickel. Immediately after the game he disappeared from view as he was all in from the exertion, while the fans of the town were slinging his praises. The next day he was offered a steady job on the team, but with a wave of the hand he calmly dismissed the offer, saying, "I'm through with baseball as a player, but I enjoy soccer. It played well. I know how it should be played as I endeavored to show you yesterday." And Bill has been living ever since on his reputation of that one day.

Billy was appointed janitor of city hall under the Courtney administration and one night shortly after his appointment he lighted the hall for a public hearing. It seems that the matter to be discussed was of more than ordinary interest and quite a crowd put in an appearance, to Bill's great surprise.

Going downstairs he met Mayor Courtney, who was just entering the building.

"Good evening, Mr. Janitor. Are there many at the hearing?" inquired His Honor.

"Gee, Mr. Mayor, there's a h— of a crowd; there must be a million up there," responded Bill with great earnestness.

"You must have counted some of them twice, Mr. Janitor, there can't be quite a million present," said the mayor with mock-seriousness.

"Well, there may not be a million, but I'll bet you the smoke, there's 10,000," said Bill, whose estimate of crowds was formed from the mobs that would assemble on the common to see him play ball.

Here's an item about an old-timer who will be instantly recalled:

"Jack Grady hasn't signed yet. He is a good backstop who plays the game as it should be played."

The late Jack Grady caught for Lowell in the old New England league and in his day was considered a top-notch catcher. He was a Lowell boy and a brother of Police Officer Billy Grady.

Bob Thomas' New Job

Supt. Robert J. Thomas has been connected with the water department for over quarter of a century, but not continuously, for it would appear that 25 years ago the wires became crossed in some manner and he severed his connection with the city temporarily. But he was not long out of a job, however, for the old Sun tells us the following:

"Friends of Robert J. Thomas, late superintendent of the Lowell water works, will be pleased to learn that he has accepted the position of New England agent of the Oliphant & Huggins Filter Co. of New York. Chauncey M. Depew is one-half owner of the company."

It didn't take Bob long to get back on the old job and he's there yet through all the changing administrations. The new charter put the water board out of commission, but not Robert. His association with Chauncey M. Depew undoubtedly is the secret of that amiable smoothness that has put more than one unfriendly politician to flight.

A Familiar Figure

Everybody will recall the late Mattie Towne, who for so many years sold the "War Cry" for the Salvation Army in this city. Perhaps all did not know her name, but all knew "Sister" as she was called. Twenty-five years ago she

MILLBURY MAN IS DYING IN HOSPITAL—MYSTERIOUS WOMAN ENHURT IN ACCIDENT, AT SITE

WORCESTER, May 8.—E. Edgar Benjamin, one of the wealthiest business men of Millbury and formerly of Newton, is dying at the Worcester hospital as the result of an automobile accident on the state highway near Sterling early yesterday morning.

A woman whose identity is not known and who was in the machine with him, escaped uninjured and is watching constantly by the dying man's bedside. She steadfastly refuses to make herself known and every effort is being made by the authorities to keep the matter secret.

As far as is known Benjamin and the woman were speeding along the state road between Sterling and Sterling

Junction. Benjamin was driving, and in the heavy fog which hung over the countryside he could not see to keep his machine in the highway. In taking one of the turns, it swerved into the ditch and tearing along for a few rods, crashed into a fence and turned turtle.

Benjamin was hurled over the wind shield and pinned beneath the heavy engine, while his companion, it is understood, was thrown in the opposite direction, striking on a grassy bank by the roadside. Although badly shaken up, she was unhurt and, rising to her feet, she staggered to the wrecked car.

There, unconscious and groaning, she found Benjamin. So badly was he pinned beneath the debris that the woman could not help him. After several futile attempts to drag his body from beneath the car she ran to a farm house some distance away and summoned aid.

Benjamin's bleeding form was finally released, but restoratives had no effect whatever. He was placed in an automobile and with the woman in attendance upon him brought him to this city.

His skull was fractured, the pelvic bone broken, while his body was a mass of cuts and contusions. Benjamin, who is a bachelor, is superintendent of the National Cash Manufacturing company of Millbury and owner of the Millbury baseball team of the Middlesex Valley League.

NATIONAL FOREST

Nearly 17,000 acres have just been added by act of congress to the Caribon national forest, Idaho. This is one of the first of such additions through congressional action, and is the largest so far made by direct legislation.

Those who have followed the national forest movement in this country will recall that most of the forests have been created through presidential proclamation, which set aside, for timber growing or for water protection, certain areas of the public domain. In March, 1907, however, congress passed a law that no further additions should be made to the national forest areas in the states of Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington and Wyoming, except through congressional action.

Since July, 1909, residents of the city of Montpelier, Idaho, have been petitioning to have this 17,000 acres added to the Caribon national forest, because the area includes the watershed of the stream which furnishes the city's water supply. Not being within a national forest, the tract was given over to unregulated grazing and other abuses which resulted in stream pollution and became a serious menace to health. The citizens of Montpelier, at several times subsequent to their first efforts in 1909, renewed their petition, and the act just passed represents the successful outcome of their efforts.

QUARTER CENTURY AGO

was selling the "War Cry" or what ever Salvation Army publication was in vogue at that time, in Newburg, N. Y., where she met with an accident, for the Sun says:

"Mattie Towne, the Salvationist from Lowell who fell through a trap door at Newburg, N. Y., while selling Salvation Army literature, is improving."

"Sister" Towne returned to Lowell and was a familiar figure on the streets until the time of her death a few years ago.

A firm friend of "Sister" Towne was the late John J. Mahoney, better known as "Isaac," who for many years conducted the "Chippie Shaders" in Merrimack street near Suffolk. "Isaac" and "Mattie" had some great talks together at the former's place of business, and Mattie ever avowed that "Isaac" was a Christian gentleman if he was engaged in the liquor business. One morning, long ago, Mattie entered the "Chippie Shaders" with the usual bundle of "War Cry's" under her arm. That night the aldermen were to grant the license and there were grave rumors as to who and how many were going down "Isaac" like the others, was on the anxious seat. Approaching him, Mattie said: "Will you buy a 'War Cry' this morning, Mr. Mahoney?" Mattie always pronounced the name "Mahoney," which flattered "Isaac" immensely.

"Isaac" produced the nickel and then said: "Sister, they're granting the license tonight and I want you to pray that I'll get mine. If I get it I'll buy the War Cry from you every week as long as you come around."

Mattie thought a moment and then said: "Well, Mr. Mahoney, I can't pray that you'll get a license because we don't believe in liquor-selling, but I'll pray that you will be a successful man."

That night the licenses were granted and "Isaac" got his. A day or two afterward, Mattie called in again and with a huge smile on her genial countenance said: "I guess my prayers were answered, Mr. Mahoney. You were a successful man."

And "Isaac" kept his promise and purchased the War Cry every week afterward.

The Donohoe Outing

There have been outings of all kinds and descriptions in the past, but there has never been anything since like the celebrated Donohoe outing held for many years at the Donohoe farm in Dracut, with Peter H. Donohoe as host.

The Donohoe outings began 25 years ago as may be seen by the following: "Ex-Alderman Peter H. Donohoe dedicated his new barn on the old Lannan estate in Dracut, Thursday. There was a big attendance, 500 sandwiches being consumed. Boston friends sent Peter an ivory-handled, gold mounted whip."

The outing of 25 years ago might have been a big thing for those days, but it wasn't a circumstance to the annual affairs that followed. Five hundred sandwiches would have hardly fed the police officers on duty in later days for guests prominent in public and business life came from all over New England to greet Peter H. at his annual feast. A big clambake was always a feature and likewise a decoration that beat the world, known as "Peter's Punch." This punch was considered the greatest thirst-quencher devised since the days when the gods sipped their nectar. Only one man knew the secret of its ingredients and then mount guards on the wall the recipe for it died with the event armed with Gatling guns. The number of uninvited guests became so great that Peter was obliged to abandon the outings, to the deep disappointment of the hundreds who never missed the festive occasions while they were in vogue, and doubtless to the deep regret of Peter himself.

ARREST N. Y. ATTORNEY

F. H. Griffin and Wife Arrested at Groton on Charge of Using the Mails to Defraud

BOSTON, May 8.—Francis H. Griffin, an attorney of New York and his wife, Clara Griffin, were arrested at Groton today charged with using the mails in a conspiracy to defraud. The government officials claim that by fraudulent representations Griffin and his wife have obtained between $200,000 and $500,000 from various persons.

The arrests were made on complaint of Postoffice Inspectors Swann and Mayhew of New York, who have been working on the case several months.

According to the federal officials, the alleged conspiracy has extended over the past seven years. It is charged that Mrs. Griffin has represented to many persons that she had contracts for stenographic work in connection with trust investigations by federal, state and municipal authorities. Owing to the secrecy attending such investigations Mrs. Griffin claimed, it is charged, that she was unable to obtain from the banks the funds needed to carry out the contract, as the banks were connected parties. She represented her expenses as heavy but profits large, according to the officers.

It is charged that Mrs. Griffin obtained the desired funds from individuals, though she had no contracts as represented.

One man in New England, whose name is withheld by the prosecutors, supplied $100,000 and two others furnished $10,000 each. It is asserted.

The Griffins have been stopping at a hotel in Groton since April 21. Their last known New York residence was at the hotel Manhattan.

Mrs. Griffin before her marriage was Miss Clara H. Holland of Belchertown, this state. She is about 42 years old and her husband is five or six years her senior.

BIDS FOR CITY LUMBER

Boston Supply Department to Place Orders for 1,000,000 Feet—Saving of $6000 on the Deal

BOSTON, May 8.—The city supply department is to ask bids on 1,000,000 feet of lumber, being by far the largest order ever purchased by the city. Bids are also asked by the city on 15,000 feet of lagging, 250,000 paving bricks, 350,000 sewer bricks and 4000 barrels of cement.

The mayor has saved about $6000 on a purchase of 25,000 tons of coal for the city for the next year. The average price paid per ton was $3.81, which is 16 cents a ton cheaper than the price paid last year.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Lowell council, No. 8, Royal Arcanum, conducted another one of its successful ladies' nights in Odd Fellows hall and although all past events of this kind have been great successes last evening's social proved one of the most enjoyable ever held by the council. During the evening whist was played, an entertainment was furnished and music was given by Cushman's five-piece orchestra. Refreshments were served and the event broke up at a late hour, all stating that they were very much pleased with the evening's program.

Post 155, G. A. R.

With over 35 comrades present, considerable business was transacted at the regular meeting of post 155, G. A. R. and plans were made for the Memorial day celebration. An invitation was received from Farragut post, Sons of Veterans, inviting the members of this post and their wives to be their guests at a banquet at the close of the parade May 30, to be held in the vestry of the First Universalist church and in which not only members of the post but all veterans of the Civil war who are not comrades of the G. A. R., are also invited.

Order of Owls

The Lowell Owls in large numbers, flew to their new quarters in Elks building, 43 Middle street, last night. After the business meeting and a large initiation, a delightful housewarming and entertainment was enjoyed by all.

The president called the business meeting to order at an early hour and all matters were hurriedly gone through.

The entertainment committee, C. F. Harrington, secretary, made a most interesting and encouraging report. The committee has many plans for the future and is keeping in mind the building up of a large membership.

After the report of their committee a large class of young men was initiated and an enthusiastic reception was accorded them, which made them feel that they were always Owls. After this the entertainment opened, which consisted of the following numbers:

Plano solo, Joe Hurley; selections by the Pawtucket Boys' minstrels, consisting of the following young artists: Instructor, Mr. Hawker; and men: Messrs. Putnam, Bartlett, Silcox, Mathewson, Armstrong, Fred Chandler, together with a large chorus of boys, gave a royal entertainment. Their songs were well sung, their jokes were up-to-date and their witticisms were highly appreciated by all. The end song men were repeatedly encored.

Mr. P. A. Mills and Mr. Joseph Clark then rendered some most pleasing violin solos and vocal duets. Mr. Clark was to be a adept at the violin, and he was ably assisted by Mr. Mills on the piano. Mr. James Callahan contributed humorous songs and stories.

Refreshments were served, cigars were passed and a royal good time was enjoyed by all.

BILLERICA SOLDIER'S CLOSE CALL

Geo. R. Kearney of No. Billerica Had Horse Shot Under Him

No Recent Breakout at Laredo Says Mr. Kearney

George R. Kearney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Kearney of Talbot avenue, North Billerica, is one of the Lowell boys who has seen real service at Mexico, and the young man recently wrote to a friend in this city, telling of a thrilling experience he had at Nuevo Laredo, when his horse was shot from under him, but fortunately the young soldier escaped injury.

Mr. Kearney, who is well known in this city and home town, North Billerica, enlisted with the 15th Cavalry, U. S. A., on Jan. 28 of the present year. He was then assigned to Fort Slocum, where he remained on duty until the Mexican trouble broke out, when he was transferred to the Mexican line, where he was given an opportunity of seeing real service.

After remaining some time aboard a United States battleship on the Mex-

GEORGE R. KEARNEY, 15th U. S. Cavalry

ican border, the 15th Cavalry was landed at Laredo, Tex., where later the U. S. A. soldiers were fired upon by the Mexican federals. It was during that battle that Kearney had his horse shot from under him and miraculously escaped being killed. In that same battle four horses were killed by Mexican bullets.

The cavalry men later had quite an experience when they traveled 127 miles on horseback, in pursuit of "greasers," who were doing their very best to get away with some of Uncle Sam's horses, and they encountered thrilling experiences during this long ride.

Mr. Kearney in his letter tells of the shooting of an Indian with the reputation of a "bad" man, who was shot to death by possession, after he had defied them to arrest him. It seems that Luz Padraza, for such was the name of the Indian, was wanted for the murder of an Indian woman, whom he shot to death at one of the festival dances which was held last fall. The murderer at that time made good his escape, but sometime in April he returned to his village, Ysleta, and sent a message to the deputy sheriff, defying him to come and arrest him.

The following morning Deputy Sheriff Wuerchmidt, accompanied by custom inspectors went to the house where Padraza was staying. As the posse approached on horseback, Padraza and his relatives within the house opened fire, but did not hit anyone. The posse men fired at the Indian, one of the bullets striking him in the head and killing him instantly. The officers at Ysleta were endeavoring to organize the Mexicans and Indians against the Americans.

Mr. Kearney is now stationed at Laredo, Tex., and he says he is enjoying the best of health. There has been no breakout recently and the 9th infantry and the 15th cavalry are anxiously awaiting the result of the peace conference now being held between statesmen of South America.

At the quarterly meeting of the Lowell Historical society, to be held Wednesday evening, May 13, in Memorial hall, George Francis Daw, secretary of the Essex Institute of Salem, will deliver his lecture on "The River Astronaut, a Middlesex and Essex County Waterway." The lecture will be illustrated with lantern slides. There will be no charge and all are welcome.

ROBBED 78 GAS METERS

BOY THIEF CAUGHT AFTER SENSATIONAL CHASE IN BOSTON—SEVERAL SHOTS WERE FIRED

BOSTON, May 8.—Captured after a sensational chase yesterday through the streets of Somerville, during which several shots were fired, Stephen 11, Harneth, an 18-year-old Roxbury lad, was taken to police headquarters in that city, and after a rigid "third degree" confessed last night to wholesale larcenies from gas meters. In all, he admitted breaking into 78 meters.

Harneth was taken into custody by Patrolman Lynch, who had been watching him for a long time, and followed him from a house at 15 Dover street, West Somerville.

Noticing the officer Harneth took to his heels and was fast making his escape when Lynch drew his revolver and opened fire. The shots attracted the attention of scores of persons who joined in the chase, finally surrounding their quarry after a pursuit of several blocks.

A skeleton key which would fit any meter of the Cambridge Gas Light company was found in Harneth's pocket, and also five other keys, and a .42-caliber revolver with a large number of cartridges.

In spite of this incriminating evidence, though, the boy stoutly maintained his innocence at first, confessing to his thefts only after a grueling examination.

STREET RAILWAY CARMEN

The Street Railway Carmen held a complimentary party and dance last evening in Prescott hall, and it was largely attended. Doyle's orchestra furnished the music of the evening and the young people danced to their heart's content until 12 o'clock. There was a short intermission between times and the "Paragon Four" gave an entertainment which was greatly enjoyed. The committee in charge of arrangements were as follows: P. J. Fell, chairman; J. Lyons, J. Primeau, John Sullivan, T. J. Maroney, secretary; Fred Crowley, president; Joseph Powers, vice president.

GARDNER FINED

For Leaving Horse and Wagon Standing too Long on Central St.

Jake Gardner was arraigned before Judge Enright in police court this forenoon on a complaint charging him with permitting a vehicle to remain on Central street for more than twenty minutes, the time allowed by law. He pleaded guilty.

Patrolman Considine, who watches in the vicinity of Merrimack square, testified that on Thursday, April 30, the defendant left a horse and wagon standing on Central street from 4:30 p. m. to 5:20 p. m. He said that the traffic was very heavy at that time and the street was blocked at least three times while Mr. Gardner's team was hitched there. The defendant took the witness stand and told the court that he was visiting a lawyer's office and did not know just how long his team remained on the street. Judge Enright found him guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of three dollars.

TOWN OF DRACUT NEWS

Electric Lights to be Installed on New State Highway — Danger Signals Yet Missing

This evening at the town hall in Dracut Centre a hearing will be held in relation to pole locations on Merrimack avenue, otherwise called the Lowell-Lawrence boulevard, and if the result of the hearing is satisfactory the Lowell Electric Light Corp. will at once begin the work of installing 35 arc lights along the road. It is expected that the hearing will be attended by 35 abutters and with the exception of probably a couple, no one will object for it is understood that the lights will be as welcome as the flowers in May.

At the present time there is one single light on the road between the city line and Belle Grove and that is at the corner of the road and Varnum avenue. The light, which is nothing but an oil lamp, was placed there about seven years ago by the town and Mr. J. A. Flanders has been taking care of it ever since with no expense to the town.

Speaking about the state road some of the residents of the district are of the opinion that it would be well for the state engineer to fulfill his promise and install "dancer" signs at various places along the road as he said he would do, before any serious accident occurs. There is a place particularly dangerous and that is about a half-mile past Belle Grove, what is known as the S curve. There is no light in the immediate vicinity and the curve is very treacherous even in the day time for one who is not acquainted with the road on account of the view being cut off by a high hill. When the road was constructed the state engineer, it is said, selected the most dangerous places along the road and said he would install warning signs but he is still to do as he promised.

The town officials are also requested to place signs in relation to speed limit, especially for motorcycles, which are being driven at breakneck speed along the road. Last Sunday a party of about 30 motorcycles skipped over the road at lightning speed and many narrow escapes took place. "If this mode of fast traveling is kept up," said one of the residents, "I fear that some disastrous accident will occur before a great while, and I believe it is up to the selectmen to put a stop to this fast driving and at once."

Refuse to Sell
A couple of men from somewhere, probably Boston, looked over several tracts of land along the river in the vicinity of Belle Grove yesterday and finally they decided upon one near the old dance hall at Belle Grove. They tried to secure a lease or an option on the land, but when they announced their motive, which was to erect a land ambulance, the immediate vicinity of the boulevard, but what their success has been is not known. One company, it is said, tried to purchase several large tracts of land in Blumiere, Kenwood and Brookside, which would later be divided and sold for house lots, but some say that the price offered was not sufficient and therefore, business is still at a standstill. In the event of companies securing land in that district it is certain that many new buildings will be erected in the course of the summer and many are of the opinion that it would mean a good boom for the town and district.

Land Speculators
It is understood that during the past few days Dracut has been the stopping place of several land speculators who are endeavoring to secure all the land available in the immediate vicinity of the boulevard, but what their success has been is not known. One company, it is said, tried to purchase several large tracts of land in Blumiere, Kenwood and Brookside, which would later be divided and sold for house lots, but some say that the price offered was not sufficient and therefore, business is still at a standstill. In the event of companies securing land in that district it is certain that many new buildings will be erected in the course of the summer and many are of the opinion that it would mean a good boom for the town and district.

Camping Season
Many of the camps along the river are now occupied and every day new campers arrive with what furniture they need for the summer months. The majority of the campers, it is said, are coming from Haverhill and Newburyport, while a number of Lowell clubs are leasing places for the season. In a few weeks the district will be thickly populated and will take a very different aspect.

Happy Family
There is no happier family in the town than that of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bradley of Belle Grove, to whom the eighth boy was born a couple of days ago. Mr. Bradley says if God favors him with another son he will organize a baseball nine in a few years and then Dracut will be placed on the map of baseball.

Work Progressing
The new home of James J. McManis in Kenwood is nearing completion and pretty soon the well known florist and his family will occupy one of the best residences in that part of the town. Last week Mr. McManis had a mammoth water tower installed, and he hopes that the tower will hold enough water to supply the needs of his home and greenhouse. He says that a man who wants his property protected in Dracut must do it himself.

Land Speculators
It is understood that during the past few days Dracut has been the stopping place of several land speculators who are endeavoring to secure all the land available in the immediate vicinity of the boulevard, but what their success has been is not known. One company, it is said, tried to purchase several large tracts of land in Blumiere, Kenwood and Brookside, which would later be divided and sold for house lots, but some say that the price offered was not sufficient and therefore, business is still at a standstill. In the event of companies securing land in that district it is certain that many new buildings will be erected in the course of the summer and many are of the opinion that it would mean a good boom for the town and district.

Camping Season
Many of the camps along the river are now occupied and every day new campers arrive with what furniture they need for the summer months. The majority of the campers, it is said, are coming from Haverhill and Newburyport, while a number of Lowell clubs are leasing places for the season. In a few weeks the district will be thickly populated and will take a very different aspect.

COLORADO STRIKE

Appeal for Financial Help Issued—No General Mine Strike

INDIANAPOLIS, May 8.—That it is not the part of wisdom of the miners in the organized states to engage in a general strike at this particular time, was the report today of the special committee to the international executive board of the United Mineworkers of America in session here. It was decided, however, to push the strike in Colorado and an appeal for financial help was issued.

NO VOTE, NO KISS

NEW YORK SUFFRAGETTE PRESENTS NEW SCHEME FOR VOTES FOR WOMEN

NEW YORK, May 8.—A kissing strike is the newest method in votes for women war.

"If we women all go on strike and agree not to kiss our husbands until we get the vote," Mrs. Havelock Ellis told the members of the Woman Suffrage party at 43 East Thirty-fourth street, "and if we agreed also not to cook, wash, or even to look at our husbands, we would get it much quicker than by the present program of destroying art treasures and golf grounds. All we need to do is to sit still with our hands in our pockets and a non-committal smile on our countenances, while we watch the men running to bring us the vote. Let us take as our motto, 'To break hearts rather than windows.'"

TO HANISH TITLE SHARKS
BOSTON, May 8.—Mayor Curley wants to kill the title shark business in connection with the city tax sales annually for unpaid taxes. He believes a method may be devised whereby these title might vest in the city and a reasonable interest be charged for a certified period of three or four years. At the expiration of that time the property might be sold and the amount received, less interest and other charges to be turned over to the former owner.

SILK WEAVERS RETURN
WOONSOCKET, R. I., May 8.—A majority of the 150 silk weavers employed by the Hamlet textile mill, who have been on strike since April 9, for an increase in wages, returned to work yesterday morning, the management announced.

It was also announced at the mill office that those who did not return to work yesterday have expressed their intentions of going back to work by Monday, a number of them having secured work out of town during the strike. Several striking weavers who did not return to work remarked this morning that about 30 of the weavers who went on strike at the start had returned to work, these being mostly all women, with the exception of three or four men.

PLEASANT CARD PARTY
HELD BY THE ALPHA EPSILON PHI AT THE HOME OF WILLIAM SYDEMAN

The Alpha Epsilon Phi fraternity entertained a large number of both local and out of town friends Wednesday evening at the home of William H. Sydeinan, 109 Liberty street.

The affair was without a doubt one of the most delightful of the many entertainments which have been given by this popular fraternity. The most enjoyable event of the evening was the whist contest in which sixteen couples participated.

Four prizes were offered: two first and two consolation. The first prize for ladies was won by Miss Bessie L. Neyman; the ladies' consolation prize was awarded to Miss Stella Sydeinan.

The gentlemen's first prize was won by Mr. Henry Sokolsky, and the consolation prize for gentlemen was presented to Mr. Samuel Smith.

The presentation of the two consolation prizes afforded much amusement to the gathering.

After whist, refreshments were served and pretty favors were distributed among the guests.

During the evening music was furnished by Neyman's orchestra. Several vocal selections were rendered by the Alpha Epsilon Phi quartet. The latter part of the evening was spent in various games and amusements.

The party broke up at a late hour and the guests departed with best wishes for the future success of the Alpha Epsilon Phi. The matrons were Mrs. Sydeinan and Mrs. Goldman.

The success of the entertainment was due in large measure to the untiring efforts of the following committee: Mr. William Sydeinan, chairman; Mr. Samuel Smith, Mr. Julius Neyman and Mr. Archie Barlosky.

TWO WOMEN INJURED
STRUCK BY RACING CHAUFFEUR WHILE RIDING IN THEIR AUTO. MOBILE

WESTON, May 8.—Mrs. Henry Newton and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Herbert Newton, both of South Sudbury, had a close call from instant death about 5 o'clock last evening when their auto was struck by a racing machine driven by John Gately of River street, West Newton.

Mrs. Herbert Newton, who was driving the runabout, turned out to let one machine pass and then returned to the center of the highway just as the second racer crashed into her car, throwing herself and mother-in-law from their seats. The racer was swerved from the roadway by the force of the collision and pulled up against the wall.

The elder Mrs. Newton was picked up unconscious and carried into the house of Philip Ayres, near by. Dr. Van Noy found that she had escaped with a broken collarbone and multiple bruises. The younger Mrs. Newton strained her knee, but not seriously.

The car they were riding in was wrecked, as was also Gately's racer; the steering post was broken clear off and the front end of the machine badly smashed.

With Gately at the time was Frank R. Weir of Hotel Oxford, Boston. Neither man was hurt. The two women were able to go to their homes about 7.

The car driven by Gately was numbered 37323 and had the number "43" in large figures on the gas tank. The other car was numbered 21974 and was a duplicate of Gately's car. Later it was learned that this car is registered in the name of Meredith Whitehouse, 16 Dunster Hall, Cambridge.

Chief of Police P. J. McLaughlin after learning that the women's injuries were not serious decided to let Gately go home. The young man, as well as the driver of the second car, will be summoned into court on a charge of reckless driving.

With the driver of the other racer was a young woman. After the crash they kept going toward Weyland, but later returned here.

FEWER BABIES DIED
BOSTON BOARD OF HEALTH SHOWS DECREASE IN INFANT MORTALITY

BOSTON, May 8.—Seventy-two fewer babies died in Boston during the first four months of this year than during the corresponding period of last year.

Dr. W. H. Davis, vital statistician of the Boston board of health, prepared the figures showing that deaths of children under one year of age in the first third of 1914 numbered 658 as against 728 for the same period of last year.

"The reduction of deaths of children under two years is even more satisfactory," declared George R. Bedinger, director of the Milk and Baby Hygiene association, in commenting on these figures. "Boston deaths of children under two years in the first three months of 1914, numbered 556, as against 633 for the corresponding quarter of last year. The figures are not available for the month of April. In other words, 97 fewer deaths occurred in the period of three months.

"It is quite significant that in the group which had most benefited by supervision of milk stations and other infant welfare agencies, there was the largest saving of lives.

"This coming summer the Milk and Baby Hygiene association plans to carry on a special campaign as it did last summer. It hopes to be able to add enough nurses to its stations so that more babies than ever before can be kept well. As is said in New Zealand, 'It is better to put a fence at the top of a precipice than to maintain an ambulance at the bottom.'"

WHY YOUR STOMACH HURTS
Some Common-Sense Advice

BY A DOCTOR
Pain in the stomach, variously called indigestion, dyspepsia, flatulence, burn, stomach ache, etc., is usually attributed to some unnatural, abnormal or diseased condition of the stomach itself. Nothing, however, could be farther from the truth. Nineteen times out of twenty the stomach is absolutely healthy and normal, the pain and discomfort being entirely due to the acidity and fermentation of food which irritates and distends the stomach, although if this condition is allowed to run on, in time the constant irritation of the acid is likely to eat into the stomach walls and produce ulcers of the stomach. Medicine is useless in such case. The acid and fermenting food must be removed by a stomach pump or an emetic, or you must neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia in a little water; this latter is far the simpler and the safer method. Bisulphated magnesia almost immediately neutralizes the dangerous acid and by correcting the food contents enables even a tired, weak stomach to digest almost any food without difficulty. Physicians advise that bisulphated magnesia should be kept in every home and a little taken after every meal whenever the slightest tendency to food fermentation is shown.

MASS. MILITIA TOP HEAVY

War Dept. So Informs Gov. Walsh —Recommends Elimination of Surplus Officers

Asst. Sec. of War Henry Breckenridge has sent to Gov. Walsh a letter in which he states frankly that the present organization of the Massachusetts militia is top heavy as a result of the state's failure to bring its military arm up to the war department's requirements for a two brigade force.

Sec. Breckenridge, after telling the governor the result of the war department's investigation asks Gov. Walsh's cooperation in an effort to satisfactorily adjust existing discrepancies.

The governor who has assumed not only the title but the full duties of the office of commander-in-chief, will turn the war department's communication over to his newly appointed board of survey.

Sec. Breckenridge's communication follows:

"My Dear Governor: I beg to invite your excellency's attention to the unsatisfactory result of the efforts made by the war department to secure the cooperation of the military authorities of Massachusetts in the matter of the adjustment of the organization of the organized militia of the state so as to meet the requirements of the act of congress approved Jan. 21, 1904, which act as amended by the act of May 27, 1905, and the act of April 21, 1910, reads in part as follows:

"Section 3.—On and after Jan. 21, 1910, the organization, armament and discipline of the organized militia in the several states and territories and the District of Columbia shall be the same as that which is now, or may hereafter be prescribed for the regular army of the United States, subject, in time of peace, to such general exceptions as may be authorized by the secretary of war."

Massachusetts Stands Alone

"On July 2, 1913, I wrote to the then governor of Massachusetts outlining my ideas in regard to a circular it was proposed to issue with a view to securing compliance with the law quoted above. At the same time I solicited the governor's cooperation.

"In reply the governor wrote under date of July 17, 1913, we shall be very glad to cooperate in every way possible with your views, and if necessary will take steps to reorganize in accordance with the plan which you say will be embodied later in a circular. We will use every endeavor to secure the enactment of legislation should such be necessary."

"The proposed circular was issued on Aug. 1, 1913, under the title of Circular No. 8, War Department, Division of Militia Affairs. Under the terms of the circular the states were given until Jan. 1, 1914, to make the necessary changes in organization, except as regards certain arms and staff departments concerning which the time limit was considerably extended.

"I shall not intrude upon your excellency's time by discussing the circular. Suffice it to say that a majority of the states promptly acquiesced in its provisions, also that every state except Massachusetts has either complied or announced to do so.

State Declines to Accept Terms

"In view of the assurance of your excellency's predecessor, I was confident that Massachusetts would promptly reorganize as far as possible, along the lines set forth in the circular being obligatory under the law. I beg to impress upon Your Excellency the importance of making the necessary changes now rather than waiting until the outbreak of war, at circular. It did not do so.

"I, therefore, determined to meet the state half way, and accordingly on Dec. 15, 1913, I caused a letter to be written to the adjutant general of the state, authorizing a temporary retention of the two-brigade organization, notwithstanding a shortage of one battalion of infantry, also the temporary retention of seven staff officers holding a superior rank, subject to the condition that the military authorities of the state would agree to endeavor to secure the passage of suitable legislation as previously promised by the governor. On Dec. 31, the adjutant general replied, in the name of the governor, declining to enter into the proposed agreement.

"My offer to authorize the retention of certain irregularities in organization, as noted above, was made pursuant to the provision of the law permitting me to make general exceptions in time of peace. My policy in this connection has been and still is to permit the temporary retention of an exceptional organization, provided the state authorities appear to be trying in good faith and with fair prospects of success to obtain legislative authority to correct this irregularity.

Urges Prompt Reorganization

"Similarly, my policy in the case of individuals is to authorize the temporary retention of increased rank when it appears that the condition will be corrected, within a reasonable time, through absorption. Your Excellency has no doubt observed that my authority to make these general exceptions is limited to time of peace.

"Upon the outbreak of war, whether or not preceded by a declaration of war, any irregularity of organization previously authorized is automatically canceled.

"The adoption of the prescribed or which time reorganization will be difficult due to the inevitable confusion attending mobilization. I would also request that Your Excellency inform me as to the intentions of the military authorities of the state in this connection.

"In my opinion there can be no doubt but that the Massachusetts organization is top-heavy and that increased efficiency would follow the elimination of the surplus officers. I solicit Your Excellency's cooperation in an effort to satisfactorily adjust existing discrepancies. Very respectfully,

"Henry Breckenridge,
Assistant Secretary of War,
For the Secretary of War."

THREATENING ROCKEFELLER

HOODED MAN IN BLACK WAS ARRESTED—MAINE GANZ SENTENCED

NEW YORK, May 8.—A hooded, black shrouded figure among a band of picketers in front of the homes of John D. Rockefeller and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in West 64th street, last night, was arrested.

The persons who made the demonstration in furtherance of their protest against the alleged policy of the younger Mr. Rockefeller toward the Colorado mine war were allowed to pass back and forth in the street unmolested until the man-dressed in black made his appearance. Then detectives intervened, and the picketers left after the arrest of the figure in hood and cloak.

The prisoner said he was Albert Turner, an electrician, and gave as his address the headquarters of the Free Silence League.

"Upon Sinclair, an organizer of the 'Free Silence' protest, said he would start for Colorado today to investigate the labor troubles there. 'I am not going as a fighter,' he declared, 'but as a student. I am doing what Mr. Rockefeller ought to do—get acquainted with the facts at first hand.'

NEW YORK, May 8.—Marie Ganz, the Industrial Worker of the World orator, who was sentenced Wednesday to 60 days on Blackwell's Island, convicted of disorderly conduct, after she had repeatedly threatened to take the life of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., yesterday, through her counsel, granted a writ of habeas corpus, returnable today. The petition alleged that the offense with which she was charged was committed in a territory out of the jurisdiction of the police court in which her case was heard.

ARBOR DAY IN RHODE ISLAND

PROVIDENCE, May 8.—Arbor day was observed throughout Rhode Island today. In a number of places school children planted trees, many of which were dedicated to famous women and men. The principal exercises in this city were held at Roger Williams park.

An invitation was received and accepted from the Veterans' association to attend the Centro Congregational church with them, May 25 and also to help them serve dinner on Memorial day, to the comrades and families. Sons of Veterans and families, and all circle members. Arrangements were also made to go to Fox Hill cemetery, on the afternoon of May 24 and hold memorial services for our deceased members. MARKET PRICES IN BOSTON

Fish was plentiful yesterday in Boston's markets, strawberries and some other garden stuff was selling very low, while the stalls were gay with slips and garden seeds.

There is no change in meat, other than that the beef market promises to be a little firmer. Eggs were 30, 25, 25 and 23 cents, butter 24, 32 and 26.

TO CALL ROCKEFELLER GRAND BALL OF LOCAL MACHINISTS

Inter-State Commerce Commission Issues Call — Mellen Will Also be Asked to Testify

WASHINGTON, May 8.—William Rockefeller, George F. Baker and George McCullough Miller of New York, all directors of the New Haven road, have been called to testify next Wednesday before the interstate commerce commission in its investigation of the New Haven road. Former President Mellen of the road will be called later to tell of transactions between the railroad and the Billard company. It is probable that Timothy F. Byrne, one time assistant to former President Mellen, will testify on Monday. F. D. Robbins, chief counsel of the New Haven, who has been prominently identified in the testimony with the affairs of the Billard company, is expected to take the stand Tuesday.

MINOR TRANSACTIONS

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The gathering of loose ends of several minor transactions and the piecing together of testimony characterized the hearing today before the interstate commerce commission in the investigation of the financial operations of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and the Billard company. Two facts regarded as important bearing upon the matter under inquiry, were developed through the testimony yesterday of John L. Billard, promoter of the Billard company. They were that the Billard company dealt broadly in other securities besides those of the New Haven and its subsidiaries; that the Billard company practically burned its personal books and papers which contained records of many transactions, and that while he made a profit of approximately $2,700,000 on the deal in Boston & Maine stock, which represented substantially the profit of the Billard company, the assets of the company, which are now in the possession of Billard himself amount to a trifle more than $2,000,000, indicating a depreciation of about $500,000. Birdsey Case, a lawyer of Hartford, explained to the commission his connection with the Metropolitan S. S. Co. transaction. He succeeded Grover Cleveland Richards of Portland as dummy treasurer of the Metropolitan company.

C. F. Linsley Called

Charles F. Linsley, a manufacturer of Meriden, Conn., and a lifelong friend of John L. Billard, testified that at the suggestion of Billard he had become one of the incorporators of and a director of the Billard company.

"Five shares of stock in the company were put in my name by Mr. Billard," said the witness. "But I never had any knowledge of its business. I acted in the matter merely as a friend and neighbor of Mr. Billard, who really was the whole company."

Mr. Linsley said several meetings of the directors were held at some of which E. H. Robbins, chief counsel of the New Haven and attorney for Mr. Billard, was present. He could not remember what propositions had been considered at the meeting or what he had voted upon as a director.

"Did you know anything about the Billard company?" asked Mr. Folk. "Not a thing."

"You were merely a dummy director, then?" suggested Mr. Folk. "Absolutely."

Mr. Linsley gave it as his "impression" that the Billard company was organized to take care of some of Mr. Billard's business. "Mr. Billard said to me that he was getting old; that he was heavily obligated and that his estate was large. I assumed that he desired to place some of his affairs in the Billard company so that they might be safeguarded," said Mr. Linsley. "Do you know that he put into the Billard company only the Billard which related to the New Haven?" asked Mr. Folk. "No, I do not."

WALTER PHELPS, General Manager

What was probably the best attended, the most enjoyable, and the most successful of the long list of events of the Splendid City Lodge of the International Union of Machinists was held last evening in Associate hall. One might well wonder on seeing the large and enthusiastic crowd that danced from 9.30 to midnight, and the hundreds that packed the gallery to its full capacity, if there was any family in the union not represented. It was evident also by the number present from other cities that the fame of the annual ball of the machinists had spread beyond the limit of Lowell. Mr. Frank Jennings, New England vice president, and Organizer O. Frank Young were present during the entire evening, as were other officials of the union. It was largely through the efforts of Mr. John Gallagher that the

Held at Associate Hall Last Night With Large Attendance

Fine Concert by the Honey Boy Minstrels Enjoyed

Many Labor Union Officials From Other Cities Were Present

affair was such a undoubted financial and social success. He attended to the thousand and one details with his well known enthusiasm, and he had the gratification of seeing his efforts crowned with success last evening.

The concert by the Honey Boy Minstrels, which was the first feature of the evening, commenced shortly after 8 o'clock. There was an overture by Miner's Union orchestra, which was roundly applauded. Then followed Andrew Davis, Lowell's pleasing tenor, who rendered in fine voice "When I Dream of Old Erin." He was enthusiastically received and had to respond to many encores. Then followed Ed. Handley in a whirlwind of comedy which pleased his audience greatly.

"While the River of Love Flows On," by John Baxter, was very good. Jack-son Palmer gave that old favorite, "Clang of the Forge." James Lyons, Guy Johnson, George Rogers and Robert Lindsey rendered selections, and the "Paragon Four" in their songs made the hit of the evening. William Paul McCarthy was the pianist.

The hall was decorated prettily for the occasion, the prevailing colors being white and lavender, and this added greatly to the several events which

Whiting and Adams land just beyond the end of the present line of wells. The test wells, it was stated today, show positively that there is a good supply of water beyond the present line of wells and this, in time, will mean an extension of the well area.

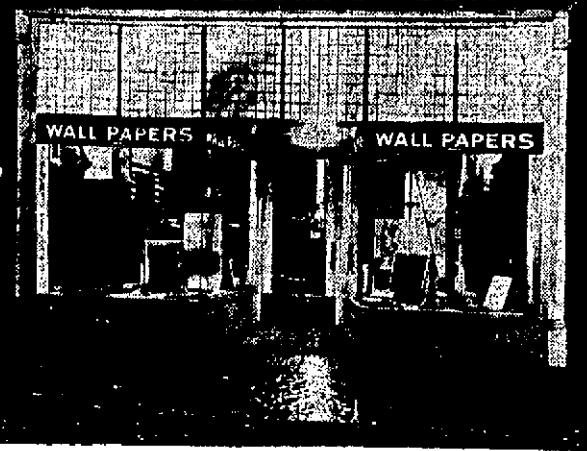

Opposes Double Platoon

After discussing the water question, Commissioner Carmichael replied to a question as to his attitude on the proposition for a double platoon system for firemen, and he did not mince or mix words in making his reply. "I am absolutely opposed to a double platoon system," said the colonel, "because it is not necessary and it would simply work a hardship on the taxpayers. The firemen are not being overworked at the present time and there are lots of men in the city who are willing to spend 24 hours a day in the firehouse. As long as men are willing and anxious to do that, I don't see the necessity of a double platoon system. I think that a double shift would affect the efficiency of the department and I do not think there is a city in the state that will endorse the movement.

"The firemen are pretty well cared for at the present time. There is no doubt in my mind but a majority of them, and perhaps all of them, would favor a double platoon because they are human and prone to take life as easy as possible, but it is not a good proposition, and I am sure it will never be countenanced by the voters of this city. The firehouses of the city are so well equipped at the present time that the average man would not object to living there. The firehouses are furnished much better than are a great many homes. All of the houses have tub and shower baths and about all of them have individual sleeping rooms for the firemen. I doubt if there is a city in the state that provides more liberally for its firemen than does the city of Lowell. To say that they have all the comforts of home is not an untruth and I am sure they are not overworked."

sive movement of any kind by the American forces was ordered, yet it was known that high officials of the war department were anxious to station at Vera Cruz or on ships within striking distance of that port a force powerful enough to make a swift descent on Mexico City if that became necessary. Probably 50,000 or 60,000 men would be required.

Anarchistic Outbreak Feared

Army officers fear the situation at Vera Cruz might become desperate in the event of an anarchistic outbreak in Mexico City or should the federal forces hovering beyond Funston's outposts launch an attack irrespective of Huerta's declaration of a truce with the United States.

Bluejackets could be landed to reinforce the 7000 troops and marines under Gen. Funston if there should be a federal attack. They could easily hold the city proper if it is believed, but to protect positions outside the town up to the site of the waterworks more infantry is believed to be required.

Whether additional forces would be sent down the coast could not be foreseen today. The president and Secretary Bryan are believed to oppose any military activity at this time that might embarrass the South American envoys.

Killing of American

Officials of the state department sought additional information about the killing of one American and two Englishmen by Mexicans in Guadalajara. Confirmation of the report was lacking. The fate of Consul Stillman, reported to have been arrested, was not known. Daniel Reginald, a British subject, was still in custody. The extradition of foreigners from Mexico City continued. Six hundred American refugees were on their way to Puerto Mexico under the protection of the Brazilian flag.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy's report submitted to Secretary Bryan was believed would outline the strength of the Huerta regime and tell of the incidents that culminated in receiving his passports from the provisional president.

Prevent Loss of Life

Essentials of the American policy in Mexico up to the present time were reiterated today in a statement by Secretary Daniels replying to complaints against the withdrawal of United States warships from the river at Tampico and to criticism of the department's refusal to take some refugees back to Tampico after they had been removed from the danger zone. The statement declared that the department had considered its present duty the prevention of loss of life and the rescue of foreigners and Americans in peril. The protection of property beyond range of the navy's guns was next to impossible, the statement declared, but so far as had been possible the navy has endeavored to cool the enthusiasm of an excited populace by the sight of the visible power for reprisal that is displayed by the guns of our warships lying as they are today in practically every port on the east and west coasts of Mexico.

Declaring that practically every foreigner and American in the Tampico district now is safe, as well as foreign property interests, Secretary Daniels stated that it seems almost unnecessary to defend a course which has achieved such results.

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT

VERA CRUZ, May 8.—The local newspapers publish prominent commendations of the American administration in their territory for the restoration of order and the stimulation of business. There is great commercial activity everywhere and this year a subject of much gratification to the natives.

The work of reorganization is going steadily forward so far as sanitary inspection, street cleaning, collection of taxes and the restoration of the fiscal system is concerned. With the arrival of more staff officers from Texas City General Funston will be equipped to do more municipal work.

The quiet condition in Mexico City is restoring confidence and many Americans having interests in the capital are making short trips there to clean up their affairs. So far there is no interruption to train service.

The military service is unchanged and troops are making themselves comfortable in the quarters they expect to occupy for some time.

Thanks Mediators

Esteva Ruiz, acting minister of foreign relations, has completed the South American mediators that American troops were landing in Vera Cruz and that other military preparations were in progress there, thus breaking the armistice.

In reply the South American mediators have wired it is announced that they will make representations regarding the matter to President Wilson.

REFUGEES FROM VERA CRUZ LEAVE NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, May 8.—Refugees from Vera Cruz brought to New Orleans aboard the steamer Monterey began leaving for their homes in various parts of the country today. Six hundred and twenty-three came to the city last night from quarantine where the Monterey has been since Sunday. The collier Cyclops, with 92 refugees from Tampico aboard, took the place of the Monterey at quarantine.

Alonso J. Lipphasso, American consul at Tampico, arrived here yesterday on the steamer Vincennes of Georgia. He will remain here awaiting orders from Washington.

VILLA MAKES PLEA FOR

LIFTING OF EMBARGO

TORREON, May 8.—A plea for the lifting of the embargo on arms as the swiftest and most humanitarian method of bringing peace to Mexico was made in an interview yesterday by Gen. Villa.

"The embargo is protracting this struggle uselessly," he said. "I hope the American government understands that the placing of the embargo is interfering seriously with the plans of the constitutionalists. Gomez Palacio, Torreon, San Pedro de Las Colonias and even Monterrey were constitutional successes due to the brief lifting of the embargo. Mexico should be quick to see that we cannot gain this end quickly while we suffer from lack of ammunition."

REINFORCEMENT AT VERA CRUZ BEING CONSIDERED

WASHINGTON, May 8.—It has been learned on high authority that the war department had under consideration today early and adequate reinforcement of the command of General Funston at Vera Cruz to carry out any movement that might be necessary in the interior of Mexico. The question of placing a large force of Americans in Vera Cruz that would be strong enough to defend that port against any attack or to undertake a possible campaign against Mexico City was later laid before the president and his cabinet by Secretary of War Garrison.

Department officials, it was stated, decided that reinforcements were needed at Vera Cruz at the late conference of Secretary Garrison and the general staff last night after going over the entire military situation at Vera Cruz and other points in Mexico.

Firing On Oil Wells

Secretary Garrison called the conference after a cipher telegram from Vera Cruz had been delivered to him at the White house, where he was attending the wedding of the president's daughter. He left the festivities hurriedly and summoned his aides to the war department. Among despatches received was one which reported the firing on two oil wells at Tampico. The protection of American lives and property, it was stated, was the prime motive behind the determination of army and navy officers that the American forces in Mexico should be reinforced. Secretary Garrison declined to discuss the situation nor would he comment on his conference with the staff officers last night. General Funston, in his report, it was said, had embodied accounts brought to Vera Cruz by refugees arriving from Mexico City concerning the situation in the capital. Mr. Garrison would not reveal the character of these reports.

"All I can say is that no additional troop movement had been ordered," he said, adding that he would make no prediction concerning possible future orders.

HUERTA COMPLAINS THAT U. S. TROOPS ARE LANDING

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Secretary Bryan admitted early today that this government had received a note from the South American minister of foreign relations in which he complained that American operations at Vera Cruz are in violation of the armistice.

Asked as to the details of the mediating envoys' note, Mr. Bryan said: "It simply sets forth what Huerta says. A reply to the note will be made."

None of the mediators would discuss the news emanating from Mexico regarding the Huerta protest forwarded through Acting Minister of Foreign Relations Ruiz and later confirmed here by Secretary Bryan. That the envoys or one of them would go to the state department to negotiate further regarding the protest against American military operations was said to be probable by those in close touch with the mediation developments.

When the United States would reply to the envoy's note was not made known. President Wilson is said to have been informed last night of the Huerta's government's communication and it was expected the subject would be considered at the cabinet meeting today.

APPEAL IN THAW CASE

N. Y. State Appeals From Decision of Judge Aldrich Granting Thaw's Petition

CONCORD, N. H., May 8.—The appeal of the state of New York from the decision of Federal Judge Aldrich granting Harry K. Thaw's petition for a writ of habeas corpus to prevent his extradition to New York on the charge of conspiring to escape from the Matteawan insane hospital was filed late today. The appeal, technically known as an assignment of errors, was signed by Holman A. Drew, sheriff of Coos county, who has been the custodian of Thaw since his arrest at Colebrook Sept. 18, 1913.

In sustaining the writ of habeas corpus and discharging Thaw under the extradition warrant.

In holding that Thaw was not substantially charged with crime under article IV, second 2, paragraph 3, of the United States constitution.

In holding that Thaw was not a fugitive from justice under the same section.

In holding that the process under which Thaw was held was not due process of law.

In holding that the extradition warrant issued by Governor Feltner was illegal, invalid and unwarranted.

In holding that upon the whole record the case does not come within the scope of the constitution relating to extradition.

In not holding that Thaw was legally in custody under the extradition warrant.

In not dismissing the writ of habeas corpus and in not remanding Thaw to the proper custody for the extradition to New York and.

Because upon the whole record the habeas corpus writ should not have been dismissed the extradition warrant sustained and Thaw remanded to the proper custody for extradition to New York.

The petition for a writ of habeas corpus was granted by Judge Aldrich April 14 but the issuance of the order was withheld to allow an appeal to be taken to the United States supreme court.

SOME BONEHEAD

Would-be Suicide Was Fooled by a Solid Ivory Skull

BOSTON, May 8.—Two bullets from a .22 caliber revolver failed to pierce the skull of Giuseppe Sordello, aged 30, of 35 Sheafe street yesterday afternoon when, according to the police, he attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself. The bullets were deflected and caused scalp wounds. He was sent to the Relief station by the police of the Hanover street police station.

According to the police Sordello was keeping company with a North end Italian girl. Her brother objected to Sordello's attentions. The men had a quarrel about three weeks ago, it is said, and since that time Sordello has been despondent.

ALLEGED LOVERS

continued until tomorrow so that another witness could be summoned.

Miss Mary Louise Lafleur, who alleges that she was struck by Pomereau and pushed to the floor, was the first witness called by Mr. O'Donnell, and she said that the defendant went to her apartment at 8 Howard street last Wednesday afternoon about 5.40 o'clock and demanded an entrance. The witness said that she told him he could not go into the house but he insisted upon getting in and once inside he persistently asked her to kiss him and "make up." She said that he wanted to make love to her and when she told him that she did not want anything more to do with him, he threatened to kill her and struck her on the face, knocking her to the floor. The witness said that she rushed out by the back door and screamed for help and finally secured a Mr. Clapp to go into her house to put the unwelcome visitor out. She stated that when she and Mr. Clapp came back together the young man had gone but that he secured entrance again by breaking a lock.

When cross examined by Lawyer O'Connor, the complainant stated that Mr. Pomereau had boarded at her house for over eight weeks but left a short time ago. She said that he had no clothes there but came back Wednesday afternoon for the sole purpose of "making up." She claimed that he had asked her to marry him and that he had told some of his friends that he was engaged to her.

Mrs. Julia Lecuyer of 17 Marshall street, a sister of the complainant, testified that she went to Miss Lafleur's house about 5.45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of asking her to go to a theatre in the evening. She said that she saw Pomereau strike her sister twice and that the latter picked up a statue to defend herself, but did not throw it at the defendant. She testified that she went out on the street to look for a police officer but returned about three minutes later without finding one. The witness said that she saw the broken lock on the door.

The Defendant's Story

John D. Pomereau, the defendant, was called to the witness stand by his attorney and said that he lived in Miss Lafleur's house for over eight weeks, leaving there a short time ago. He stated that when he gave up his room he left a great deal of clothing in a bureau and meeting the complainant on the street a few days ago he told her he would come up for the clothes.

The witness said that when he knocked on the door Wednesday afternoon Miss Lafleur opened it and greeted him by saying, "Dearie, I knew you would come back to me." He said that he told her he wanted nothing but his clothing but she wanted him to sit down and make himself at home.

However, the witness said that this was not agreeable to him and he told the young lady that he wanted his clothes so he could go home to his mother. "When she realized that I meant that I wanted nothing more to do with her," said Mr. Pomereau, "she rushed out the back door and told a Mr. Clapp that there was some body in her house whom she wanted ejected, and as a result Mr. Clapp came back but did not search the house."

While this was going on the witness said that he was packing his trunk and was about to go out when Miss Lafleur rushed up behind him and said, "Kiss me, and let's make up." The defendant was positive that he was at no time willing to be friendly with Miss Lafleur and because of this she picked up a statue and threw it at his head but he dodged and it struck the wall breaking it into a thousand pieces.

The witness showed a note that he claimed he received from the complainant which read in part as follows: "Dear sweetheart—Won't be able to see you tonight as Walter and I are going to stay at home but will see you Monday at 8.30 o'clock. Do not let Walter see you as I got the last time from him." Miss Lafleur denied that she ever wrote this note.

Under cross examination, Mr. Pomereau said that he left her boarding house because his mother wanted him to. He declared that he never asked her to marry him, but only in defence. Judge Enright ordered the case continued until tomorrow forenoon so that he could hear the testimony of Mr. Clapp, who it is claimed was in the house after the trouble.

ON FRANCONIA LOST HIS ARMS

John Reardon Saw Survivors of Columbian—Talks of Tragedy

John Reardon of 148 Crosby street has returned from a visit to his parents in Ireland. Mr. Reardon was a passenger on the steamship Franconia, which picked up thirteen of the survivors of the ill-fated Columbian. Mr. Reardon when interviewed by a Sun representative, gave a thrilling account of the terrible catastrophe as told by the rescued men. He said in part: "The Franconia had been warned by wireless messages to keep a sharp lookout for the lifeboats which had been launched from the Columbian when it was seen that the burning ship could not be saved. On the morning of May 5, a speck was seen far away towards the horizon. The Franconia immediately steered its course in that direction and was rewarded by finding a lone lifeboat. A boat was quickly launched and the survivors were hurried back to the Franconia, where everything possible was done to relieve their sufferings. They were weak, hungry, and drenched to the skin. The skinned distress which was hoisted on the lifeboat was torn from the leg of one of the men's trousers. Just thirteen men were taken from the lifeboat and they had been adrift on a tempestuous sea for 48 hours. One of the men, the chief steward by the name of Matthews, died as the result of burns received, and several of the other men were terribly burned about the hands and face."

Mr. Reardon talked with several of the survivors and learned from them the hardships which they endured. They told of lowering the lifeboat in which they had been rescued and which was stove in at the bottom making it necessary to constantly bail her out. There were other ships sighted by the survivors but evidently the castaways were not seen although they did everything possible to attract their attention.

The wireless operator was one of the members picked up and he said that the first explosion wrecked his apparatus leaving him helpless to summon aid.

"My trip to Ireland was a very pleasant one and I enjoyed myself immensely, but the trip home detracted much from all the enjoyment that I could have had. After the picking up of the survivors the passengers were rather gloomy for the remainder of the voyage and there was that fear that naturally exists after such a disaster. The passengers were all deeply interested to learn the fate of the other boat that left the Columbian but it has apparently been lost as it would in all probability be heard from ere this."

Of Ireland Mr. Reardon spoke in the highest terms. The country, he said, never was better and everybody expects home rule. The talk of war in Ulster is only hot air. Once the bill passes, the war talk will be heard no more.

MAY OFFER GUNMAN'S CONFESSION AT TRIAL

Warden and Chaplain at Sing Sing Who it is Said Heard "Dago Frank" Exonerate Becker Called to Testify—Eleven Jurors Selected

NEW YORK, May 8.—Five jurors were added to the six already in the box after an hour and a half's examination of talesmen today at the trial of Charles Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal. It was considered probable that the list would be completed before today's adjournment.

No mention was made during the early proceedings of the reported move to have W. Bourke Cockran of counsel for the defense held in contempt of court for a remark attributed to him. He had been quoted as saying:

"It is not a trial; it is an assassination."

Mr. Cockran was not in court. Whether he had permanently withdrawn from the case was not announced.

Because he had not been allowed to receive his wife in the Tombs Becker came into the courtroom a half hour before the forenoon session opened to talk to her. The pair drew away from others in the room and talked in low tones.

The panel was exhausted shortly before one o'clock and adjournment was taken until 2.30 and a new panel of 100 talesmen was summoned. Only one seat in the box was vacant when the recess was taken.

"DAGO FRANK" CONFESSION

NEW YORK, May 8.—The third session of one hundred of the three hundred talesmen drawn for the second trial of Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, charged with having instigated the murder of Herman Rosenthal, that reported in court today when the third day's session began. Meanwhile another panel of one hundred names was being drawn at the order of Justice Seabury. This will make a total of 400 talesmen, 50 more than were drawn for the first Becker trial. From the remaining 300 talesmen it was expected that the six vacant seats in the jury box would be filled and that District Attorney Charles S. Whitman would make his opening address on Monday at the latest and possibly tomorrow. Process servers for the defense yesterday subpoenaed Warden Clancy and the Rev. William Coshin, the Catholic chaplain at Sing Sing prison. This action gave rise to the supposition that the eleventh hour confession of "Dago Frank" Cronkel, in which the condemned gunman was credited with having declared that Becker had nothing to do with the murder of Rosenthal, will be offered in evidence. Cronkel made this statement, it has been stated, in the presence of the warden, Father Coshin, and his mother and sister, only a few minutes before he was led to the chair. Whether or not the confession will be admitted is problematical. It was not written nor signed and to be of value to the defense it would have to be proved by those who heard it. Even in that event it might not be admissible unless held by the court to be a dying declaration. District Attorney Whitman, it is known, will contest the admission of the confession.

In view of the order of the commissioner of corrections denying Becker the privilege of consultation with counsel except in his cell, District Attorney Whitman has arranged for a room in the criminal courts building where the accused, his wife and counsel may meet during recesses and after adjournment. The action on the part of the commissioner of corrections following the receipt of a petition complaining of conditions in the Tombs which was characterized as a plot to discredit the prison administration, Becker, according to the alleged confession of a fellow prisoner, was leader of the movement.

PITCHER JOHNSON OF REDS CAN'T PLAY WITH FEDS TILL COURT ACTS ON CASE

GEORGE H. JOHNSON

CHICAGO, May 8.—Hearing on the motion to dissolve the injunction restraining George H. Johnson, pitcher, who jumped to the Kansas City Federals from the Cincinnati National baseball club will be held on Thursday, May 14. The injunction which was obtained by the Cincinnati club forbade Johnson from playing with any baseball organization. The alleged "misrepresentation" of the president of the Cincinnati club in predicting the early break up of the Federal league was held by Johnson as making the contract of no effect. Contradicting the Cincinnati club, Johnson said he was given only $500 advance money instead of $750 and said that he has returned to the club the $377.50 due it when he left it to join the Kansas City Federals.

TEWKSBURY FIRE DEPT.

Chairman Shedd of Selectmen Will Organize One—Fire Apparatus Purchased

Harry L. Shedd, chairman of the board of selectmen of Tewksbury, announced this morning that he is soon to organize a fire department in the town, which means that the residents will be given much better fire protection than they have had for the past several years.

At the last town meeting the citizens voted to appropriate a certain sum of money for better fire protection and the matter of organizing a department and purchasing apparatus was left to the discretion of the board of selectmen. Accordingly after careful investigation, the selectmen purchased six chemical fire extinguishers of the alkali type. These were purchased from the Badger Co. and are expected in Tewksbury in a couple of weeks. The selectmen have also the privilege of purchasing two more at the same price that was paid for the first lot, providing they are purchased within a year.

According to plans two extinguishers will be placed at the North Village, two at the Centre, one at the South, and another at the West. Each extinguisher is equipped with a 45 gallon tank and all are of the most modern type of fire apparatus for towns. The fire department will consist of an engineer in each district and call men as well as volunteers who will be paid according to the services they render the town.

May Bring Suit

Only a few weeks remain for the Day State Street Railway Co. to start the work of extending the Andover street line to North Tewksbury, for according to a franchise the company received from the town some years ago, it has until June 1, 1914, to start operations on the extension. The town of Tewksbury is in possession of bonds to the value of $10,000 and unless the work is started on or before the above date, the officials of the town will bring suit against the company for recovery on the said bonds.

Chairman Shedd, in conversation with a Sun reporter this morning said a short time ago the selectmen held a conference with President Sullivan of the railway company in relation to the extension of the electric car line and at that time he claims Mr. Sullivan said he could not see how the company could afford at the present time to extend the line to North Tewksbury. Mr. Shedd informed the writer that unless the citizens rescind the former vote at a special town meeting which will be held on or before June 1, the town counsel will be instructed to bring suit against the company.

Clark Road

Unless the highway commissioners decide otherwise, work will soon be started on the macadamizing of Clark road, which is supposed to be completed on or before Dec. 31 of the present year. According to present plans the county will pay 25 per cent of the cost of laying the road and the town 75 per cent, but the selectmen have petitioned the highway commissioners for an allotment of the automobile fund and if the commissioners report favorably on the petition, then the county commissioners will be petitioned to let the matter stand another year, while on the other hand if the highway commissioners throw down the petition, work will be started at once. If an allotment is allowed from the automobile fund the town will have only 50 per cent of the cost of the road to pay.

Want Electric Light
Some years ago the residents of Tewksbury petitioned the Lowell Electric Light Corp. to extend its service as far as the Centre village, but for some reason the matter was thrown down by the corporation. The result of this was that the Lowell Gas Light Co. extended the main as far as the village and now nearly every house in the Centre is being supplied with gas from Lowell. There is another movement on foot in the village for electric lighting and current and it is probable that the corporation will again be requested to extend its wires. The "Jules" of the Lowell Electric Light Corp. at the present time stops at the Avery Chemical Co., about a half mile between Waverlet and the Centre and these interested say it would be an easy matter for the corporation to extend its service as far as the Centre.

Personals
The many friends of Miss Dorothy Peirce, a student at the Lowell high school, who makes her home with the Cameron family in the Centre, will be pleased to learn that she is coming to her home by a severe illness.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kelley have returned from their honeymoon "trip" which took them as far as Chicago. Several residents of the Centre will be attending the graduating exercises at the Lowell Textile school Wednesday evening.

Mr. A. S. Briggs has regraded his lawn and is now laying out cement sidewalks around his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson J. Brown have moved into the Chandler residence, formerly occupied by the Allen family.

Mr. Germon Hillyard has accepted a lucrative position with the City of Lowell.

Trout fishing is the topic of the day in Tewksbury and many Lowell sportsmen try their luck in the many brooks in the town.

Several camps are being erected on the shores of Long pond.

SOME NEW LAWS

Governing Garages and Storage and Handling of Explosives

The detective and fire inspection department of the district police has issued a pamphlet containing the laws and regulations governing the construction and maintenance of garages, and the storage and handling of volatile inflammable liquid in connection therewith. The laws and regulations take effect on the 15th day of the present month and are especially important because of the fact that they include a great many changes. Heretofore the municipal council regulated the keeping, storage, use, etc., of gasoline and other explosives and inflammables, but this authority has been transferred to the detective and fire inspection department of the district police.

Application for permits to conduct or maintain garages, or to keep or store volatile inflammable liquid in connection therewith, shall be made in writing to the chief of the district police, or to the official designated by him to grant permits in such city or town. The detective and fire inspection department of the district police may by regulation prescribe the amount of space or any other inflammable liquid or compound that may be kept for private use in a building or structure without a license, permit or registration. The right to use a building or other structure for any of the purposes may be revoked for cause after notice and hearing given to such owner or occupant at any time by the mayor and aldermen or selectmen having authority to grant licenses for such use, or may be revoked for cause after notice and hearing given to the chief of the district police. A fee of one dollar may be charged for the license and a like sum for the permit herein provided for, and one half of said sum for the registration of the certificate. Such building or structure shall be subject to such alterations in construction and such regulations of such use for protection against fire or explosion as the detective and fire inspection department of the district police may from time to time prescribe.

Explosives and Inflammables

Section 1. The powers and duties heretofore conferred and imposed upon cities and towns and the mayors and aldermen, city councils and selectmen thereof, by chapter one hundred and two of the revised laws, to regulate the keeping, storage, use, manufacture, sale, handling, transportation or other disposition of gunpowder, dynamite, crude petroleum or any of its products, or explosive or inflammable fluids or compounds, tablets, torpedoes or any explosives of a like nature, or any other substance which may be used as a propellant, are hereby conferred and imposed upon the detective and fire inspection department of the district police, except as to the transportation of said explosives by steam railroads.

Section 2. The detective and fire inspection department of the district police may make regulations, except as heretofore provided, for the keeping, storage, use, manufacture, sale, handling, transportation or other disposition of gunpowder, dynamite, crude petroleum or any of its products, or explosive or inflammable fluids or compounds, tablets, torpedoes or any explosives of a like nature, or any other substance which may be used as a propellant, except fireworks and firecrackers, and may prescribe the materials and construction of buildings to be used for any of the said purposes.

Section 3. No building or other structure shall be used for any of the purposes herein provided for, unless the mayor and aldermen or selectmen have granted a license therefor for one year from the date thereof after a public hearing, for the purpose of making a copy of the notice to abating property owners and other persons interested within a reasonable radius of the proposed building, at least fourteen days before said hearing, at the expense of the applicant, and unless a permit shall be granted therefor by the chief of the district police, or by some official or officials designated by the said chief for that purpose; provided however, that any building or other structure used under a license and permit granted therefor for any building or other structure may be continued in such use from year to year if

VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN

OF SELLING AT OPENING—TRADERS DRIVE DOWN WEAK ISSUES—PRICES IMPROVED

NEW YORK, May 8.—A vigorous selling campaign was launched at the opening of the stock market today. Professional traders selected for their attack issues which have been weak recently and succeeded in driving them down until the whole market was falling. The bears were assisted in their move by the decline in American stocks abroad as well as by reports of a more serious situation at Vera Cruz. Canadian Pacific led the decline, with a drop of 2 1/2. Amal, Steel, Texas Co., Anaconda, Mexican Petroleum, Baltimore & Ohio, Lehigh Valley and Southern Pacific led off one to two points.

The market grew quieter after the early selling movement had spent its force and partial recoveries were made in some instances but the heavy undercurrent persisted through the morning. Yesterday's highly favorable crop report depressed the bulls and encouraged short selling. Concentration of attack against particular stocks resulted in a degree of weakness which affected the whole market. Chesapeake & Ohio, in particular, were especially depressed, falling 3 3/4. Bonds were easy. Prices improved for a time, however, but short covering ceased before the earlier losses had been made up and the market eased off once more. The copper producers monthly report, although showing an increase in supplies of metal of 5,727,000 pounds, was less favorable than the more bearish forecast and after its appearance the copper shares improved. Continuous ease of money was indicated by movement on the week's currency market, which called for a cash gain of more than $5,000,000. Demand for bills rose to $47.50 and further encumbrances of gold for export were expected.

The market closed weak today. Greater weakness was manifested in stocks than at any other period since the upward movement was started. The only support came from spasmodic short covering. Reactionary tendencies were pronounced in the closing hour when the principal shares touched the lowest.

MEAT INSPECTION LAW

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 8.—Because they shipped in interstate trade, meat products which did not bear the marks of Federal meat inspection, a number of persons have been recently fined, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture's announcements. Armour & Co., in New York, was fined $25, and Louis Adler, in Kansas, was fined $25 and costs for violation of this act. J. W. West in Kansas was fined $7.50 and costs for similar transportation of unmarked meat from state to state.

Twenty-eight Hour Fines
Because it confined live stock in cars for more than twenty-eight hours for more than twenty-eight hours without unloading for food, water, and rest, the Wabash Railroad company in Indiana has had two penalties of $100 each imposed for two distinct violations of the twenty-eight hour law. The fines also covered the costs, which amount to $16.10 in one case and $12.10 in the other.

Violators of Quarantine Law
The live stock quarantine law has been recently violated by a number of persons and corporations and fines have been imposed as follows:
$100—Monroe Seabolt, (Georgia).
$100—Yazoo & Mississippi Valley Ry. Co. (La.).
$100 and costs—Louisville & Nashville Ry. Co. (Tenn.).
$100—Rocky Mt. Co. (Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Ry. Co. (Kansas).
$100—Denver & Rio Grande Railroad Co. (Utah).
Total—$500 and costs.

LEAST RESPECTED INDUSTRY

Despite the fact that there are no less than 13,000 coal corporations in this country, despite the number and importance of these corporations, the coal industry is the one that is least respected by the American people. There is something wrong in this situation. The coal trade furnishes over sixty per cent of the railroad traffic of the United States; it moves every other ton of freight in this country; it makes it possible for every person in the United States to travel from one section to the other; it gives value to every farm from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean. Without coal, we would have no Pittsburgh, the greatest industrial center in the world, writes Thomas L. Lewis in the current Coal Age.

There are probably five times as many directors as there are coal companies or 65,000 men, 13,000 bookkeepers, 13,000 weighmen, 15,000 mine foremen, 10,000 to 12,000 mine superintendents, as many traveling salesmen, in fact not less than 125,000 men representing the operating forces of the coal industry. In addition there are about 750,000 workers in and around mines, making in all 755,000 people. Yet what consideration do they receive from the law makers of this country?

We are required to find the money for safety appliances and to meet the expenditures necessary under the liability laws or the successors, the compensation laws, but as there is no uniformity between one state and the next, there is no way of finding the money with which to finance such expenditures.

All organization should be specifically for the betterment of labor and should seek to regulate prices only that such an end may be obtained. The coal industry has no representation in congress and because of its unorganized, its voting strength is wholly negligible.

FORECASTING WEATHER
One of our correspondents writes: Will you please tell me through your columns, how the weather forecasts are made?

To this the shortest and simplest answer is: By telegraph. The weather forecaster does not look out of the window and guess. He is not weather-wise like the old salt who seems the approach of a storm without knowing how. To the signs by which the ordinary citizen decides whether to take his umbrella with him or leave it at home, he pays no attention. Give him his telegraph wires and he can make his predictions as accurately in a windowless cellar as on the top of New York's highest skyscraper.

The private individual sees the clouds settle on a nearby mountain or the rain sweep over a field a mile from his house and knows that the storm will be on him in a few minutes. With the aid of the telegraph the weather man sees the same storm when it is a thousand miles away, and not only this storm but every other one in the country. He knows in what direction and at what speed each is moving, and can thus correlate with reasonable accuracy the approximate times when it will reach any place in its route.

Twice a day, at 8 in the morning and at 8 in the evening, reports are telegraphed to Washington from about 200 observers stationed in as many different localities in the United States and Canada. In these reports the observers do not volunteer their personal opinions about what is going to happen. They confine themselves to a plain statement of the actual conditions at that particular moment, the pressure, or weight of the atmosphere, the temperature, the direction and velocity of the wind, the amount of rain since the last report, and so forth. From this information the weather map of the United States is made up, showing the conditions that prevail in every part of the country. Since there are two maps for each day it is obvious that by comparing them the forecaster can keep track of the course and progress of both storms and periods of clear weather. From that, the next step is to predict what sort of weather will prevail for a day or two in any given locality.

This map is the basis for all scientific weather forecasting. A glance at it will show that it is divided into "high pressure areas" and "low pressure areas." These are technical terms used to describe the regions in which the weight or pressure of the atmosphere is great (high) or small (low). At sea level the barometer, which is used to measure this weight, will register 30 inches under normal conditions of the atmosphere. When it registers more than this, say 30.5 or 31, the pressure is "high," when 29.5 or less, "low." In this way the height of a column of mercury in a barometer indicates the weight of the air just as, in a thermometer, it indicates the temperature.

Low pressures usually mean strong winds

FRANCIS SKINNER DEAD

DEATH MAN DIED SUDDENLY ON BOARD THE CARONIA WHILE ON WAY HOME

DEDDHAM, May 8.—Francis Skinner died suddenly of heart failure yesterday aboard the Caronia of the Cunard line at 7 a. m. while en route to the Atlantic coast, according to a wireless despatch relayed through the company's Boston office to his wife here.

The Caronia had sailed from Liverpool last Saturday for New York. Mr. Skinner went aboard Feb. 4 last to four France and England. The vessel bearing his body is due in New York Monday.

Francis Skinner was the son of the late Francis Skinner, formerly of Salem, who died in 1905, and his mother, who died nearly 20 years ago, was a sister of the late John L. Gardner of this city. He was 44 years old.

On his father's side, Mr. Skinner traces his descent from the Peabody family of Salem and Boston, of whom the late George Peabody, the London banker, was the head, and a part of whose fortune was inherited by his descendant, Francis Skinner.

Mr. Skinner entered Harvard in the fall of 1888, but left college in 1891 without completing his course.

In June, 1910, Mr. Skinner—then known as Francis Skinner, Jr.—created a sensation in Boston social circles by his marriage to Miss Sarah E. Carr, the daughter of Patrick Carr, a tailor, and himself a saleswoman in a Boylston-street store.

The wedding, which was extremely quiet, took place in the Church of the Good Shepherd on Cortes street, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Joseph Dinney, the assistant rector of the church, who did not realize the fact that the bridegroom belonged to one of Boston's wealthiest families.

The bride was noted for her beauty and grace and it was generally understood at the time that she and Mr. Skinner first met in Moribach in the summer of 1893. Mr. Skinner's father, with whom he then lived, and various relatives were much opposed to the marriage, and at the conclusion of their honeymoon, which was spent on board the magnificent yacht Constellation, formerly owned by the late Bayard Thayer, the young couple went

There is Nothing Like a Trip to "Yellowstone Park"

I know of no other vacation spot in all the world that is in any way similar to Yellowstone. It is entirely different and offers to the vacation seeker a new and unique experience. In ocean or land travel, or the scenery of the seashore or mountains—a distinctive outing that is unrivaled. Imagine the fascination of a six day stage tour of this great national park, stopping daily at picturesque and well kept hostels.

Think of the geysers, throwing out boiling water, waterfalls of incandescent light, deep chasms with beautifully colored slides.

Then to make the trip doubly enjoyable, my road—the Burlington (C. R. & Q. R. R.) provides a special conductor every week with a guide and points out everything of interest and who looks after the comfort of our traveling guests.

I show you a copy of our booklet showing maps, pictures and descriptions of Yellowstone Park, and the Mississippi Valley that you pass through on route. It will also show you how to plan your trip and take care of the details—no obligation on your part because it's my duty. I am paid for it.

to live at Mr. Skinner's beautiful home in Dedham, which he inherited from his mother.

Three years after the marriage the breach between the young husband and his father became healed. Mr. Skinner Sr. died in 1906, leaving his luxurious city home at 236 Beacon street and a fortune of several million dollars to his son, already independently wealthy through the death of his mother.

The greater part of Mr. and Mrs. Skinner's married life has been spent in Dedham, however, both preferring it to their Beacon street home. Their estate on Highland avenue, which comprises fully 25 acres, is considered among the most beautiful in Norfolk county. There is a private swimming pool on it and $200,000 worth of rare tropical plants and birds have been imported for its gardens.

Mr. Skinner has always been devoted to outdoor sports of all sorts, ratcheting having been his particular hobby. He was a member of the New York Yacht club, Boston Yacht club, Eastern Yacht club, Corinthian Yacht club, Brookline Country club, Dedham Country and Polo club, Boston Athletic association, Somerset club, Exchange club, Knickerbocker club of New York and Knickerbocker club of New York.

Mr. Skinner leaves no children.

COAL MINERS' STRIKE

COLORADO FUEL & IRON CO. SUES DENVER NEWSPAPERS FOR $500,000

DENVER, Colo., May 8.—Withdrawal of its former $500,000 libel suit against the Denver Publishing Co., publishers of the Rocky Mountain News and the Denver Times, the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co. late yesterday refiled suit in the federal court asking damages of $500,000. The formal complaint alleges "false and defamatory writings" with "malice towards the plaintiff and reckless disregard of the plaintiff's rights."

lies from the union to the effect that the agreement covering the present prices list, and conditions of employment expires June 24 and that it is the desire of the union to open negotiations for the establishment of a new agreement. The present agreement calls for a straight nine-hour day of 54 hours a week.

The outbreak of Lynn work by the piece and claim that the advantage lies in the piece system. The Lynn shoe workers, however, are watching the outcome of the Brockton attempt to reduce the hours with the keenest interest. The chief wage items in Brockton are $2.75 a day for top cutters by hand, $3.25 for outside cutters by hand and $3.25 for sorters. These represent the advanced figures obtained June 24, 1912.

If the Brockton cutters win out on the new proposition it is morally certain that all the other shoe unions of that city will follow suit.

Kissing the Shuttle

Now that the "suction shuttle" has been declared, by the opinion of the attorney general of Massachusetts, to be an illegal article, it is time for the wits of the industrial world to devise another shuttle minus the objectionable characteristics, which can be as easily or even more easily threatened, thereby doing away entirely with one opportunity—slight though it may be thought to be—of causing an injury to those who are obliged to use it.

The suction shuttle has been a matter of question for some time. It has been declared that the convenient method of sucking the thread through by application of the mouth to the shuttle and drawing in the breath, has been fraught with physical danger to the employee; and possibly this has been the case, as the dust contained may have assisted in already impaired condition to become worse, resulting in tuberculosis of the lungs, or other kindred ailments. The elimination of this contributory cause will save some lives, and no argument against it can be entertained, cheap as human life is. On the other hand, if the kiss on the shuttle was the only kiss that injured, it is possible that many a mill employee could go on kissing the shuttles indefinitely, so far as injury to body or soul is concerned. If public sentiment could be turned to protect the innocent from the kiss of contagion in many of the articles used in common in the community, and in factories, even a greater service would be rendered to mankind than the prohibition of kissing the shuttle.

However, reforms must come by degrees. The elimination of the "suction kiss" will be of value to many, and in time reforms may be instituted which will further protect the employees in mills from contagion of other even more dangerous diseases than the suggested danger in the dust-laden shuttle.

Making the World Better
Union labor has been the most potent individual factor in making the world a better place to live in. Says a prominent local labor man, Joe Quinn, of the Manchester. The Wyoming Labor Journal has this to say: One instance where labor has been an advance agent of betterment can be seen in the present world wide movement against tuberculosis.

A few years ago the world awoke with a shock to the number of people that were being carried daily away with tuberculosis. So great in numbers that it became known as the Great White Plague. So beginning at the wrong end of the problem, as usual, all the time, energy and money were spent in trying to cure the afflicted while the breeding places of the disease were allowed to continue unabated. The unions have for years been trying, confronted by the most bitter opposition, to force the providing of sanitary, well lighted shops together with dust excluding devices that this evil might be stopped.

The public conscience once awakened to the needs of the disease, thousands are working under conditions that produce not only tuberculosis troubles but weakened constitutions and they readily fall victims to its insidious grasp.

The development of a better citizenship has been one of the prime objects as well as results of the trade movement. The gaining of shorter work days, the discouragement of child labor, by the promotion and extension of free text books in the public schools, the creation of more sanitary work shops and the discouragement of war as means of settling international disputes are only a few of the activities which entitle labor to the commendation and support of all right thinking people.

Its insurance and protective features which are being broadened and extended in scope yearly are a protection to society in that they reduce the possible number of those who must be cared for at the expense of the public
